pictures and the students repeat after her/him (D2.3, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, CS2.6, CS2.11). In this way, the main vocabulary items of the theme are introduced to the students in English as described in item (3) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V10.3, V14.3, V16.2).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: The teacher can prepare an activity using the Web 2.0 programme with images/pictures, and symbolic images for some categories about the components of the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city". She/He also prepares mixed images/pictures for target vocabulary items for the activities which can be done in relation to the components. She/He asks the students to look at the mixed pile of images/pictures of the main components of the theme on the Smart Board screen and scan them for a while to remember them (V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, CS2.4). She/He explains to the students that the items will be placed under the correct category, but first she/he gives the students the cut-out pictures of the activities and a large sheet of paper with the categories written on it and the cut-out pictures will be placed under each category correctly (V3.3, L2, LS4, CS2.5). The teacher asks them to work in pairs and place the cut-out pictures in the right category and ask each other some questions about the theme (D3.2, D3.8, SELS2.2, V10.3, V14.3,V16.2). When the students have finished working with the cut-out pictures and asking and answering questions about them, the teacher asks them to take turns or volunteer to go to the Smart Board and drag the corresponding images/pictures under the right category on the screen (SELS1.2, V3.4, V20.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.5). In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the main concept and its components are consolidated through categorisation. This activity can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology. The teacher asks the students to copy the words next to the pictures they have pasted or drawn in their picture dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their picture dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling (D3.2, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V6.2, LS9). To consolidate the meaning, selection, and use of the new target vocabulary items, the teacher could organise activities and tasks using pictures, flashcards, sounds, realia, and any other materials to play games such as Bingo, Pelmanism, King's game, Odd One out, Wordscapes, Scrabble, Pictionary, Letter Scramble, Acronyms, Charades etc. Games could be adapted according to the teacher's objectives (pronunciation, spelling, meaning, selection, use etc.), age, interests and language level of the students (CS2.13). Students can be asked to create their own games to use the target vocabulary items in context (D2.5, D.3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2,V4.2, V4.4, V7.2, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, LS9, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked as described in items (3), and (4) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.5.G1

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS: To draw the students' attention to the target language chunks of the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city", the introductory digital story or an extract from it played so that the students can notice the target language chunks (D3.2, CS2.2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the target language chunks are used. She/He imitates the action by showing the scene, saying the chunk, and asking the students to do the same (V3.2, LS2, CS2.14). She/he could hold up large pictures corresponding to the chunks when they are mentioned in the digital story to draw the students' attention. The sentences with the target chunks are also written and placed on the Smart Board/blackboard/ whiteboard. The teacher also points to these sentences while pointing to the scenes in the story where they appear. There is no analysis or teaching of grammatical structures at this stage. Students can automatically and naturally identify the use of the target language chunks in the current context created in the introductory digital story without working on any rules or structures (SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.3, CS2.4, CS2.16.2). To check the students' identification of the target language chunks, after the students have finished watching the introductory digital story, the teacher asks them to read the sentences with the target language chunks written by the teacher on the Smart Board /blackboard/whiteboard and asks them to find the same or similar sentences in the written version of the introductory digital story or another text that is shown on the Smart Board (D3.2, SELS3.2, V3.3). She/He also asks them to find the same or similar sentences with these chunks which are given in different types of tables prepared by the teacher (CS2.7). These tables do not include any explanations of grammatical rules, explanations, or formulas, and they only contain example sentences with target chunks in which important words with the target grammar are written in bold or different colours to attract students' attention. The teacher asks them to look at the words in bold or in different colours and asks students to examine them (CS2.9). Then the teacher asks the students to copy these sentences with target chunks written in bold or different colours into their notebooks. The teacher asks the students to make very similar sentences using the target words and asks them to share their sentences with each other in pairs, and then with the class (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, D3.2, V4.2, CS2.13,CS2.14, CS2.16.1, CS2.16.2). Both the teacher and the class members give feedback to the students as they say their sentences (CS2.19). The teacher gives all students a checklist with simple symbols to evaluate each other's work as explained in the items (5) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, LS6).

SELECTION AND USE OF THE TARGET GRAMMAR: To facilitate students' further practice with the target language chunks in the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city", the teacher shows some other sentences with these chunks in another context such as a short story, a short paragraph, and a short dialogue etc. and asks students to find the sentences with the target chunks in them and asks if they understand them (SELS3.2, V3.3, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.8). She/He gives some written activities and exercises to practise the target chunks in context. She/He also facilitates more fun activities and as described in items (5), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. To consolidate the target language chunks, the teacher organises different fun activity and game bundles that the students can practise and consolidate them (CS2.13) where their learning can be checked as described in item (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D2.5, V4.4).

ENG6.5.W1.

PREPARATION FOR THE WRITING-EXPRESSION SESSION: Practising through writing: Writing activities help students to produce and display meaningful written language for their personal expression and communication with others, by using language including target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language in this theme, as in other themes (V3.2, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2).

ENG6.5.W2.

RECOGNISING THE MODEL: Initially, students produce very limited and short pieces of writing such as sentences to practise the language including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city". They practise the language in a more controlled way in the beginning, by writing to repeat or simply explain what they hear and see in context and what they are asked to do. They are provided a written model/example to copy to be able to notice significant points and elements in it (SELS3.1). While copying a short model writing, they become aware of the aspects such as the use of words, language chunks, punctuation, spelling and so on (D3.1, V3.4, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.16.3).

ENG6.5.W3.

CREATING THE WRITING CONTENT: Controlled writing of words and sentences turns to short paragraphs in a process writing manner with the support of the teacher's feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported by several practical activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (D1.3, D3.1, SELS3.2,V3.4, V4.4, V7.2, LS2, LS4, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.5.W4.

CONSTRUCTING AND PRACTISING WRITING: Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice tasks. Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, projects, scripts for plays, diaries/journals, blogs, very short film scenarios, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.2, CS2.13). All the content is expected to be contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests and language level (V3.4, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9).

ENG6.5.W5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside or outside school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and the social language for the theme in their writing (SELS2.2, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, LS9, CS2.20). AI- based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways (D3.3, SELS3.2, SELS3.3 ,V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These activities are evaluated as described in items (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.5.W6.

REFLECTING ON THE WRITING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole writing-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (D1.5, SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.5.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end. Speaking activities enhance students' learning and help them produce and display meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language expressions of the theme about "life in the neighbourhood and the city with festivals and events (sports, music, arts) inthe neighbourhood and city; transportation in the neighbourhood and the city" (V3.2, V3.4,V10.3, V14.3, V16.2).

ENG6.5.S2

RECOGNISING AND USING THE MODEL: In the beginning, through listening/watching and reading, students recognise how the language with the target language items is used (CS2.6). They practise the language in a controlled way, by telling, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context (D1.3, D3.2, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.4).

ENG6.5.S3

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons after controlled practice sessions, the teacher creates new contexts in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues etc. as new opportunities for the students to talk about them for practising further through questions, explanations, inferences etc (D1.3, SELS3.2, V3.4, V4.2, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13).

ENG6.5.S4.

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN MATERIALS: Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city with festivals and events (sports, music, arts) in the neighbourhood and city; transportation in the neighbourhood and the city" (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V4.2, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D1.2, D1.6, D3.3, V7.2,LS2, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.5.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students communicate with each other by seeing/hearing/reading/using the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme "life in the neighbourhood and the city" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.3, CS2.20). Picture strip stories can be used at the end of each theme to provide a consolidation and revision (V3.4, V4.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13, CS2.14). These new contents created are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used together with other further speaking practice throughout the theme. Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme and its components such as "festivals and events (sports, music, arts) in the neighbourhood and city; transportation in the neighbourhood and the city" (V3.4, V4.2,V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, LS4, V10.3, V14.3, V16.2, CS3.1, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.3, V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These are evaluated as described in items (7), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Then they can expand their language use and practise by communicating with others.

ENG6.5.S6.

REFLECTING ON THE SPEAKING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole speaking-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To practise talking about complex directions in English by using the prepositions of place in a fun and interactive treasure hunt game.

Activity title: Treasure Hunt Adventure

The teacher divides the class into small groups (3-4 students each) and tells them that they are going on an exciting treasure hunt. She/He gives each group a Treasure Hunt Map (a hand-drawn or printed map of a fictional place like a pirate island, a mysterious castle, a hidden city with various landmarks and locations) and a set of Treasure Clue Cards (cards with clues or directions that lead students to the next location or object in the hunt).The cards describe where the next clue or "treasure" (a small object hidden on the map) is located using prepositions of place. Each group goes on a treasure hunt and follows the clues and describes where objects or locations are according to the prepositions of place. The teacher reads the first clue aloud to the class. For example: "The treasure is under the big tree near the castle". Groups discuss and figure out the location based on the clue. Students describe the position of the treasure on their map, using the correct prepositions of place. For example: "The treasure is under the big tree". Once they find the location of the treasure, they check their answer with the teacher. If they are correct, they receive the next clue to continue the hunt. As groups move through the map, they encounter more clues with complex prepositions (e.g., "The hidden door is between the bookshelf and the window" or "The key is behind the painting in the corridor"). The first group to solve all the clues and find the final treasure (a hidden object somewhere in the room or on the map) wins the game. Once all the groups have completed the treasure hunt, ask them to share their favourite clues or most difficult clues with the class. The teacher praises students for their teamwork and creativity during the hunt. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

Supporting

Objective: To practise talking about complex directions in English by using the prepositions of place in a fun and interactive treasure hunt game.

Activity title: Treasure Hunt Adventure

The teacher divides the class into small groups (3-4 students each) and tells them that they are going on an exciting treasure hunt. The teacher hides a small object, such as a coin, or sticker that will be the final treasure in the classroom or in a specific area. Clue cards are also placed in different spots, each one leading to the next clue. Each clue describes the location of the next clue using a preposition of place. For example: "The treasure is under the desk", "Look behind the door". The teacher gives the class the first clue aloud. For example: "The treasure is under the table". Students follow the clue and find the location described using prepositions. When students find the correct location (e.g., under the table), they read the next clue. Example: "The next clue is behind the bookshelf". As students move from one location to the next, they describe where things are located using prepositions, such as: "The book is on the shelf". The first group to find the final treasure wins the game! Once the treasure is found, the teacher reviews the prepositions of the place used during the activity and discusses any mistakes. She/He provides feedback and praises students for their participation and teamwork! Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

TEACHER REFLECTIONS

FOR MORE TEACHER REFLECTIONS SCAN THE QR CODE.

THEME 6: LIFE IN THE WORLD & CULTURE

Sub-themes: Countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world

This theme is centred on the concept of "life in the world and culture" and covers the sub-themes of "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

CLASS HOURS 10

FIELD SKILLS AND SUPPORTIVE SKILLS
FLFS1. Listening/Watching-Comprehension
FLFS2. Reading-Comprehension
FLFS3. Speaking-Expression
FLFS4. Writing-Expression
FLSS1. Grammaring: Selection and Use
FLSS2. Vocabulary: Selection and Use
FLSS3. Pronunciation: Selection and Use

CONCEPTUAL SKILLS _

DISPOSITIONS D1.1. Curiosity, D1.2. Independence, D1.3. Perseverance and Determination, D1.5. Self-Confidence, D1.6. Selectivity, D2.3. Assertiveness, D2.4. Trust, D2.5. Playfulness, D3.1. Reasoning, D3.2. Focus, D3.3.Creativity, D3.5. Open-Mindedness, D3.6. Analyticalness, D3.7. Being Systematic, D3.8.Questioning

INTERCURRICULAR COMPONENTS

Social-Emotional Learning Skills: SELS1.1. Self-Awareness Skill, SELS1.2. Self-Regulation Skill, SELS1.3. Self-Reflection Skill, SELS2.1. Communication Skill, SELS2.2. Cooperation Skill, SELS2.3. Social Awareness Skill, SELS3.1. Adaptability Skill, SELS3.2. Flexibility Skill, SELS3.3. Responsible Decision-Making Skill

Values: V1. Justice, V3. Diligence, V4. Friendship, V5. Sensitivity, V6. Honesty, V7. Aesthetics, V9. Compassion, V10. Modesty, V11. Independence, V12. Patience, V13. Healthy Living, V14. Respect, V16. Responsibility, V19. Patriotism, V20. Benevolence

Literacy Skills: LS1. Information Literacy, LS2. Digital Literacy, LS4. Visual Literacy, LS5. Cultural Literacy, LS6. Civic Literacy, LS7. Data Literacy, LS9. Art Literacy

INTERDISCIPLINARY RELATIONS Turkish, Maths, Social Studies, Physical Education and Sports, Visual Arts, Music, Information Technologies and Software

INTERSKILLS CS2.1. Conflict Resolution Skill, CS2.2. Observation Skill, CS2.3. Summarising Skill, CS2.4. Analysis Skill, CS2.5. Classification Skill, CS2.6. Information Gathering Skill, CS2.7. Comparison Skill, CS2.8. Inquiry Skill, CS2.9. Generalisation Skill, CS2.10. Inference Skill, CS2.11. Observation-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.12. Data-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.13. Structuring Skill, CS2.14. Interpretation Skill, CS2.15. Reflective Thinking Skill, CS2.16.1. Inductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.2. Deductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.3. Analogical Reasoning Skill, CS2.17. Evaluation Skill, CS2.19. Logical Auditing Skill, CS2.20. Synthesis Skill, CS3.1. Decision-Making Skill, CS3.3. Critical Thinking Skill

Year 6 is structured based on semi-holistic/semi-inductive approach.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.6.6.L1. Students can get ready for the listening/watching-comprehension process for the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" carefully.

