National and Religious Days, Festivals, and Celebrations: "29 October Republic Day", "23 April National Sovereignty and Children's Day", "19 May Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day", "15 July Democracy and National Unity Day", "30 August Victory Day", "Eid al-Fitr (Eid-al-Ramadan)", "Festival of Sacrifice (Eid-al-Adha)".
*(Relevant language content and (communicative) activities related to these national and religious days, festivals, and celebrations will be developed and integrated across all themes and in all appropriate sections wherever and whenever possible.)

Local Cultural, Social, and Moral Considerations of the Theme

In this theme, specific examples, cases, situations, events, and practices reflecting Turkish social, cultural, and moral customs, traditions, and heritage will be included across all sub-themes. This consideration will be age-and-level appropriate and selected with the Turkish learners' social and cultural context in mind. A table for this section is provided in the introduction to the whole English Language Curriculum.

Target Grammatical Structures in Use:

-Be going to Future Tense: (Scientists are going to build new space stations to study planets outside our solar system).
-The Simple Future Tense (prediction): (I think new planets will have conditions suitable for life).
-Question tags for future tenses: (The Earth will become warmer if we don't act quickly, won't it?)

Functions of the Grammatical Structures in Use:

-Use of "Be Going to Future" Tense: Expressing future plans, intentions, or something that is likely to happen based on present evidence.
-Use of the Simple Future Tense (prediction): Expressing predictions about what might happen in the future.
-Question tags for future tenses: Confirming information or asking for agreement in a sentence about the future.

Target Social Language in Use:

Is there a bright future ahead with new technologies?
We need to take care of our green planet! The new eco-cities give us a glimpse of future living!
Tomorrow's world will be different with new technologies!

Target Phonological Sounds in Use:

v, w, x, y, z

Consonants: v: (/viː/, /v/); w: (/w/); x: (/ɛks/, /ks/, /gz/); y: (/waɪ//waɪ//waɪ/, /j/, /ɪ/, /iː/); z: /zed/ (BrE.), /ziː/ (AmE.), /z/)

*(Phonetic symbols will not be taught. Only sounds will be practised through the target words in the theme).

Generalisations/Principles/Key Concepts

Generalisations

The target concept of this theme "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" is present in almost all languages. People who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge with them and transfer it to their new language learning. For instance, a lower-secondary school student will know what "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" means but will not know how to say them in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. However, this existing knowledge in their own language will help them recognise, understand, and learn the new information more easily in a foreign language, in this case, English.

Key Concepts

Planets, the Earth, the Earth as a planet; life on Earth, life on Earth in the future

INDICATORS FOR LEARNING (Assessment and Evaluation)

EVALUATION FOR THE SKILLS AND THE CONTENT:

PERFORMANCE ASSIGNMENT: Students will prepare a comic strip about the universe and imagine how life on Earth might change. First, they will learn about the planets in our solar system and what makes Earth unique. Then they will create a fun and creative comic strip with 6-8 panels showing their ideas about future life on Earth or other planets. In their comic strip, they can include new technologies, futuristic transportation, cool inventions, and how people interact with nature. They should use drawings, captions, and dialogue to tell the story. They can use Web 2.0 tools. The assignment will be evaluated by using a rubric scheme, a rating scale, and/or a marking scheme.

LEARNING-TEACHING EXPERIENCES

Basic Acceptations: Preparedness/ Readiness

This theme is based on the students' knowledge of "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future". As they are lower secondary school students in year 6 (six), they can know what "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" mean in their own language as it is known that almost all people who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge (in their own language) with them and transfer it to their new language learning context. However, they may not know how to say these things in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. Fortunately, this existing knowledge in their own language can help them recognise, understand, and learn them more easily in a foreign language, in this case English.

As they are students in year 6 of lower secondary school, they can know some basic vocabulary about "life in the universe and future" and also some necessary structures in English from the previous themes and/or years. These grammar items and vocabulary are revised during the "Revision Programme" at the beginning of the year, and they can be used as a basis for learning the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme, so that the new grammatical elements in the current theme can be learnt easily.

Pre-Evaluation Process

It is expected that students' physical, cognitive, affective, and social factors are appropriate and suitable for learning about the "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future". Recalling and practising with relevant vocabulary and grammatical items in English that they have learnt in the previous years would be helpful as a basis for moving on and learning the current content on the concept of "life in the universe and future". Therefore, a dialogue game can be played to revise all vocabulary and language chunks from the previous themes in previous years by giving instructions in English as a preparation practice. In this way, their performance can be evaluated by seeing how much they remember and how much they are able to understand and use the previously learnt vocabulary and chunks to build their competence in the current theme. It can be decided what to emphasise or practise in order to revise the previous knowledge and to facilitate the new vocabulary and chunks in the current theme. (Their performance can be evaluated by rubrics throughout these practices).