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience related to the current theme and content by recalling their background knowledge imaginatively in her/his own language without speaking it.

b) Students identify significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge and experiences and the clues to the current content without translation.

c) Students make predictions about the current content on "life in the world and culture" by using the relationships that they recognised accurately by looking at the provided realia, pictures, and context.

d) Students make predictions about the current content based on the surrounding audio/visual elements in relation to the current theme.

ENG.6.6.L2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" together through significant details and main components while listening/watching it.

a) Students comprehend the topic of the current content by listening (to)/watching it as a whole.

b) Students recognise the significant details and components within the whole current content by listening (to) and watching it again in a careful manner.

ENG.6.6.L3. Students can make meaning of/derive meaning from the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" through significant details by listening/watching it carefully.

a) Students check any initial predictions related to the current content by being aware of the commonalities between self-predictions and clues provided as visuals surrounding the current content.

b) Students make important and necessary classifications in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

c) Students make important and necessary comparisons in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships (if any) within the generally perceived current content with the help of classifications and comparisons made earlier.

e) Students make significant inferences that contribute to the understanding of the meaning of the generally perceived current content.

f) Students construct the meaning of the current content in detail through the classifications/comparisons/inferences made earlier in relation to it.

g) Students internalise the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.6.L4. Students can convey their knowledge, experience, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully about the whole listening/watching-comprehension process in relation to the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content.

b) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content by sharing them with others.

ENG.6.6.P1. Students can select and use the target phonological elements of the current content about "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes and use it in an appropriate and effective way when communicating with others.

a) Students listen to the current content by paying attention to the target phonological aspects including pronunciation and intonation of utterances.

b) Students reinforce the target phonological elements by repeating them after the source several times as a whole class, in groups and individually.

c) Students recognise the target phonological elements of the current content when they are heard in different contexts.

d) Students recognise target phonological elements specific to the current content when they are heard in different contexts and use them accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes.

e) Students use the target theme-specific phonological elements of the current content appropriately, spontaneously and effectively when communicating with others.

ENG.6.6.R1. Students can get ready for the reading-comprehension process about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and past experiences related to the current theme and content efficiently.

b) Students recognise significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge, past experiences and clues to the current content.

c) Students make significant preliminary predictions about the current content based on recognised relationships.

d) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by exploring the audio-visual clues surrounding it.

ENG.6.6.R2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" through skimming (looking quickly at) the audio-visual elements and reading the content very quickly.

a) Students review the current content by looking at the surrounding audio/visual materials to identify what it is about in general through skimming.

b) Students read the current content to scan the major components silently and quickly with the help of the clues provided.

c) Students carefully read the current content silently and carefully to find significant details and components belonging to the theme.

ENG.6.6.R3. Students can make meaning of / derive meaning from the current content about "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" by reading it carefully.

a) Students carefully check the current content in detail for the accuracy of initial and detailed predictions that are made earlier.

b) Students classify the significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

c) Students compare significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships within the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

e) Students make meaningful inferences from the information in the current content by examining it carefully.

f) Students internalise the information in the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.6.R4. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the reading-comprehension process about the current content, "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

b) Students convey the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process by sharing them with others.

c) Students produce new products related to the current reading-comprehension content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.6.V1. Students can select and use the target vocabulary of the current content about "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students guess the main topic of the current content from the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, written words) in the contextual material by listening (to)/watching/reading it several times for recognition.

b) Students recognise sub-themes/key components of the target words to which they belong in the current content by scanning.

c) Students recognise the target words related to the main components of the current content with the help of the audio/visual/written elements and other clues.

d) Students repeat aloud the relevant target key components and target vocabulary in the current content with the whole class, in groups, and then individually together with or after listening (to)/watching/reading the source material.

e) Students recognise the use of target words and expressions in the current content by making various guesses with the help of supplementary elements.

f) Students make context-appropriate selections automatically by associating target words with their pre-existing conceptual meanings in the mind without analysing their contextual meaning in detail.

g) Students use the target words spontaneously and appropriately in different communicative contexts by being aware of their differences when communicating with others.

ENG.6.6.G1. Students can select and use the target grammatical elements of the current content about "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students become familiar with the current content by listening (to)/watching/reading it a few times attentively.

b) Students listen (to)/watch/read the same content, attentively and mindfully, including the use of target grammatical chunks presented verbally in context with the help of body language.

c) Students verbally and automatically repeat simple and meaningful clauses/sentences containing target grammatical chunks that they have noticed in the current content that they have heard/viewed/read without explicit knowledge of the rules.

d) Students act out physically the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks in the current content heard/viewed/read by repeating them several times without knowing, analysing, and thinking about their rules.

e) Students see and read the example sentences containing target grammatical chunks provided for language awareness carefully.

f) Students gain awareness of clauses/sentences that contain target grammatical chunks that are presented for the purpose of raising language awareness.

g) Students recognise the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks when they encounter them by seeing and/or hearing them in different contexts.

h) Students use the recognised target grammatical chunks naturally, authentically, and automatically in new contextual tasks and activities without analysing their rules.

i) Students produce new and meaningful verbal/written content about the current theme by using the target grammatical chunks in meaningful tasks without knowing and analysing their rules.

j) Students use the target language chunks authentically, automatically, and naturally in communication processes without analysing their rules in meaningful contexts.

ENG.6.6.W1. Students can get ready for the writing-expression process about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students relate their pre-existing knowledge and experience used in the initial processes of writing-expression skills to the current content by activating them in relation with the current content.

b) Students understand what the writing task and its content are in relation to the current content correctly by making use of their pre-existing knowledge and experience as guided and assigned.

ENG.6.6.W2. Students can understand the model/example for the writing task about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students understand the components and details of the content in the provided model/sample which is displayed as a guide by examining it carefully.

ENG.6.6.W3. Students can organise a content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" based on the model/example provided.

a) Students conduct preliminary research for a prepared writing situation according to the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students develop a simple draft for a prepared/or unprepared writing task about the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

c) Students organise and/or produce materials relevant to the content for a prepared/ unprepared writing task, appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

ENG.6.6.W4. Students can individually construct/form content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students present appropriate and accurate materials for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current theme according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students use appropriate discourse forms, styles, and rules relevant to the assigned writing type for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

c) Students use target words and grammatical language chunks accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current content by selecting them according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

d) Students express important messages in the written current content to the reader accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

ENG.6.6.W5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information in the new written tasks about the "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information in the current content or similar information in a different content by internalising and selecting it individually and reorganising it as required and meaningfully in different contexts.

b) Students exchange information/ideas in written communication by sharing reconstructed meaningful knowledge meaningfully with others.

ENG.6.6.W6. Students can reflect on their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the writing-expression process about the current content, "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the current writing-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the writing-expression process about the current content with others.

c) Students produce new written products related to the current writing-expression content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.6.S1. Students can get ready for speaking-expression process about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students make connections with the current content by activating their pre-existing knowledge and experiences that they have recalled in the listening (to)/watching/reading sections previously.

ENG.6.6.S2. Students can use the model/example for producing verbal content about the current content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world".

a) Students listen (to)/watch/read the model/example for the current content with the help of audio/visual/written elements.

ENG.6.6.S3. Students can organise a new verbal content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students recognise what form and type of content is expected and assigned for prepared/unprepared speaking situations based on audio/visual/written content as provided in the model/example.

b) Students organise the content for prepared/unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate and accurate way as they have heard/seen/read in the model/example.

c) Students develop a draft for prepared/unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to the age and language level as presented in the model/sample content.

d) Students organise supplementary audio/visual/written materials for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to age and language level, as provided in the model/sample content.

e) Students organise the information about the current content to be presented for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate way as required.

ENG.6.6.S4. Students can construct a new verbal content on "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students use target pronunciation, vocabulary, language chunks, and forms of discourse related to the current content effectively by selecting them accurately and appropriately for prepared/unprepared speaking situations.

b) Students present individually prepared content in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for prepared speaking situations clearly, efficiently, and appropriately.

c) Students present individually prepared information in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for unprepared speaking situations.

d) Students express the message about the current content clearly to the reader by using all supplementary elements and body language in an appropriate and accurate way in context for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.6.6.S5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information about the "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information presented in the current content by reorganising it appropriately, efficiently, individually, and verbally in different contexts.

b) Students engage in appropriate and efficient verbal communication by sharing the reconstructed meaningful information about the current content with others.

ENG.6.6.S6. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the speaking-expression process about the current content, "life in the world and culture with countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" to communicate with other people in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the speaking-expression process about the current content with others.

CONTENT FRAME

LIFE IN THE WORLD & CULTURE

Sub-themes: Countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world

Target Vocabulary in Use (with revisional vocabulary):

Vocabulary for countries, nationalities and languages in the world:

Nouns: A country, a nation, a capital, a flag, a government, a tradition, a heritage.

Countries: Türkiye, England, Germany, Austria, Greece, Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus, Poland, Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden, India, Spain, Italy.

Nationalities/Languages: Turkish/Turkish, English/English, German/German, Austrian/German, Greek/Greek, Turkish Cypriot/Turkish, Polish/Polish, Danish/Danish, Belgian/Dutch-French-German, Dutch/Dutch, Swedish/Swedish, Spanish/Spanish, French/French, Italian/Italian, Indian/Hindu-English.

Adjectives: National, official, foreign, historic, traditional, worth.

Vocabulary for food types and events from different parts of the world: Nouns: Experience, a cuisine, an ingredient, an appetiser, a main course, a dessert, dumplings, a dish, a competition.

Verbs: To experience, to dry, to heat.

Adjectives: Sour, bitter, incredible, gorgeous, crunchy, high-quality, homemade, spicy, crispy, flavourful.

Adverbs: Everywhere, somewhere, anywhere, nowhere.

Phrases: Enjoy your meal!, street food, food stalls, pop-up markets.

National and Religious Days, Festivals, and Celebrations: "29 October Republic Day", "23 April National Sovereignty and Children's Day", "19 May Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day", "15 July Democracy and National Unity Day", "30 August Victory Day", "Eid al-Fitr (Eid-al-Ramadan)", "Festival of Sacrifice (Eid-al-Adha)".

*(Relevant language content and (communicative) activities related to these national and religious days, festivals, and celebrations will be developed and integrated across all themes and in all appropriate sections wherever and whenever possible.)

Local Cultural, Social and Moral Considerations of the Theme

In this theme, specific examples, cases, situations, events, and practices reflecting Turkish social, cultural, and moral customs, traditions, and heritage will be included across all sub-themes. This consideration will be age-and-level appropriate and selected with the Turkish learners' social and cultural context in mind. A table for this section is provided in the introduction to the whole English Language Curriculum.

Target Grammatical Structures in Use:

-The Simple Past Tense: (We enjoyed the delicious cuisine at the street food festival).

-Question tags for The Simple Past Tense (regular verbs): (They visited the capital of Greece, didn't they?)

Functions of the Target Grammatical Structures in Use:

-Use of The Simple Past Tense: Expressing actions, events, or situations that started and finished at a specific time in the past.

-Use of question tags for The Simple Past Tense (regular verbs): Confirming information or asking for agreement about past actions.

Target Social Language in Use:

I had culture shock when we moved to Spain!

We both love football so we speak the same language!

The Topkapı Palace is world famous!

Target Phonological Sounds in Use:

l, m, n, (ng), o, p

Vowel: o: (/əʊ/, /ɒ/, /əʊ/)

Consonants: l: (/ɛl/ /l/); m: (/ɛm/,/m/); n: (/ɛn/, /n/); p: (pi://p/)

*(Phonetic symbols will not be taught. Only sounds will be practised through the target words in the theme).

Generalisations/Principles/Key Concepts

Generalisations

The target concept of this theme "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" is present in almost all languages. People who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge with them and transfer it to their new language learning. For instance, a lower secondary school student will know what "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" means but will not know how to say them in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. However, this existing knowledge in their own language will help them recognise, understand, and learn the new information more easily in a foreign language, in this case, English.

Key Concepts:

countries, nationalities, languages, languages in the world, food types, food events, food types from different parts of the world, food events from different parts of the world

INDICATORS FOR LEARNING (Assessment and Evaluation)

EVALUATION FOR THE SKILLS AND THE CONTENT:

PERFORMANCE ASSIGNMENT: Students will design a creative poster about a country of their choice. The poster will show the country's name, the nationality of its people, and the language they speak. It will also include a description of a traditional food from the country, detailing its ingredients and cultural importance. Additionally, students will provide information about a cultural event or festival where the food is served, describing the traditions and activities related to it. The poster should be visually appealing with drawings, images, and descriptive text to focus on the unique aspects of the country. The assignment will be evaluated by using a rubric scheme, a rating scale, and/or a marking scheme.

LEARNING-TEACHING EXPERIENCES

Basic Acceptations: Preparedness/ Readiness

This theme is based on the students' knowledge of "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world". As they are lower secondary school students in year 6 (six), they can know what "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" mean in their own language as it is known that almost all people who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge (in their own language) with them and transfer it to their new language learning context. However, they may not know how to say these things in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. Fortunately, this existing knowledge in their own language can help them recognise, understand, and learn them more easily in a foreign language, in this case English.

As they are students in year 6 of lower secondary school, they can know some basic vocabulary about "life in the world and culture" and also some necessary structures in English from the previous themes and/or years. These grammar items and vocabulary are revised during the "Revision Programme" at the beginning of the year, and they can be used as a basis for learning the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme, so that the new grammatical elements in the current theme can be learnt easily.

Pre-Evaluation Process

It is expected that students' physical, cognitive, affective, and social factors are appropriate and suitable for learning about the "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world". Recalling and practising with relevant vocabulary and grammatical items in English that they have learnt in the previous years would be helpful as a basis for moving on and learning the current content on the concept of "life in the world and culture". Therefore, a dialogue game can be played to revise all vocabulary and language grammar items from the themes in previous years by giving instructions in English as a preparation practice. In this way, their performance can be evaluated by seeing how much they remember and how much they are able to understand and use the previously learnt vocabulary and grammatical items to build their competence in the current theme. It can be decided what to emphasise or practise in order to revise the previous knowledge and to facilitate the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme. (Their performance can be evaluated by rubrics throughout these practices).

Establishing Links

Students can recall the current (theme) concept of "life in the world and culture" and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" by remembering their pre-existing background knowledge about it (imaginatively through thinking) in their own language to make links with the current activities in the current theme in English without translating anything until they start learning the target words in the current (new) concept in English.

To remind them of the pre-existing background knowledge they already have about the current concept, various materials such as short scene from a film, series, a part from a story, a poster etc. which is appropriate to the age, level, and pedagogy could be used before the main teaching/learning flow of the class begins. They would give a general idea of the theme. Students are facilitated with the relevant materials through various activities. When they have finished working on it, the teacher asks them in English if they understood what it was about. For checking their understanding, she/he can design several activities. For instance, they can write a related word that they know in English on a piece of paper and put it in the jar/box that she/he has prepared. Alternative ways can be tried.

The teacher asks them to wait for it until they see the next visual, which is the main entry material of the theme, the digital introductory story, to see if their thoughts/guesses are true or not without asking any further questions.

Learning-Teaching Practices

WARM-UP TO THE WHOLE THEME (WELL-BEING)

Before starting to work on the theme "life in the world and culture" in the classroom, to prepare the students emotionally, cognitively, psychologically, and physically, a fun non-theme warm-up activity can be done as an icebreaker to help the students feel positive and ready for the whole learning process in class for their well-being. This could be an activity such as a short game, a physical activity, listening to/singing a song/chant/rhyme, doing a riddle, solving a puzzle, saying a tongue twister, listening to an anecdote/a very short story, watching a pantomime/cartoon story, etc. that has no relation or connection to the current theme and does not require any knowledge of English (D2.5, SELS2.1, V12.1, LS2, LS4).

INTEGRATION OF LANGUAGE SKILLS IN THE THEME

All language skills (listening/watching-comprehension, reading-comprehension, speaking-expression, writing-expression, vocabulary selection and use, grammar selection and use, pronunciation selection and use) are used in an integrated way around "life in the world and culture" and sub-themes "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world", allowing students to build background knowledge through receptive skills before moving on to productive tasks throughout the theme. They are combined in a meaningful and purposeful way and are integrated to support the learning outcomes of the theme. Although they are sequenced from receptive to productive in the teaching-learning practices, they are always used in a closely linked way that means each activity builds on the previous one to promote language development and to increase communicative competence. The theme is characterised by a balanced integration of all the skills, where students engage with input (listening/watching-comprehension and reading-comprehension) and respond through output (speaking-expression and writing-expression) with the help of their vocabulary, grammar and phonological selection and use skills.

ENG6.6.L1.

PREPARING FOR LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: Having seen a visual about and having guessed the topic of "life in the world and culture" during the background recall session, students can have a vision of the current theme as a general concept in the current (new) theme (D3.2,SELS1.1, V3.2, V3.3, V4.5, LS1, LS4, CS2.11, CS2.16.2). So, a further concept check with listening/watching for gist activities including more guessing games using clues from some pictures, realia, short video clips etc. help them prepare for the current theme (CS2.6, CS2.8). For each theme, a digitally constructed story is used as the main context of the theme, and it is visited several times while going through the theme to cover target pronunciation, vocabulary, grammar, social language expressions, and semantic meaning of the whole theme (CS2.14). It is both an entry material and the main context to the whole theme at the same time. The teacher asks them whether their guesses during the background recall session were correct and also what they think the introductory digital story that they are going to watch could be about (CS2.8). As they have already seen a scene from a film about the theme and the pictures, realia, etc. they can easily answer what the current theme will be about and that their guesses were true (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, D3.2, SELS1.2, V3.3, V3.4, V3.3,V4.5, LS2, LS4, CS2.10, CS2.17).

ENG6.6.L2.

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING: The teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story carefully, recalling the work done with visuals (the scene from a film, pictures, realia, or video clips about the theme shown earlier) (CS2.11). Students watch the introductory digital story to consolidate the identification of the theme"life in the world and culture" in it as a whole (CS2.13) without stopping the video at any point, so that the students can understand the theme holistically (D3.2, SELS1.1, V3.3,V3.4, V3.3, V4.5, LS2, LS4, CS2.14, CS2.16.2).

ENG6.6.L3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: To draw students' attention to the content, some realia brought into the classroom by the teacher could be (V3.3,V4.5). The teacher could show the corresponding objects to the students when the corresponding vocabulary for the main components of the theme "life in the world and culture" is mentioned in the introductory digital story, without stopping the video while the students watch the story (CS2.6). When they have watched the whole story, the teacher could show the realia items on the table and ask questions with two options (CS2.5). As one of the words is from the previous themes, students could hear, understand, recognise and learn the (new) target vocabulary for each main component of the theme easily (CS2.1). In this way, the teacher could engage in a dialogue with the whole class to check that they have recognised the components of the theme, and that they have understood each realia item is about one component (CS2.8). Further activities and games can be played at this stage to reinforce the general meaning of the theme through its main components (D1.1, D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

To check whether the students understand the general topic of the theme "life in the world and culture" and remember the sequence of the scenes of the introductory digital story, the teacher shows an organiser with the mixed images/pictures of the scenes on the Smart Board and asks the students to look at the images/pictures of the scenes for a while (CS2.3). She/He then asks them to order the scenes in pairs in their seats with the mixed paper pictures she/he has already given to the students (SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, LS1, LS4, LS6). When the pairs have finished sorting the pictures for the scenes of the story, the teacher asks the students to take turns or volunteer to sort the scenes on the screen of the Smart Board (or the pictures on the blackboard) (SELS1.2, CS2.6, CS2.10). This will help the students to organise the story as a whole so that they can identify the main theme and the components of the theme from their memories (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, V16.3, V20.4, CS2.12).

ENG6.6.L4.

REFLECTING ON THE LISTENING/ WATCHING PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole listening-watching process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3, V3.4). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V12.1, LS5, LS6). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V10.3).

ENG6.6.P1.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: To practise pronunciation of the new target words, word groups, language chunks, and social language expressions about the theme "life in the world and culture" and the words and/or word groups for the sub-themes "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" ,the teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch the whole or some extracts from the introductory digital story by noticing how words are pronounced V3.3, V3.3, V4.5 LS4, CS2.6). She/He asks them to repeat the word aloud when she/he stops the video for a word and says it. The teacher then asks the students to listen and repeat the same words aloud a few times as a whole class after listening to the recordings that she/he has prepared beforehand using some Web 2.0 programmes (LS2, CS2.16.3). The teacher could offer variations with some techniques such as showing the picture of the target word to the students to say the word or pointing to the corresponding picture when they hear the word from the recording, and then both (CS2.8). To help the students pronounce the words accurately, the teacher asks them to repeat each target word aloud a few times as a whole class after her/him or the recording, then in large groups, then in small groups and then again as volunteers (D3.2, D3.6, SELS1.2, SELS2.1, V4.2, V20.4, LS1, CS2.14).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Practice of pronunciation could be done with different forms of TPR, gamification and drama activities, e.g. first the teacher says the target words/word groups for the sub-themes "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world", the students listen (CS2.9); then the teacher says the target words/word groups and acts them out, the students repeat after her/him (SELS2.1, CS2.14). Then the teacher and the students say the target words/word groups and act them out together at the same time. Then the teacher says the words/word groups and acts them out. These activities can be done through the actions for the sub-themes (D2.3, D2.5, V3.3, V3.3, V4.5).As a variation, they can also repeat the words after the teacher happily, sadly, angrily, etc. using different tones of voice (SELS2.3, CS2.8, CS2.11). They also practise for the target social language chunks using the same or similar techniques. During the repetitions, they point to relevant pictures that the teacher has placed in different places in the classroom (CS2.12). Some action sequences are also created in which the students can practise the social language in a fun way by repeating, pointing, miming, and acting out in several games (SELS2.1, V7.2, LS5, LS6, LS9). The teacher facilitates some activities with dialogues and games in which students can practice the target pronunciation by selecting and using them accurately, naturally, and authentically (CS3.1). Several fun pronunciation games could be played, such as shadow reading, bingo, odd one out, pronunciation maze, minimal pairs, rhyming games, and several sound drills (SELS2.2). The target sounds such as vowels, consonants, and diphthongs of the theme are practised through them (CS2.13). Their learning is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. (D1.2, D1.6, D2.5, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

ENG6.6.R1

PREPARATION FOR THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS: The teacher facilitates reading and writing activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end, when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount. Reading starts from earlier stages and continues throughout the theme in various forms and amounts. Reading is done in two ways in the theme by using the written version of the introductory digital story and additional reading texts in reading sections of the instructional material to be used (V3.2, LS2, LS4). Various reading styles including silent reading, speed reading, jigsaw reading and basic reading techniques including skimming, scanning, and reading for details during pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading phases are used in the theme (V3.4, LS1, CS2.3, CS2.6). The ultimate aim of reading practice is to enhance comprehension, improve fluency, develop pre-critical thinking skills and critical thinking skills and the ability to comprehend and talk/write about the content in a meaningful and communicative way (V3.3, V7.2, LS5, CS3.3). For the initial stage of reading, the teacher asks the students to look at the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, title of the text, written words) surrounding the written version of the contextual introductory story or a new text in the reading section of the instructional material to be used for skimming to recall the conceptual meanings they already have about the theme (CS2.8). At this stage, the teacher could ask the students to read the title of the theme and ask the students which words they already know, and which come to mind in connection with the title (SELS1.1, CS2.16.2). She/He reminds them not to ask the meanings of any new words or the words they do not know. She/He reminds them that this is just a guessing activity by using the words they know and that there is time to work on the new words of the new theme later (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, CS2.10, CS2.12).

ENG6.6.R2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH READING: Students go on with a scanning activity to find out the most important details of the introductory digital story and/or a new text in the reading section which is organised to help students to know more about the reading content (CS2.6, CS2.7). In this way they could be able to recognise the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story (CS2.4). By doing so, they will be able to understand the story/text in general using the main elements (D3.2, D3.6, V3.3, V3.4, LS1).

ENG6.6.R3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH READING: Then the teacher asks the students to do a jigsaw reading activity, so she/he shows the written version of the introductory digital story or the text in the reading section on the blackboard/Smart Board (or in any other teaching material). She/He asks the students to work in pairs to share the text (SELS2.2). One peer reads the first half of the text and the second peer reads the other half of the text in a given time (CS2.6). They are then asked to share what they have understood from their part with their peer, also in a given time. In this way, they talk about the whole story after reading it silently, in the jigsaw reading style (D2.4, D3.6, V3.4, V4.2, V16.2, LS1, LS6,CS2.8, CS2.9). Some speed-reading activities can be used to develop students' reading and comprehension skills. These activities can be evaluated as explained in the item (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. After sharing their parts, students proceed with the activities for dealing with the target vocabulary, grammatical chunks, and semantic meaning relatively with the help of the teacher (CS2.14). For dealing with the semantic meaning, the teacher facilitates the lesson with meaningful activities including closed, semi-closed, free, open-ended, and communicative ones (SELS2.1). From display to communicative open-ended, various types of questions are used to understand the meaning of the text (SELS3.1, SELS3.2, CS2.6). During this process students work collaboratively to exchange information, thoughts, and feelings (D3.2, D3.7, V3.3, V7.2, V20.2, LS2, LS4, CS2.8).

ENG6.6.R4.

REFLECTING ON THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole reading-comprehension process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (D2.3, D3.5, V4.2, V6.2, V10.3, V12.1, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.6.V1.

PREPARATION TO WORK ON THE TARGET VOCABULARY: At this stage, students remember what the theme is about through the activities that they have done during the background knowledge, pre-listening/watching, and pre-reading sessions (SELS1.1). As they know the main topic, they get ready to deal with the main components and target vocabulary of the theme (V3.2, LS1).