Establishing Links

Students can recall the current (theme) concept of "life in the universe and future" and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" by remembering their pre-existing background knowledge about it (imaginatively through thinking) in their own language to make links with the current activities in the current theme in English without translating anything until they start learning the target words in the current (new) concept in English.

To remind them of the pre-existing background knowledge they already have about the current concept, various materials such as short scene from a film, series, a part from a story, a poster etc. which is appropriate to the age, level, and pedagogy could be used before the main teaching/learning flow of the class begins. They would give a general idea of the theme. Students are facilitated with the relevant materials through various activities. When they have finished working on it, the teacher asks them in English if they understood what it was about. For checking their understanding, she/he can design several activities. For instance, they can write a related word that they know in English on a piece of paper and put it in the jar/box that she/he has prepared. Alternative ways can be tried.

The teacher asks them to wait for it until they see the next visual, which is the main entry material of the theme, the digital introductory story, to see if their thoughts/guesses are true or not without asking any further questions.

Learning-Teaching Practices

WARM-UP TO THE WHOLE THEME (WELL-BEING)

Before starting to work on the theme "life in the universe and future" in the classroom, to prepare the students emotionally, cognitively, psychologically, and physically, a fun non-theme warm-up activity can be done as an icebreaker to help the students feel positive and ready for the whole learning process in class for their well-being. This could be an activity such as a short game, a physical activity, listening to/singing a song/chant/rhyme, doing a riddle, solving a puzzle, saying a tongue twister, listening to an anecdote/a very short story, watching a pantomime/cartoon story, etc. that has no relation or connection to the current theme and does not require any knowledge of English (D2.5, SELS2.1, V12.1, LS2, LS4).

INTEGRATION OF LANGUAGE SKILLS IN THE THEME

All language skills (listening/watching-comprehension, reading-comprehension, speaking-expression, writing-expression, vocabulary selection and use, grammar selection and use, pronunciation selection and use) are used in an integrated way around "life in the universe and future" and sub-themes "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future", allowing students to build background knowledge through receptive skills before moving on to productive tasks throughout the theme. They are combined in a meaningful and purposeful way and are integrated to support the learning outcomes of the theme. Although they are sequenced from receptive to productive in the teaching-learning practices, they are always used in a closely linked way that means each activity builds on the previous one to promote language development and to increase communicative competence. The theme is characterised by a balanced integration of all the skills, where students engage with input (listening/watching-comprehension and reading-comprehension) and respond through output (speaking-expression and writing-expression) with the help of their vocabulary, grammar and phonological selection and use skills.

ENG6.8.L1.

PREPARING FOR LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: Having seen a visual about and having guessed the topic of "life in the universe and future" during the background recall session, students can have a vision of the current theme as a general concept in the current (new) theme (D3.2, SELS1.1, V3.2, V3.3, V11.1, LS1, LS4, CS2.11, CS2.16.2). So, a further concept check with listening/watching for gist activities including more guessing games using clues from some pictures, realia, short video clips etc. help them prepare for the current theme (CS2.6, CS2.8). For each theme, a digitally constructed story is used as the main context of the theme, and it is visited several times while going through the theme to cover target pronunciation, vocabulary, grammar, social language expressions, and semantic meaning of the whole theme (CS2.14). It is both an entry material and the main context to the whole theme at the same time. The teacher asks them whether their guesses during the background recall session were correct and also what they think the introductory digital story that they are going to watch could be about (CS2.8). As they have already seen a scene from a film about the theme and the pictures, realia, etc. they can easily answer what the current theme will be about and that their guesses were true (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, D3.2, SELS1.2, V3.3, V3.4,V3.3, V11.1, LS2, LS4, CS2.10, CS2.17).

ENG6.8.L2.

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING: The teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story carefully, recalling the work done with visuals (the scene from a film, pictures, realia, or video clips about the theme shown earlier) (CS2.11). Students watch the introductory digital story to consolidate the identification of the theme "life in the universe and future" in it as a whole (CS2.13) without stopping the video at any point, so that the students can understand the theme holistically (D3.2, SELS1.1, V3.3, V3.4, V3.3, V11.1, LS2, LS4, CS2.14, CS2.16.2).