RECOGNITION OF THE TARGET VOCABULARY: A scanning activity to find out the main details of the introductory digital story (and/or a new text in the reading section) is organised to help students to know more about the content. This could help them identify what the target words in the text could be about. The activity could be designed by listing some important pictures, words or events about the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story. In this way, they will be able to understand the story/text in general by using the main elements and also be ready to work on the target vocabulary items (D3.2, D3.6, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.7).Then the students read the written version of the digital story again silently, (or the reading text in the reading section), to check whether they know any of the target vocabulary items about the theme (V3.3, V4.5, CS2.8). They underline the words whose meaning they do not know while reading silently (CS2.17). Students say these words when they finish reading and the teacher writes these words on the Smart Board/blackboard/ white board as they say them. The teacher writes only the target words on the Smart Board/blackboard as active words that the students have said. She/He quickly deals with the non-target passive vocabulary items by using pictures, mimics, gestures, imitations, examples, etc. But she/he takes time to facilitate the teaching of the target words (D1.2, D1.6, D3.2, V3.3, V3.4, LS2, LS4,CS2.4, CS2.5, CS2.7).
To introduce and practise the meanings of the target vocabulary related to the theme, that the students do not know, the teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story (or the video of the reading text if there is one) again. From the beginning, whenever a target item is mentioned, the teacher stops the video and asks several questions in the form of two options, one of which is a word from the previous themes that they already know (V3.3, V4.5, CS2.16.1, CS2.6). By guessing what they are, the students hear the English equivalents of the words for the theme and they answer as a whole class in chorus. In this way, they are introduced to the meanings of the target words (D1.2, D1.6,D3.7, CS2.10). This is conducted in the form of a dialogue where their learning can be checked as described in items (SELS2.1) (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V3.3, V3.4, V3.3, V4.5, LS1, LS2). After having watched the introductory digital story, the teacher shows some pictures for the sub-themes, on the walls as clues and says the words aloud several times in sentences by pointing to the pictures and the students repeat after her/him (D2.3, V3.3, V4.5 CS2.6, CS2.11). In this way, the main vocabulary items of the theme are introduced to the students in English as described in item (3) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V3.3, V4.5).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: The teacher can prepare an activity using the Web 2.0 programme with images/pictures, and symbolic images for some categories about the components of the theme "life in the world and culture". She/He also prepares mixed images/pictures for target vocabulary

items for the activities which can be done in relation to the components. She/He asks the students to look at the mixed pile of images/pictures of the main components of the theme on the Smart Board screen and scan them for a while to remember them (V4.5, V14.3, V16.3, V19.1, V19.2, LS5, LS6, CS2.4). She/He explains to the students that the items will be placed under the correct category, but first she/he gives the students the cut-out pictures of the activities and a large sheet of paper with the categories written on it and the cut-out pictures will be placed under each category correctly (V3.3, L2, LS4, CS2.5). The teacher asks them to work in pairs and place the cut-out pictures in the right category and ask each other some questions about the theme (D3.2, D3.8, SELS2.2, V3.3, V4.5). When the students have finished working with the cut-out pictures and asking and answering questions about them, the teacher asks them to take turns or volunteer to go to the Smart Board and drag the corresponding images/pictures under the right category on the screen (SELS1.2, V3.4, V20.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.5). In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the main concept and its components are consolidated through categorisation. This activity can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology. The teacher asks the students to copy the words next to the pictures they have pasted or drawn in their picture dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their picture dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling (D3.2, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V6.2, LS9). To consolidate the meaning, selection, and use of the new target vocabulary items, the teacher could organise activities and tasks using pictures, flashcards, sounds, realia, and any other materials to play games such as Bingo, Pelmanism, King's game, Odd One out, Wordscapes, Scrabble, Pictionary, Letter Scramble, Acronyms, Charades etc. Games could be adapted according to the teacher's objectives (pronunciation, spelling, meaning, selection, use etc.), age, interests and language level of the students (CS2.13). Students can be asked to create their own games to use the target vocabulary items in context (D2.5, D.3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2, V4.2, V4.4, V7.2, V3.3, V4.5, LS9, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked as described in items (3), and (4) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.6.G1

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS: To draw the students' attention to the target language chunks of the theme "life in the world and culture", the introductory digital story or an extract from it played so that the students can notice the target language chunks (D3.2, CS2.2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the target language chunks are used. She/He imitates the action by showing the scene, saying the chunk, and asking the students to do the same (V3.2, LS2, CS2.14). She could hold up large pictures corresponding to the chunks when they are mentioned in the digital story to draw the students' attention. The sentences with the target chunks are also written and placed on the Smart Board/blackboard/ whiteboard. The teacher also points to these sentences while pointing to the scenes in the story where they appear. There is no analysis or teaching of grammatical structures at this stage. Students can automatically and naturally identify the use of the target language chunks in the current context created in the introductory digital story without working on any rules or structures (SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.3, CS2.4, CS2.16.2). To check the students' identification of the target language chunks, after the students have finished watching the introductory digital story, the teacher asks them to read the sentences with the target language chunks written by the teacher on the Smart Board /blackboard/ whiteboard and asks them to find the same or similar sentences in the written version of the introductory digital story or another text that is shown on the Smart Board (D3.2, SELS3.2, V3.3). She/He also asks them to find the same or similar sentences with these chunks which are given in different types of tables prepared by the teacher (CS2.7). These tables do not include any explanations of grammatical rules, explanations, or formulas, and they only contain example sentences with target chunks in which important words with the target grammar are written in bold or different colours to attract students' attention. The teacher asks them to look at the words in bold or in different colours and asks students to examine them (CS2.9). Then the teacher asks the students to copy these sentences with target chunks written in bold or different colours into their notebooks. The teacher asks the students to make very similar sentences using the target words and asks them to share their sentences with each other in pairs, and then with the class (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, D3.2, V4.2, CS2.13,CS2.14, CS2.16.1, CS2.16.2). Both the teacher and the class members give feedback to the students as they say their sentences (CS2.19). The teacher gives all students a checklist with simple symbols to evaluate each other's work as explained in the items (5) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, LS6).

SELECTION AND USE OF THE TARGET GRAMMAR: To facilitate students' further practice with the target language chunks in the theme "life in the world and culture", the teacher shows some other sentences with these chunks in another context such as a short story, a short paragraph, and a short dialogue etc. and asks students to find the sentences with the target chunks in them and asks if they understand them (SELS3.2, V3.3, V3.3, V4.5, CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.8). She/He gives some written activities and exercises to practise the target chunks in context. She/He also facilitates more fun activities and as described in items (5), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. To consolidate the target language chunks, the teacher organises different fun activity and game bundles that the students can practise and consolidate them (CS2.13) where their learning can be checked as described in item (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D2.5, V4.4).

ENG6.6.W1.

PREPARATION FOR THE WRITING-EXPRESSION SESSION: Practising through writing: Writing activities help students to produce and display meaningful written language for their personal expression and communication with others, by using language including target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language in this theme, as in other themes (V3.2, V3.3, V4.5).

ENG6.6.W2.

RECOGNISING THE MODEL: Initially, students produce very limited and short pieces of writing such as sentences to practise the language including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme "life in the world and culture". They practise the language in a more controlled way in the beginning, by writing to repeat or simply explain what they hear and see in context and what they are asked to do. They are provided a written model/example to copy to be able to notice significant points and elements in it (SELS3.1). While copying a short model writing, they become aware of the aspects such as the use of words, language chunks, punctuation, spelling and so on (D3.1, V3.4, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.16.3).

ENG6.6.W3.

CREATING THE WRITING CONTENT: Controlled writing of words and sentences turns to short paragraphs in a process writing manner with the support of the teacher's feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported by several practical activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/ pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (D1.3, D3.1, SELS3.2,V3.4, V4.4, V7.2, LS2, LS4, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.6.W4.

CONSTRUCTING AND PRACTISING WRITING: Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice tasks. Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, projects, scripts for plays, diaries/journals, blogs, very short film scenarios, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.2, CS2.13). All the content is expected to be contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests and language level (V3.4, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9).

ENG6.6.W5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside or outside school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and the social language for the theme in their writing (SELS2.2, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V3.3, V4.5, LS9, CS2.20). AI- based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways (D3.3, SELS3.2, SELS3.3,V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These activities are evaluated as described in items (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.6.W6.

REFLECTING ON THE WRITING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole writing-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (D1.5, SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.6.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end. Speaking activities enhance students' learning and help them produce and display meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language expressions of the theme (V3.2, V3.4, V3.3, V4.5).

ENG6.6.S2

RECOGNISING AND USING THE MODEL: In the beginning, through listening/watching and reading, students recognise how the language with the target language items is used (CS2.6). They practise the language in a controlled way, by telling, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context (D1.3, D3.2, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.4).

ENG6.6.S3

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons after controlled practice sessions, the teacher creates new contexts in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues etc. as new opportunities for the students to talk about them for practising further through questions, explanations, inferences etc (D1.3, SELS3.2, V3.4, V4.2, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13).

ENG6.6.S4.

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN MATERIALS: Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V4.2, V3.3, V4.5, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D1.2, D1.6, D3.3, V7.2,LS2, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.6.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students communicate with each other by seeing/hearing/reading/using the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme "life in the world and culture" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.3, CS2.20). Picture strip stories can be used at the end of each theme to provide a consolidation and revision (V3.4, V4.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13, CS2.14). These new contents created are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used together with other further speaking practice throughout the theme. Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme and its components such as "countries, nationalities, and languages in the world; food types and events from different parts of the world" (V3.4, V4.2, V3.3, V4.5, LS4, CS3.1,CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.3, V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These are evaluated as described in items (7), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Then they can expand their language use and practise by communicating with others.

ENG6.6.S6.

REFLECTING ON THE SPEAKING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole speaking-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To practice the language for actions, events, or situations that started and finished at a specific time in the past in English through a fun and creative writing activity.

Activity 1: Time Traveller's Diary

The teacher divides the class into pairs and tells students they are time travellers who have just returned from an adventurous trip to the past. She/He uses pictures or a timeline to help students visualize different time periods. Students select a time period they want to visit. The teacher provides a list of options, or lets them choose freely (e.g., Prehistoric Era, ancient Anatolia, ancient Egypt, Ancient Rome, the 1990s). She/He asks them to write an entry in their "Time Traveller's Diary", describing what they saw, did, and experienced while visiting a different time period. She/He challenges them to write full paragraphs with more complex sentences, adding details to their descriptions. Example: "I visited ancient Egypt. The pyramids were huge, and I met a friendly merchant. He sold me a beautiful necklace". After pairs finish their entry, she/he allows them to share their diary entries with the class and asks them to discuss the different time periods that their classmates visited. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

Supporting

Objective: To practice the language for actions, events, or situations that started and finished at a specific time in the past in English through a fun and creative writing activity.

Activity 1: Time Traveller's Diary

The teacher divides the class into pairs and tells students they are time travellers who have just returned from an adventurous trip to the past. She/He gives a visual timeline or images of each era to help them imagine what might happen there. She/He instructs students to write a brief diary entry describing their experiences using the simple past tense and provides a list of common verbs in the past tense (e.g., "saw, went, met, ate") for students who need additional support with vocabulary. After pairs finish their entries, she/he allows them to share their diary entries with the class and asks students to interview each other about their time travel adventures. One student becomes the "time traveller", and the other asks questions like, "What did you see?" or "Who did you meet?". Then she/he asks them to highlight the verbs they used in the past tense and discuss the different time periods that their classmates visited. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

TEACHER REFLECTIONS

FOR MORE TEACHER REFLECTIONS SCAN THE QR CODE.

THEME 7: LIFE IN NATURE & GLOBAL PROBLEMS

Sub-themes: Activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions

This theme is centred on the concept of "life in nature and global problems" and covers the sub-themes of "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

CLASS HOURS 10

FIELD SKILLS AND SUPPORTIVE SKILLS

FLFS1. Listening/Watching-Comprehension
FLFS2. Reading-Comprehension
FLFS3. Speaking-Expression
FLFS4. Writing-Expression
FLSS1. Grammaring: Selection and Use
FLSS2. Vocabulary: Selection and Use
FLSS3. Pronunciation: Selection and Use

CONCEPTUAL SKILLS _

DISPOSITIONS D1.1. Curiosity, D1.2. Independence, D1.3. Perseverance and Determination, D1.5. Self-Confidence, D1.6. Selectivity, D2.3. Assertiveness, D2.4. Trust, D2.5. Playfulness, D3.1. Reasoning, D3.2. Focus, D3.3.Creativity, D3.5. Open-Mindedness, D3.6. Analyticalness, D3.7. Being Systematic, D3.8.Questioning

INTERCURRICULAR COMPONENTS

Social-Emotional Learning Skills: SELS1.1. Self-Awareness Skill, SELS1.2. Self-Regulation Skill, SELS1.3. Self-Reflection Skill, SELS2.1. Communication Skill, SELS2.2. Cooperation Skill, SELS2.3. Social Awareness Skill, SELS3.1. Adaptability Skill, SELS3.2. Flexibility Skill, SELS3.3. Responsible Decision-Making Skill

Values: V1. Justice, V3. Diligence, V4. Friendship, V5. Sensitivity, V6. Honesty, V7. Aesthetics, V9. Compassion, V10. Modesty, V11. Independence, V12. Patience, V13. Healthy Living, V14. Respect, V16. Responsibility, V18. Cleanliness, V19. Patriotism, V20. Benevolence

Literacy Skills: LS1. Information Literacy, LS2. Digital Literacy, LS4. Visual Literacy, LS5. Cultural Literacy, LS6. Civic Literacy, LS7. Data Literacy, LS9. Art Literacy

INTERDISCIPLINARY RELATIONS Turkish, Maths, Social Studies, Physical Education and Sports, Visual Arts, Music, Information Technologies and Software

INTERSKILLS CS2.1. Conflict Resolution Skill, CS2.2. Observation Skill, CS2.3. Summarising Skill, CS2.4. Analysis Skill, CS2.5. Classification Skill, CS2.6. Information Gathering Skill, CS2.7. Comparison Skill, CS2.8. Inquiry Skill, CS2.9. Generalisation Skill, CS2.10. Inference Skill, CS2.11. Observation-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.12. Data-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.13. Structuring Skill, CS2.14. Interpretation Skill, CS2.15. Reflective Thinking Skill, CS2.16.1. Inductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.2. Deductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.3. Analogical Reasoning Skill, CS2.17. Evaluation Skill, CS2.19. Logical Auditing Skill, CS2.20. Synthesis Skill, CS3.1. Decision-Making Skill, CS3.3. Critical Thinking Skill

Year 6 is structured based on semi-holistic/semi-inductive approach.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.6.7.L1. Students can get ready for the listening/watching-comprehension process for the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" carefully.

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience related to the current theme and content by recalling their background knowledge imaginatively in her/his own language without speaking it.

b) Students identify significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge and experiences and the clues to the current content without translation.

c) Students make predictions about the current content on "life in nature and global problems" by using the relationships that they recognised accurately by looking at the provided realia, pictures, and context.

d) Students make predictions about the current content based on the surrounding audio/visual elements in relation to the current theme.

ENG.6.7.L2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" together through significant details and main components while listening/watching it.

a) Students comprehend the topic of the current content by listening (to)/watching it as a whole.

b) Students recognise the significant details and components within the whole current content by listening (to) and watching it again in a careful manner.

ENG.6.7.L3. Students can make meaning of/derive meaning from the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" through significant details by listening/watching it carefully.

a) Students check any initial predictions related to the current content by being aware of the commonalities between self-predictions and clues provided as visuals surrounding the current content.

b) Students make important and necessary classifications in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

c) Students make important and necessary comparisons in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships (if any) within the generally perceived current content with the help of classifications and comparisons made earlier.

e) Students make significant inferences that contribute to the understanding of the meaning of the generally perceived current content.

f) Students construct the meaning of the current content in detail through the classifications/comparisons/inferences made earlier in relation to it.

g) Students internalise the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.7.L4. Students can convey their knowledge, experience, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully about the whole listening/watching-comprehension process in relation to the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content.

b) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content by sharing them with others.

ENG.6.7.P1. Students can select and use the target phonological elements of the current content about "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes and use it in an appropriate and effective way when communicating with others.

a) Students listen to the current content by paying attention to the target phonological aspects including pronunciation and intonation of utterances.

b) Students reinforce the target phonological elements by repeating them after the source several times as a whole class, in groups and individually.

c) Students recognise the target phonological elements of the current content when they are heard in different contexts.

d) Students recognise target phonological elements specific to the current content when they are heard in different contexts and use them accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes.

e) Students use the target theme-specific phonological elements of the current content appropriately, spontaneously and effectively when communicating with others.

ENG.6.7.R1. Students can get ready for the reading-comprehension process about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and past experiences related to the current theme and content efficiently.

b) Students recognise significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge, past experiences and clues to the current content.

c) Students make significant preliminary predictions about the current content based on recognised relationships.

d) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by exploring the audio-visual clues surrounding it.

ENG.6.7.R2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" through skimming (looking quickly at) the audio-visual elements and reading the content very quickly.

a) Students review the current content by looking at the surrounding audio/visual materials to identify what it is about in general through skimming.

b) Students read the current content to scan the major components silently and quickly with the help of the clues provided.

c) Students carefully read the current content silently and carefully to find significant details and components belonging to the theme.

ENG.6.7.R3. Students can make meaning of / derive meaning from the current content about "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" by reading it carefully.

a) Students carefully check the current content in detail for the accuracy of initial and detailed predictions that are made earlier.

b) Students classify the significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

c) Students compare significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships within the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

e) Students make meaningful inferences from the information in the current content by examining it carefully.

f) Students internalise the information in the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.7.R4. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the reading-comprehension process about the current content, "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

b) Students convey the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process by sharing them with others.

c) Students produce new products related to the current reading-comprehension content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.7.V1. Students can select and use the target vocabulary of the current content about "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students guess the main topic of the current content from the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, written words) in the contextual material by listening (to)/watching/reading it several times for recognition.

b) Students recognise sub-themes/key components of the target words to which they belong in the current content by scanning.

c) Students recognise the target words related to the main components of the current content with the help of the audio/visual/written elements and other clues.

d) Students repeat aloud the relevant target key components and target vocabulary in the current content with the whole class, in groups, and then individually together with or after listening (to)/watching/reading the source material.

e) Students recognise the use of target words and expressions in the current content by making various guesses with the help of supplementary elements.

f) Students make context-appropriate selections automatically by associating target words with their pre-existing conceptual meanings in the mind without analysing their contextual meaning in detail.

g) Students use the target words spontaneously and appropriately in different communicative contexts by being aware of their differences when communicating with others.

ENG.6.7.G1. Students can select and use the target grammatical elements of the current content about "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students become familiar with the current content by listening (to)/watching/reading it a few times attentively.

b) Students listen (to)/watch/read the same content, attentively and mindfully, including the use of target grammatical chunks presented verbally in context with the help of body language.

c) Students verbally and automatically repeat simple and meaningful clauses/sentences containing target grammatical chunks that they have noticed in the current content that they have heard/viewed/read without explicit knowledge of the rules.

d) Students act out physically the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks in the current content heard/viewed/read by repeating them several times without knowing, analysing, and thinking about their rules.

e) Students see and read the example sentences containing target grammatical chunks provided for language awareness carefully.

f) Students gain awareness of clauses/sentences that contain target grammatical chunks that are presented for the purpose of raising language awareness.

g) Students recognise the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks when they encounter them by seeing and/or hearing them in different contexts.

h) Students use the recognised target grammatical chunks naturally, authentically, and automatically in new contextual tasks and activities without analysing their rules.

i) Students produce new and meaningful verbal/written content about the current theme by using the target grammatical chunks in meaningful tasks without knowing and analysing their rules.

j) Students use the target language chunks authentically, automatically, and naturally in communication processes without analysing their rules in meaningful contexts.

ENG.6.7.W1. Students can get ready for the writing-expression process about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students relate their pre-existing knowledge and experience used in the initial processes of writing-expression skills to the current content by activating them in relation with the current content.

b) Students understand what the writing task and its content are in relation to the current content correctly by making use of their pre-existing knowledge and experience as guided and assigned.

ENG.6.7.W2. Students can understand the model/example for the writing task about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students understand the components and details of the content in the provided model/sample which is displayed as a guide, by examining it carefully.

ENG.6.7.W3. Students can organise a content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" based on the model/example provided.

a) Students conduct preliminary research for a prepared writing situation according to the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students develop a simple draft for a prepared/or unprepared writing task about the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

c) Students organise and/or produce materials relevant to the content for a prepared/unprepared writing task, appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

ENG.6.7.W4. Students can individually construct/form content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students present appropriate and accurate materials for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current theme according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students use appropriate discourse forms, styles, and rules relevant to the assigned writing type for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

c) Students use target words and grammatical language chunks accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current content by selecting them according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

d) Students express important messages in the written current content to the reader accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

ENG.6.7.W5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information in the new written tasks about the "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information in the current content or similar information in a different content by internalising and selecting it individually and reorganising it as required and meaningfully in different contexts.

b) Students exchange information/ideas in written communication by sharing reconstructed meaningful knowledge meaningfully with others.

ENG.6.7.W6. Students can reflect on their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the writing-expression process about the current content, "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the current writing-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the writing-expression process about the current content with others.

c) Students produce new written products related to the current writing-expression content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.7.S1. Students can get ready for speaking-expression process about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students make connections with the current content by activating their pre-existing knowledge and experiences that they have recalled in the listening (to)/watching/reading sections previously.

ENG.6.7.S2. Students can use the model/example for producing verbal content about the current content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions".

a) Students listen (to)/watch/read the model/example for the current content with the help of audio/visual/written elements.

ENG.6.7.S3. Students can organise a new verbal content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students recognise what form and type of content is expected and assigned for prepared/unprepared speaking situations based on audio/visual/written content as provided in the model/example.

b) Students organise the content for prepared/unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate and accurate way as they have heard/seen/read in the model/example.

c) Students develop a draft for prepared/unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to the age and language level as presented in the model/sample content.

d) Students organise supplementary audio/visual/written materials for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to age and language level, as provided in the model/sample content.

e) Students organise the information about the current content to be presented for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate way as required.

ENG.6.7.S4. Students can construct a new verbal content on "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students use target pronunciation, vocabulary, language chunks, and forms of discourse related to the current content effectively by selecting them accurately and appropriately for prepared/unprepared speaking situations.

b) Students present individually prepared content in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for prepared speaking situations clearly, efficiently, and appropriately.

c) Students present individually prepared information in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for unprepared speaking situations.

d) Students express the message about the current content clearly to the reader by using all supplementary elements and body language in an appropriate and accurate way in context for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.6.7.S5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information about the "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information presented in the current content by reorganising it appropriately, efficiently, individually, and verbally in different contexts.

b) Students engage in appropriate and efficient verbal communication by sharing the reconstructed meaningful information about the current content with others.

ENG.6.7.S6. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the speaking-expression process about the current content, "life in nature and global problems with activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" to communicate with other people in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the speaking-expression process about the current content with others.

CONTENT FRAME

LIFE IN NATURE & GLOBAL PROBLEMS

Sub-themes: activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions

Target Vocabulary in Use (with revisional vocabulary):

Vocabulary for activities in nature: An adventure, sailing, snowboarding, hiking, rafting, climbing.
Verbs: To camp, to cycle, to fish, to plant, to run, to sail, to ski, to ride, to pick.
Adverbs: High.
Vocabulary for environmental problems in the world and solutions: A danger, an effect, energy, heat, pollution, rubbish, smoke, rubbish.
Verb: To destroy, to increase, to prevent, to protect, to realize, to recycle, to reduce, to remove, to replace, to save, to solve.
Adjective: Plastic, reusable.
Preposition: Against.
Adverbs: Little, less, least, mostly.
National and Religious Days, Festivals, and Celebrations: "29 October Republic Day", "23 April National Sovereignty and Children's Day", "19 May Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day", "15 July Democracy and National Unity Day", "30 August Victory Day", "Eid al-Fitr (Eid-al-Ramadan)", "Festival of Sacrifice (Eid-al-Adha)".
*(Relevant language content and (communicative) activities related to these national and religious days, festivals, and celebrations will be developed and integrated across all themes and in all appropriate sections wherever and whenever possible.)
Local Cultural, Social, and Moral Considerations of the Theme
In this theme, specific examples, cases, situations, events, and practices reflecting Turkish social, cultural, and moral customs, traditions, and heritage will be included across all sub-themes. This consideration will be age-and-level appropriate and selected with the Turkish learners' social and cultural context in mind. A table for this section is provided in the introduction to the whole English Language Curriculum.

Target Grammatical Structures in Use:

-The Simple Past Tense: (People mostly ignored the importance of recycling).
-Question tags for The Simple Past Tense (irregular verbs): (Energy consumption became less sustainable over the years, didn't it?)
-Must and have to for obligation: (We must reduce plastic waste to protect marine life).

Functions of the Grammatical Structures in Use:

-Use of The Simple Past Tense: Expressing actions, events, or situations that started and finished at a specific time in the past.
-Use of Question tags for The Simple Past Tense (irregular verbs): Confirming information or asking for agreement about past actions.
-Use of "must and have to" for obligation: Expressing strong obligation or necessity, often related to rules, responsibilities, or urgent actions.

Target Social Language in Use:

I'm going to go hiking, nature's calling!
My dad has green fingers, his garden looks amazing!
She's wild about protecting nature!

Target Phonological Sounds in Use:
q, r, s, t, u
u: (/juː/, /ʌ/, /juː/)
Consonants: q: (/kjuː/); r: (/ɑː/(BrE.), /r/ (AmE.)); s: (/s/, /ɛs/, /z/); t: (/tiː/, /t/)

*(Phonetic symbols will not be taught. Only sounds will be practised through the target words in the theme.)

Generalisations/Principles/Key Concepts

Generalisations

The target concept of this theme "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" is present in almost all languages. People who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge with them and transfer it to their new language learning. For instance, a lower-secondary school student will know what "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" means but will not know how to say them in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. However, this existing knowledge in their own language will help them recognise, understand, and learn the new information more easily in a foreign language, in this case, English.

Key Concepts:

activities, nature, activities in nature; environment, environmental problems, environmental problems in the world, solutions to the environmental problems

INDICATORS FOR LEARNING (Assessment and Evaluation)

EVALUATION FOR THE SKILLS AND THE CONTENT:

PERFORMANCE ASSIGNMENT: Students will write a short report about an environmental problem in the world or in their neighbourhood. First, they will search for environmental problems and choose one of them. Then, they will write sentences suggesting possible solutions to this problem. The paragraphs may include quotes. Finally, they will read the reports in the classroom loudly. They should focus on the pronunciation and intonation, too. The paragraphs may be displayed on an online noticeboard. The assignment will be evaluated by using a rubric scheme, a rating scale, and/or a marking scheme.

LEARNING-TEACHING EXPERIENCES

Basic Acceptations: Preparedness/ Readiness

This theme is based on the students' knowledge of "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions". As they are lower secondary school students in year 6 (six), they can know what "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" mean in their own language as it is known that almost all people who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge (in their own language) with them and transfer it to their new language learning context. However, they may not know how to say these things in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. Fortunately, this existing knowledge in their own language can help them recognise, understand, and learn them more easily in a foreign language, in this case English.

As they are students in year 6 of lower secondary school, they can know some basic vocabulary about "life in nature and global problems" and also some necessary structures in English from the previous themes and/or years. These grammar items and vocabulary are revised during the "Revision Programme" at the beginning of the year, and they can be used as a basis for learning the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme, so that the new grammatical elements in the current theme can be learnt easily.

Pre-Evaluation Process

It is expected that students' physical, cognitive, affective, and social factors are appropriate and suitable for learning about the "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions". Recalling and practising with relevant vocabulary and grammatical items in English that they have learnt in the previous years would be helpful as a basis for moving on and learning the current content on the concept of "life in nature and global problems". Therefore, a dialogue game can be played to revise all vocabulary and language grammar items from the themes in previous years by giving instructions in English as a preparation practice. In this way, their performance can be evaluated by seeing how much they remember and how much they are able to understand and use the previously learnt vocabulary and grammatical items to build their competence in the current theme. It can be decided what to emphasise or practise in order to revise the previous knowledge and to facilitate the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme. (Their performance can be evaluated by rubrics throughout these practices).

Establishing Links

Students can recall the current (theme) concept of "life in nature and global problems" and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" by remembering their pre-existing background knowledge about it (imaginatively through thinking) in their own language to make links with the current activities in the current theme in English without translating anything until they start learning the target words in the current (new) concept in English.

To remind them of the pre-existing background knowledge they already have about the current concept, various materials such as short scene from a film, series, a part from a story, a poster etc. which is appropriate to the age, level, and pedagogy could be used before the main teaching/learning flow of the class begins. They would give a general idea of the theme. Students are facilitated with the relevant materials through various activities. When they have finished working on it, the teacher asks them in English if they understood what it was about. For checking their understanding, she/he can design several activities. For instance, they can write a related word that they know in English on a piece of paper and put it in the jar/box that she/he has prepared. Alternative ways can be tried.

The teacher asks them to wait for it until they see the next visual, which is the main entry material of the theme, the digital introductory story, to see if their thoughts/guesses are true or not without asking any further questions.

Learning-Teaching Practices

WARM-UP TO THE WHOLE THEME (WELL-BEING)

Before starting to work on the theme "life in nature and global problems " in the classroom, to prepare the students emotionally, cognitively, psychologically, and physically, a fun non-theme warm-up activity can be done as an icebreaker to help the students feel positive and ready for the whole learning process in class for their well-being. This could be an activity such as a short game, a physical activity, listening to/singing a song/chant/rhyme, doing a riddle, solving a puzzle, saying a tongue twister, listening to an anecdote/a very short story, watching a pantomime/cartoon story, etc. that has no relation or connection to the current theme and does not require any knowledge of English (D2.5, SELS2.1, V12.1, LS2, LS4).

INTEGRATION OF LANGUAGE SKILLS IN THE THEME

All language skills (listening/watching-comprehension, reading-comprehension, speaking-expression, writing-expression, vocabulary selection and use, grammar selection and use, pronunciation selection and use) are used in an integrated way around "life in nature and global problems " and sub-themes "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions", allowing students to build background knowledge through receptive skills before moving on to productive tasks throughout the theme. They are combined in a meaningful and purposeful way and are integrated to support the learning outcomes of the theme. Although they are sequenced from receptive to productive in the teaching-learning practices, they are always used in a closely linked way that means each activity builds on the previous one to promote language development and to increase communicative competence. The theme is characterised by a balanced integration of all the skills, where students engage with input (listening/watching-comprehension and reading-comprehension) and respond through output (speaking-expression and writing-expression) with the help of their vocabulary, grammar and phonological selection and use skills.

ENG6.7.L1.

PREPARING FOR LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: Having seen a visual about and having guessed the topic of "life in nature and global problems " during the background recall session, students can have a vision of the current theme as a general concept in the current (new) theme (D3.2, SELS1.1, V3.2, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3,LS1, LS4, CS2.11, CS2.16.2). So, a further concept check with listening/watching for gist activities including more guessing games using clues from some pictures, realia, short video clips etc. help them prepare for the current theme (CS2.6, CS2.8). For each theme, a digitally constructed story is used as the main context of the theme, and it is visited several times while going through the theme to cover target pronunciation, vocabulary, grammar, social language expressions, and semantic meaning of the whole theme (CS2.14). It is both an entry material and the main context to the whole theme at the same time. The teacher asks them whether their guesses during the background recall session were correct and also what they think the introductory digital story that they are going to watch could be about (CS2.8). As they have already seen a scene from a film about the theme and the pictures, realia, etc. they can easily answer what the current theme will be about and that their guesses were true (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, D3.2, SELS1.2, V3.3, V3.4, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, LS2, LS4, CS2.10, CS2.17).

ENG6.7.L2.

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING: The teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story carefully, recalling the work done with visuals (the scene from a film, pictures, realia, or video clips about the theme shown earlier) (CS2.11). Students watch the introductory digital story to consolidate the identification of the theme "life in nature and global problems " in it as a whole (CS2.13) without stopping the video at any point, so that the students can understand the theme holistically (D3.2, SELS1.1, V3.3, V3.4, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, LS2, LS4, CS2.14,CS2.16.2).

ENG6.7.L3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: To draw students' attention to the content, some realia brought into the classroom by the teacher could be used (V5.2, V5.3, V18.3). The teacher could show the corresponding objects to the students when the corresponding vocabulary for the main components of the theme "life in nature and global problems " is mentioned in the introductory digital story, without stopping the video while the students watch the story (CS2.6). When they have watched the whole story, the teacher could show the realia items on the table and ask questions with two options (CS2.5). As one of the words is from the previous themes, students could hear, understand, recognise and learn the (new) target vocabulary for each main component of the theme easily (CS2.1). In this way, the teacher could engage in a dialogue with the whole class to check that they have recognised the components of the theme, and that they have understood each realia item is about one component (CS2.8). Further activities and games can be played at this stage to reinforce the general meaning of the theme through its main components (D1.1, D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

To check whether the students understand the general topic of the theme "life in nature and global problems" and remember the sequence of the scenes of the introductory digital story, the teacher shows an organiser with the mixed images/pictures of the scenes on the Smart Board and asks the students to look at the images/pictures of the scenes for a while (CS2.3). She/He then asks them to order the scenes in pairs in their seats with the mixed paper pictures she/he has already given to the students (SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, LS1, LS4, LS6). When the pairs have finished sorting the pictures for the scenes of the story, the teacher asks the students to take turns or volunteer to sort the scenes on the screen of the Smart Board (or the pictures on the blackboard) (SELS1.2, CS2.6, CS2.10). This will help the students to organise the story as a whole so that they can identify the main theme and the components of the theme from their memories (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, V16.3, V20.4, CS2.12).

ENG6.7.L4.

REFLECTING ON THE LISTENING/ WATCHING PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole listening-watching process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3, V3.4). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3,V12.1, LS5, LS6). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V10.3).

ENG6.7.P1.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: To practise pronunciation of the new target words, word groups, language chunks, and social language expressions about the theme "life in nature and global problems" and the words and/or word groups for the sub-themes "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions", the teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch the whole or some extracts from the introductory digital story by noticing how words are pronounced (V3.3, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, LS4, CS2.6). She/He asks them to repeat the word aloud when she/he stops the video for a word and says it. The teacher then asks the students to listen and repeat the same words aloud a few times as a whole class after listening to the recordings that she/he has prepared beforehand using some Web 2.0 programmes (LS2, CS2.16.3). The teacher could offer variations with some techniques such as showing the picture of the target word to the students to say the word or pointing to the corresponding picture when they hear the word from the recording, and then both (CS2.8). To help the students pronounce the words accurately, the teacher asks them to repeat each target word aloud a few times as a whole class after her/him or the recording, then in large groups, then in small groups and then again as volunteers (D3.2, D3.6, SELS1.2, SELS2.1, V4.2, V20.4, LS1, CS2.14).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Practice of pronunciation could be done with different forms of TPR, gamification and drama activities, e.g. first the teacher says the target words/word groups for the sub-themes "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" the students listen (CS2.9); then the teacher says the target words/word groups and acts them out, the students repeat after her/him (SELS2.1, CS2.14). Then the teacher and the students say the target words/word groups and act them out together at the same time. Then the teacher says the words/word groups and acts them out. These activities can be done through the actions for the sub-themes (D2.3, D2.5, V3.3, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3). As a variation, they can also repeat the words after the teacher happily, sadly, angrily, etc. using different tones of voice (SELS2.3, CS2.8, CS2.11). They also practise for the target social language chunks using the same or similar techniques. During the repetitions, they point to relevant pictures that the teacher has placed in different places in the classroom (CS2.12). Some action sequences are also created in which the students can practise the social language in a fun way by repeating, pointing, miming, and acting out in several games (SELS2.1, V7.2, LS5, LS6, LS9). The teacher facilitates some activities with dialogues and games in which students can practice the target pronunciation by selecting and using them accurately, naturally, and authentically (CS3.1). Several fun pronunciation games could be played, such as shadow reading, bingo, odd one out, pronunciation maze, minimal pairs, rhyming games, and several sound drills (SELS2.2). The target sounds such as vowels, consonants, and diphthongs of the theme are practised through them (CS2.13). Their learning is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D1.2, D1.6, D2.5, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

ENG6.7.R1

PREPARATION FOR THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS: The teacher facilitates reading and writing activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end, when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount. Reading starts from earlier stages and continues throughout the theme in various forms and amounts. Reading is done in two ways in the theme by using the written version of the introductory digital story and additional reading texts in reading sections of the instructional material to be used (V3.2, LS2, LS4). Various reading styles including silent reading, speed reading, jigsaw reading and basic reading techniques including skimming, scanning, and reading for details during pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading phases are used in the theme (V3.4, LS1, CS2.3, CS2.6). The ultimate aim of reading practice is to enhance comprehension, improve fluency, develop pre-critical thinking skills and critical thinking skills and the ability to comprehend and talk/write about the content in a meaningful and communicative way (V3.3, V7.2, LS5, CS3.3). For the initial stage of reading, the teacher asks the students to look at the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, title of the text, written words) surrounding the written version of the contextual introductory story or a new text in the reading section of the instructional material to be used for skimming to recall the conceptual meanings they already have about the theme (CS2.8). At this stage, the teacher could ask the students to read the title of the theme and ask the students which words they already know, and which come to mind in connection with the title (SELS1.1, CS2.16.2). She/He reminds them not to ask the meanings of any new words or the words they do not know. She/He reminds them that this is just a guessing activity by using the words they know and that there is time to work on the new words of the new theme later (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, CS2.10, CS2.12).

ENG6.7.R2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH READING: Students go on with a scanning activity to find out the most important details of the introductory digital story and/or a new text in the reading section which is organised to help students to know more about the reading content (CS2.6, CS2.7). In this way they could be able to recognise the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story (CS2.4). By doing so, they will be able to understand the story/text in general using the main elements (D3.2, D3.6, V3.3, V3.4, LS1).

ENG6.7.R3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH READING: Then the teacher asks the students to do a jigsaw reading activity, so she/he shows the written version of the introductory digital story or the text in the reading section on the blackboard/Smart Board (or in any other teaching material). She/He asks the students to work in pairs to share the text (SELS2.2). One peer reads the first half of the text and the second peer reads the other half of the text in a given time (CS2.6). They are then asked to share what they have understood from their part with their peer, also in a given time. In this way, they talk about the whole story after reading it silently, in the jigsaw reading style (D2.4, D3.6, V3.4, V4.2, V16.2, LS1, LS6,CS2.8, CS2.9). Some speed-reading activities can be used to develop students' reading and comprehension skills. These activities can be evaluated as explained in the item (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. After sharing their parts, students proceed with the activities for dealing with the target vocabulary, grammatical chunks, and semantic meaning relatively with the help of the teacher (CS2.14). For dealing with the semantic meaning, the teacher facilitates the lesson with meaningful activities including closed, semi-closed, free, open-ended, and communicative ones (SELS2.1). From display to communicative open-ended, various types of questions are used to understand the meaning of the text (SELS3.1, SELS3.2, CS2.6). During this process students work collaboratively to exchange information, thoughts, and feelings (D3.2, D3.7, V3.3, V7.2, V20.2, LS2, LS4, CS2.8).

ENG6.7.R4.

REFLECTING ON THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole reading-comprehension process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (D2.3, D3.5, V4.2, V6.2, V10.3, V12.1, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.7.V1.

PREPARATION TO WORK ON THE TARGET VOCABULARY: At this stage, students remember what the theme is about through the activities that they have done during the background knowledge, pre-listening/watching, and pre-reading sessions (SELS1.1). As they know the main topic, they get ready to deal with the main components and target vocabulary of the theme (V3.2, LS1).

RECOGNITION OF THE TARGET VOCABULARY: A scanning activity to find out the main details of the introductory digital story (and/or a new text in the reading section) is organised to help students to know more about the content. This could help them identify what the target words in the text could be about. The activity could be designed by listing some important pictures, words or events about the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story. In this way, they will be able to understand the story/text in general by using the main elements and also be ready to work on the target vocabulary items (D3.2, D3.6, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.7). Then the students read the written version of the digital story again silently, (or the reading text in the reading section), to check whether they know any of the target vocabulary items about the theme (V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, CS2.8). They underline the words whose meaning they do not know while reading silently (CS2.17). Students say these words when they finish reading and the teacher writes these words on the Smart Board/blackboard/ white board as they say them. The teacher writes only the target words on the Smart Board/blackboard as active words that the students have said. She/He quickly deals with the non-target passive vocabulary items by using pictures, mimics, gestures, imitations, examples, etc. But she/he takes time to facilitate the teaching of the target words (D1.2, D1.6, D3.2, V3.3, V3.4, LS2, LS4,CS2.4, CS2.5, CS2.7).
To introduce and practise the meanings of the target vocabulary related to the theme, that the students do not know, the teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story (or the video of the reading text if there is one) again. From the beginning, whenever a target item is mentioned, the teacher stops the video and asks several questions in the form of two options, one of which is a word from the previous themes that they already know (V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, CS2.16.1, CS2.6). By guessing what they are, the students hear the English equivalents of the words for the theme and they answer as a whole class in chorus. In this way, they are introduced to the meanings of the target words (D1.2, D1.6,D3.7, CS2.10). This is conducted in the form of a dialogue where their learning can be checked as described in items (SELS2.1) (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. (V3.3, V3.4, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, LS1,LS2, LS4). After having watched the introductory digital story, the teacher shows some pictures for the sub-themes, on the walls as clues and says the words aloud several times in sentences by pointing to the pictures and the students repeat after her/him (D2.3, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3 CS2.6, CS2.11). In this way, the main vocabulary items of the theme are introduced to the students in English as described in item (3) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V5.2, V5.3, V18.3).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: The teacher can prepare an activity using the Web 2.0 programme with images/pictures, and symbolic images for some categories about the components of the theme "life in nature and global problems". She/He also prepares mixed images/pictures for target vocabulary

items for the activities which can be done in relation to the components. She/He asks the students to look at the mixed pile of images/pictures of the main components of the theme on the Smart Board screen and scan them for a while to remember them (V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, CS2.4). She/He explains to the students that the items will be placed under the correct category, but first she/he gives the students the cut-out pictures of the activities and a large sheet of paper with the categories written on it and the cut-out pictures will be placed under each category correctly (V3.3, L2, LS4, CS2.5). The teacher asks them to work in pairs and place the cut-out pictures in the right category and ask each other some questions about the theme (D3.2, D3.8, SELS2.2, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3). When the students have finished working with the cut-out pictures and asking and answering questions about them, the teacher asks them to take turns or volunteer to go to the Smart Board and drag the corresponding images/pictures under the right category on the screen (SELS1.2, V3.4, V20.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.5). In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the main concept and its components are consolidated through categorisation. This activity can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology. The teacher asks the students to copy the words next to the pictures they have pasted or drawn in their picture dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their picture dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling (D3.2, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V6.2, LS9). To consolidate the meaning, selection, and use of the new target vocabulary items, the teacher could organise activities and tasks using pictures, flashcards, sounds, realia, and any other materials to play games such as Bingo, Pelmanism, King's game, Odd One out, Wordscapes, Scrabble, Pictionary, Letter Scramble, Acronyms, Charades etc. Games could be adapted according to the teacher's objectives (pronunciation, spelling, meaning, selection, use etc.), age, interests and language level of the students (CS2.13). Students can be asked to create their own games to use the target vocabulary items in context (D2.5, D.3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2, V4.2, V4.4, V7.2, V5.2, V5.3,V18.3 LS9, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked as described in items (3), and (4) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.7.G1

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS: To draw the students' attention to the target language chunks of the theme "life in nature and global problems", the introductory digital story or an extract from it played so that the students can notice the target language chunks (D3.2, CS2.2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the target language chunks are used. She/He imitates the action by showing the scene, saying the chunk, and asking the students to do the same (V3.2, LS2, CS2.14). She/He could hold up large pictures corresponding to the chunks when they are mentioned in the digital story to draw the students' attention. The sentences with the target chunks are also written and placed on the Smart Board/blackboard/ whiteboard. The teacher also points to these sentences while pointing to the scenes in the story where they appear. There is no analysis or teaching of grammatical structures at this stage. Students can automatically and naturally identify the use of the target language chunks in the current context created in the introductory digital story without working on any rules or structures (SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.3, CS2.4, CS2.16.2). To check the students' identification of the target language chunks, after the students have finished watching the introductory digital story, the teacher asks them to read the sentences with the target language chunks written by the teacher on the Smart Board /blackboard/whiteboard and asks them to find the same or similar sentences in the written version of the introductory digital story or another text that is shown on the Smart Board (D3.2, SELS3.2, V3.3). She/He also asks them to find the same or similar sentences with these chunks which are given in different types of tables prepared by the teacher (CS2.7). These tables do not include any explanations of grammatical rules, explanations, or formulas, and they only contain example sentences with target chunks in which important words with the target grammar are written in bold or different colours to attract students' attention. The teacher asks them to look at the words in bold or in different colours and asks students to examine them (CS2.9). Then the teacher asks the students to copy these sentences with target chunks written in bold or different colours into their notebooks. The teacher asks the students to make very similar sentences using the target words and asks them to share their sentences with each other in pairs, and then with the class (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, D3.2, V4.2, CS2.13,CS2.14, CS2.16.1, CS2.16.2). Both the teacher and the class members give feedback to the students as they say their sentences (CS2.19). The teacher gives all students a checklist with simple symbols to evaluate each other's work as explained in the items (5) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, LS6).

SELECTION AND USE OF THE TARGET GRAMMAR: To facilitate students' further practice with the target language chunks in the theme "life in nature and global problems ", the teacher shows some other sentences with these chunks in another context such as a short story, a short paragraph, and a short dialogue etc. and asks students to find the sentences with the target chunks in them and asks if they understand them (SELS3.2, V3.3, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3,CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.8). She/He gives some written activities and exercises to practise the target chunks in context. She/He also facilitates more fun activities and as described in items (5), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. To consolidate the target language chunks, the teacher organises different fun activity and game bundles that the students can practise and consolidate them (CS2.13) where their learning can be checked as described in item (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D2.5, V4.4).

ENG6.7.W1.

PREPARATION FOR THE WRITING-EXPRESSION SESSION: Practising through writing: Writing activities help students to produce and display meaningful written language for their personal expression and communication with others, by using language including target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language in this theme, as in other themes (V3.2, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3).

ENG6.7.W2.

RECOGNISING THE MODEL: Initially, students produce very limited and short pieces of writing such as sentences to practise the language including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme "life in nature and global problems ". They practise the language in a more controlled way in the beginning, by writing to repeat or simply explain what they hear and see in context and what they are asked to do. They are provided a written model/example to copy to be able to notice significant points and elements in it (SELS3.1). While copying a short model writing, they become aware of the aspects such as the use of words, language chunks, punctuation, spelling and so on (D3.1, V3.4, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.16.3).

ENG6.7.W3.

CREATING THE WRITING CONTENT: Controlled writing of words and sentences turns to short paragraphs in a process writing manner with the support of the teacher's feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported by several practical activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/ pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (D1.3, D3.1, SELS3.2,V3.4, V4.4, V7.2, LS2, LS4, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.7.W4.

CONSTRUCTING AND PRACTISING WRITING: Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice tasks. Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, projects, scripts for plays, diaries/journals, blogs, very short film scenarios, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.2, CS2.13). All the content is expected to be contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests and language level (V3.4, V7.2,V9.3, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9).

ENG6.7.W5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside or outside school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and the social language for the theme in their writing (SELS2.2, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, LS9, CS2.20). AI- based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways (D3.3, SELS3.2, SELS3.3,V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These activities are evaluated as described in items (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.7.W6.

REFLECTING ON THE WRITING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole writing-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (D1.5, SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.7.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end. Speaking activities enhance students' learning and help them produce and display meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language expressions of the theme (V3.2, V3.4, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3).

ENG6.7.S2

RECOGNISING AND USING THE MODEL: In the beginning, through listening/watching and reading, students recognise how the language with the target language items is used (CS2.6). They practise the language in a controlled way, by telling, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context (D1.3, D3.2, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.4).

ENG6.7.S3

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons after controlled practice sessions, the teacher creates new contexts in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues etc. as new opportunities for the students to talk about them for practising further through questions, explanations, inferences etc (D1.3, SELS3.2, V3.4, V4.2, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13).

ENG6.7.S4.

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN MATERIALS: Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V4.2,V5.2, V5.3, V18.3, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D1.2, D1.6, D3.3, V7.2,LS2, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.7.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students communicate with each other by seeing/hearing/reading/using the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme "life in nature and global problems" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.3, CS2.20). Picture strip stories can be used at the end of each theme to provide a consolidation and revision (V3.4, V4.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13, CS2.14). These new contents created are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used together with other further speaking practice throughout the theme. Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme and its components such as "activities in nature; environmental problems in the world and solutions" (V3.4, V4.2, V5.2, V5.3, V18.3 LS4, CS3.1, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.3, V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These are evaluated as described in items (7), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Then they can expand their language use and practise by communicating with others.

ENG6.7.S6.

REFLECTING ON THE SPEAKING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole speaking-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To practise strong obligations in real-life urgent situations in English by encouraging teamwork, problem-solving and critical thinking.

Activity 1: Mission: Rescue Operations

The teacher divides students into small teams or pairs, depending on the number of students in class and tells them that they are members of an emergency response team, and their job is to manage various urgent situations that require quick thinking and strict rules. Their task is to come up with the actions they must take to handle the situations. She/He assigns each group different mission scenarios that are urgent and require critical thinking. She/He provides them with scenario cards or describes a situation for them to react to. Scenario Examples: Scenario 1: A fire has broken out in a building. What must the people inside do? What must the fire fighters do?; Scenario 2: A group of students is lost in the mountains. What must they do to survive? What must the rescue team do to find them?; Scenario 3: A school bus has broken down on a busy road. What must the driver do? What do the students need to do for safety?; Scenario 4: There is a leak in a chemical plant. What must the workers do? What must be done immediately to avoid a disaster? In their groups, students discuss the steps they must take in their situation. After the discussion, each group presents their scenario and explains what must be done to resolve the situation. After each presentation, she/he encourages the rest of the class to ask questions and to give feedback. For example, "What must the rescue team do first?", "Why must you wear protective gear?" or "What else do you have to prepare?". She/He encourages students to reflect on the use of target grammar. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

Supporting

Objective*:* To practise strong obligations in real-life urgent situations in English by encouraging teamwork, problem-solving and critical thinking.

Activity 1: Mission: Rescue Operations

The teacher divides students into small teams or pairs, depending on the number of students in class and tells them that they are members of an emergency response team, and their job is to manage various urgent situations that require quick thinking and strict rules. Their task is to come up with the actions they must take to handle the situations. She/He assigns each group different mission scenarios that are urgent and require critical thinking. She/He provides them with scenario cards or describes a situation for them to react to. Scenario Examples: Scenario 1: A fire has broken out in a building. What must the people inside do? What must the firefighters do?; Scenario 2: A group of students is lost in the mountains. What must they do to survive? What must the rescue team do to find them?; Scenario 3: A school bus has broken down on a busy road. What must the driver do? What do the students need to do for safety?; Scenario 4: There is a leak in a chemical plant. What must the workers do? What must be done immediately to avoid a disaster? In their groups, students discuss the steps they must take in their situation. The teacher provides a list of key verbs and phrases (e.g., "call, stay calm, evacuate, contact, protect, warn, help"). She also offers sentence starters to help them form responses like, "We must _____", "They need to _____", "You have to _____". In their groups, students discuss the steps they must take in their situation. After the discussion, each group presents their scenario and explains what must be done to resolve the situation. After each presentation, she/he asks students to create a "responsibility ladder" where they list the actions or tasks in their scenario from most urgent (what must be done immediately) to least urgent (what must be done next). Each group discusses their list and she/he encourages students to reflect on the use of target grammar. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

TEACHER REFLECTIONS

FOR MORE TEACHER REFLECTIONS SCAN THE QR CODE.

THEME 8: LIFE IN THE UNIVERSE & FUTURE

Sub-themes: Planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future

This theme is centred on the concept of "life in the universe and future" and covers the sub-themes of "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

CLASS HOURS 10

FIELD SKILLS AND SUPPORTIVE SKILLS
FLFS1. Listening/Watching-Comprehension
FLFS2. Reading-Comprehension
FLFS3. Speaking-Expression
FLFS4. Writing-Expression
FLSS1. Grammaring: Selection and Use
FLSS2. Vocabulary: Selection and Use
FLSS3. Pronunciation: Selection and Use

CONCEPTUAL SKILLS _

DISPOSITIONS D1.1. Curiosity, D1.2. Independence, D1.3. Perseverance and Determination, D1.5. Self-Confidence, D1.6. Selectivity, D2.3. Assertiveness, D2.4. Trust, D2.5. Playfulness, D3.1. Reasoning, D3.2. Focus, D3.3.Creativity, D3.5. Open-Mindedness, D3.6. Analyticalness, D3.7. Being Systematic, D3.8.Questioning

INTERCURRICULAR COMPONENTS

Social-Emotional Learning Skills: SELS1.1. Self-Awareness Skill, SELS1.2. Self-Regulation Skill, SELS1.3. Self-Reflection Skill, SELS2.1. Communication Skill, SELS2.2. Cooperation Skill, SELS2.3. Social Awareness Skill, SELS3.1. Adaptability Skill, SELS3.2. Flexibility Skill, SELS3.3. Responsible Decision-Making Skill

Values: V1. Justice, V3. Diligence, V4. Friendship, V5. Sensitivity, V6. Honesty, V7. Aesthetics, V9. Compassion, V10. Modesty, V11. Independence, V12. Patience, V13. Healthy Living, V14. Respect, V16. Responsibility, V19. Patriotism, V20. Benevolence

Literacy Skills: LS1. Information Literacy, LS2. Digital Literacy, LS4. Visual Literacy, LS5. Cultural Literacy, LS6. Civic Literacy, LS7. Data Literacy, LS9. Art Literacy

INTERDISCIPLINARY RELATIONS Turkish, Maths, Social Studies, Physical Education and Sports, Visual Arts, Music, Information Technologies and Software

INTERSKILLS CS2.1. Conflict Resolution Skill, CS2.2. Observation Skill, CS2.3. Summarising Skill, CS2.4. Analysis Skill, CS2.5. Classification Skill, CS2.6. Information Gathering Skill, CS2.7. Comparison Skill, CS2.8. Inquiry Skill, CS2.9. Generalisation Skill, CS2.10. Inference Skill, CS2.11. Observation-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.12. Data-Based Prediction Skill, CS2.13. Structuring Skill, CS2.14. Interpretation Skill, CS2.15. Reflective Thinking Skill, CS2.16.1. Inductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.2. Deductive Reasoning Skill, CS2.16.3. Analogical Reasoning Skill, CS2.17. Evaluation Skill, CS2.19. Logical Auditing Skill, CS2.20. Synthesis Skill, CS3.1. Decision-Making Skill, CS3.3. Critical Thinking Skill

Year 6 is structured based on semi-holistic/semi-inductive approach.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.6.8.L1. Students can get ready for the listening/watching-comprehension process for the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" carefully.

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience related to the current theme and content by recalling their background knowledge imaginatively in her/his own language without speaking it.

b) Students identify significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge and experiences and the clues to the current content without translation.

c) Students make predictions about the current content on "life in the universe and future" by using the relationships that they recognised accurately by looking at the provided realia, pictures, and context.

d) Students make predictions about the current content based on the surrounding audio/visual elements in relation to the current theme.

ENG.6.8.L2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" together through significant details and main components while listening/watching it.

a) Students comprehend the topic of the current content by listening (to)/watching it as a whole.

b) Students recognise the significant details and components within the whole current content by listening (to) and watching it again in a careful manner.

ENG.6.8.L3. Students can make meaning of/derive meaning from the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" through significant details by listening/watching it carefully.

a) Students check any initial predictions related to the current content by being aware of the commonalities between self-predictions and clues provided as visuals surrounding the current content.

b) Students make important and necessary classifications in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

c) Students make important and necessary comparisons in the current content that help them to understand it better with details.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships (if any) within the generally perceived current content with the help of classifications and comparisons made earlier.

e) Students make significant inferences that contribute to the understanding of the meaning of the generally perceived current content.

f) Students construct the meaning of the current content in detail through the classifications/comparisons/inferences made earlier in relation to it.

g) Students internalise the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.8.L4. Students can convey their knowledge, experience, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully about the whole listening/watching-comprehension process in relation to the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content.

b) Students convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the listening/watching-comprehension process about the current content by sharing them with others.

ENG.6.8.P1. Students can select and use the target phonological elements of the current content about "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes and use it in an appropriate and effective way when communicating with others.

a) Students listen to the current content by paying attention to the target phonological aspects including pronunciation and intonation of utterances.

b) Students reinforce the target phonological elements by repeating them after the source several times as a whole class, in groups and individually.

c) Students recognise the target phonological elements of the current content when they are heard in different contexts.

d) Students recognise target phonological elements specific to the current content when they are heard in different contexts and use them accurately, authentically, and naturally through spontaneous decision-making processes.

e) Students use the target theme-specific phonological elements of the current content appropriately, spontaneously and effectively when communicating with others.

ENG.6.8.R1. Students can get ready for the reading-comprehension process about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and past experiences related to the current theme and content efficiently.

b) Students recognise significant relationships between their pre-existing knowledge, past experiences and clues to the current content.

c) Students make significant preliminary predictions about the current content based on recognised relationships.

d) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by exploring the audio-visual clues surrounding it.

ENG.6.8.R2. Students can bring information about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" through skimming (looking quickly at) the audio-visual elements and reading the content very quickly.

a) Students review the current content by looking at the surrounding audio/visual materials to identify what it is about in general through skimming.

b) Students read the current content to scan the major components silently and quickly with the help of the clues provided.

c) Students carefully read the current content silently and carefully to find significant details and components belonging to the theme.

ENG.6.8.R3. Students can make meaning of / derive meaning from the current content about "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" by reading it carefully.

a) Students carefully check the current content in detail for the accuracy of initial and detailed predictions that are made earlier.

b) Students classify the significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

c) Students compare significant elements of the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

d) Students recognise significant horizontal/vertical/spiral relationships within the current content that contribute to the perception of the content in a meaningful way.

e) Students make meaningful inferences from the information in the current content by examining it carefully.

f) Students internalise the information in the current content in an individualised and appropriate way according to age and language level.

ENG.6.8.R4. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the reading-comprehension process about the current content, "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

b) Students convey the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that have been carefully examined in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process by sharing them with others.

c) Students produce new products related to the current reading-comprehension content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.8.V1. Students can select and use the target vocabulary of the current content about "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students guess the main topic of the current content from the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, written words) in the contextual material by listening (to)/watching/reading it several times for recognition.

b) Students recognise sub-themes/key components of the target words to which they belong in the current content by scanning.

c) Students recognise the target words related to the main components of the current content with the help of the audio/visual/written elements and other clues.

d) Students repeat aloud the relevant target key components and target vocabulary in the current content with the whole class, in groups, and then individually together with or after listening (to)/watching/reading the source material.

e) Students recognise the use of target words and expressions in the current content by making various guesses with the help of supplementary elements.

f) Students make context-appropriate selections automatically by associating target words with their pre-existing conceptual meanings in the mind without analysing their contextual meaning in detail.

g) Students use the target words spontaneously and appropriately in different communicative contexts by being aware of their differences when communicating with others.

ENG.6.8.G1. Students can select and use the target grammatical elements of the current content about "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" accurately, authentically, spontaneously, and naturally and use it appropriately and effectively when communicating with others.

a) Students become familiar with the current content by listening (to)/watching/reading it a few times attentively.

b) Students listen (to)/watch/read the same content, attentively and mindfully, including the use of target grammatical chunks presented verbally in context with the help of body language.

c) Students verbally and automatically repeat simple and meaningful clauses/sentences containing target grammatical chunks that they have noticed in the current content that they have heard/viewed/read without explicit knowledge of the rules.

d) Students act out physically the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks in the current content heard/viewed/read by repeating them several times without knowing, analysing, and thinking about their rules.

e) Students see and read the example sentences containing target grammatical chunks provided for language awareness carefully.

f) Students gain awareness of clauses/sentences that contain target grammatical chunks that are presented for the purpose of raising language awareness.

g) Students recognise the clauses/sentences containing the target grammatical chunks when they encounter them by seeing and/or hearing them in different contexts.

h) Students use the recognised target grammatical chunks naturally, authentically, and automatically in new contextual tasks and activities without analysing their rules.

i) Students produce new and meaningful verbal/written content about the current theme by using the target grammatical chunks in meaningful tasks without knowing and analysing their rules.

j) Students use the target language chunks authentically, automatically, and naturally in communication processes without analysing their rules in meaningful contexts.

ENG.6.8.W1. Students can get ready for the writing-expression process about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students relate their pre-existing knowledge and experience used in the initial processes of writing-expression skills to the current content by activating them in relation with the current content.

b) Students understand what the writing task and its content are in relation to the current content correctly by making use of their pre-existing knowledge and experience as guided and assigned.

ENG.6.8.W2. Students can understand the model/example for the writing task about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students understand the components and details of the content in the provided model/sample which is displayed as a guide, by examining it carefully.

ENG.6.8.W3. Students can organise a content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" based on the model/example provided.

a) Students conduct preliminary research for a prepared writing situation according to the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students develop a simple draft for a prepared/or unprepared writing task about the current content appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

c) Students organise and/or produce materials relevant to the content for a prepared/unprepared writing task, appropriate to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

ENG.6.8.W4. Students can individually construct/form content for the assigned writing task on the current content "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students present appropriate and accurate materials for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current theme according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

b) Students use appropriate discourse forms, styles, and rules relevant to the assigned writing type for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

c) Students use target words and grammatical language chunks accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task about the current content by selecting them according to the assigned writing type, age, and language level.

d) Students express important messages in the written current content to the reader accurately and appropriately for a prepared and/or unprepared writing task.

ENG.6.8.W5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information in the new written tasks about the "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information in the current content or similar information in a different content by internalising and selecting it individually and reorganising it as required and meaningfully in different contexts.

b) Students exchange information/ideas in written communication by sharing reconstructed meaningful knowledge meaningfully with others.

ENG.6.8.W6. Students can reflect on their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the writing-expression process about the current content, "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the current writing-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings reviewed in relation to the writing-expression process about the current content with others.

c) Students produce new written products related to the current writing-expression content and process by revising their personal work carefully after participating in reflective activities.

ENG.6.8.S1. Students can get ready for speaking-expression process about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students make connections with the current content by activating their pre-existing knowledge and experiences that they have recalled in the listening (to)/watching/reading sections previously.

ENG.6.8.S2. Students can use the model/example for producing verbal content about the current content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future".

a) Students listen (to)/watch/read the model/example for the current content with the help of audio/visual/written elements.

ENG.6.8.S3. Students can organise a new verbal content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students recognise what form and type of content is expected and assigned for prepared/unprepared speaking situations based on audio/visual/written content as provided in the model/example.

b) Students organise the content for prepared/unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate and accurate way as they have heard/seen/read in the model/example.

c) Students develop a draft for prepared/unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to the age and language level as presented in the model/sample content.

d) Students organise supplementary audio/visual/written materials for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations, appropriate to age and language level, as provided in the model/sample content.

e) Students organise the information about the current content to be presented for prepared/or unprepared speaking situations in an appropriate way as required.

ENG.6.8.S4. Students can construct a new verbal content on "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" by speaking accurately, efficiently, and authentically.

a) Students use target pronunciation, vocabulary, language chunks, and forms of discourse related to the current content effectively by selecting them accurately and appropriately for prepared/unprepared speaking situations.

b) Students present individually prepared content in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for prepared speaking situations clearly, efficiently, and appropriately.

c) Students present individually prepared information in an accurate and efficient way as presented in the model/example for unprepared speaking situations.

d) Students express the message about the current content clearly to the reader by using all supplementary elements and body language in an appropriate and accurate way in context for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.6.8.S5. Students can reorganise (reconstruct) and use information about the "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" to communicate with other people.

a) Students use the information presented in the current content by reorganising it appropriately, efficiently, individually, and verbally in different contexts.

b) Students engage in appropriate and efficient verbal communication by sharing the reconstructed meaningful information about the current content with others.

ENG.6.8.S6. Students can convey their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings related to the speaking-expression process about the current content, "life in the universe and future with planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" to communicate with other people in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process.

b) Students share the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings examined carefully in relation to the speaking-expression process about the current content with others.