ENG6.8.L3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING-COMPREHENSION: To draw students' attention to the content, some realia brought into the classroom by the teacher could be used (V3.3, V11.1). The teacher could show the corresponding objects to the students when the corresponding vocabulary for the main components of the theme "life in the universe and future" is mentioned in the introductory digital story, without stopping the video while the students watch the story (CS2.6). When they have watched the whole story, the teacher could show the realia items on the table and ask questions with two options (CS2.5). As one of the words is from the previous themes, students could hear, understand, recognise, and learn the (new) target vocabulary for each main component of the theme easily (CS2.1). In this way, the teacher could engage in a dialogue with the whole class to check that they have recognised the components of the theme, and that they have understood each realia item is about one component (CS2.8). Further activities and games can be played at this stage to reinforce the general meaning of the theme through its main components (D1.1, D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

To check whether the students understand the general topic of the theme "life in the universe and future" and remember the sequence of the scenes of the introductory digital story, the teacher shows an organiser with the mixed images/pictures of the scenes on the Smart Board and asks the students to look at the images/pictures of the scenes for a while (CS2.3). She/He then asks them to order the scenes in pairs in their seats with the mixed paper pictures she/he has already given to the students (SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, LS1, LS4, LS6). When the pairs have finished sorting the pictures for the scenes of the story, the teacher asks the students to take turns or volunteer to sort the scenes on the screen of the Smart Board (or the pictures on the blackboard) (SELS1.2, CS2.6, CS2.10). This will help the students to organise the story as a whole so that they can identify the main theme and the components of the theme from their memories (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, V16.3, V20.4, CS2.12).

ENG6.8.L4.

REFLECTING ON THE LISTENING/ WATCHING PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole listening-watching process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3, V3.4). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V12.1, LS5, LS6). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V10.3).

ENG6.8.P1.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: To practise pronunciation of the new target words, word groups, language chunks, and social language expressions about the theme "life in the universe and future" and the words and/or word groups for the sub-themes "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future",the teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch the whole or some extracts from the introductory digital story by noticing how words are pronounced (V3.3, V11.1, LS4, LS5, LS6, CS2.6). She/He asks them to repeat the word aloud when she/he stops the video for a word and says it. The teacher then asks the students to listen and repeat the same words aloud a few times as a whole class after listening to the recordings that she/he has prepared beforehand using some Web 2.0 programmes (LS2, CS2.16.3). The teacher could offer variations with some techniques such as showing the picture of the target word to the students to say the word or pointing to the corresponding picture when they hear the word from the recording, and then both (CS2.8). To help the students pronounce the words accurately, the teacher asks them to repeat each target word aloud a few times as a whole class after her/him or the recording, then in large groups, then in small groups and then again as volunteers (D3.2, D3.6, SELS1.2, SELS2.1, V4.2, V20.4, LS1, CS2.14).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Practice of pronunciation could be done with different forms of TPR, gamification and drama activities, e.g. first the teacher says the target words/word groups for the sub-themes "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future", the students listen (CS2.9); then the teacher says the target words/word groups and acts them out, the students repeat after her/him (SELS2.1, CS2.14). Then the teacher and the students say the target words/word groups and act them out together at the same time. Then the teacher says the words/word groups and acts them out. These activities can be done through the actions for the sub-themes "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future"(D2.3,D2.5, V3.3, V3.3, V11.1). As a variation, they can also repeat the words after the teacher happily, sadly, angrily, etc. using different tones of voice (SELS2.3, CS2.8, CS2.11). They also practise for the target social language chunks using the same or similar techniques. During the repetitions, they point to relevant pictures that the teacher has placed in different places in the classroom (CS2.12). Some action sequences are also created in which the students can practise the social language in a fun way by repeating, pointing, miming, and acting out in several games (SELS2.1, V7.2, LS5, LS6, LS9). The teacher facilitates some activities with dialogues and games in which students can practice the target pronunciation by selecting and using them accurately, naturally, and authentically (CS3.1). Several fun pronunciation games could be played, such as shadow reading, bingo, odd one out, pronunciation maze, minimal pairs, rhyming games, and several sound drills (SELS2.2). The target sounds such as vowels, consonants, and diphthongs of the theme are practised through them (CS2.13). Their learning is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D1.2, D1.6, D2.5, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4).

ENG6.8.R1

PREPARATION FOR THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS: The teacher facilitates reading and writing activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end, when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount. Reading starts from earlier stages and continues throughout the theme in various forms and amounts. Reading is done in two ways in the theme by using the written version of the introductory digital story and additional reading texts in reading sections of the instructional material to be used (V3.2, LS2, LS4). Various reading styles including silent reading, speed reading, jigsaw reading and basic reading techniques including skimming, scanning, and reading for details during pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading phases are used in the theme (V3.4, LS1, CS2.3, CS2.6). The ultimate aim of reading practice is to enhance comprehension, improve fluency, develop pre-critical thinking skills and critical thinking skills and the ability to comprehend and talk/write about the content in a meaningful and communicative way (V3.3, V7.2, LS5, CS3.3). For the initial stage of reading, the teacher asks the students to look at the audio/visual/written elements (e.g. sound, voices, scenes, title of the text, written words) surrounding the written version of the contextual introductory story or a new text in the reading section of the instructional material to be used for skimming to recall the conceptual meanings they already have about the theme (CS2.8). At this stage, the teacher could ask the students to read the title of the theme and ask the students which words they already know, and which come to mind in connection with the title (SELS1.1, CS2.16.2). She/He reminds them not to ask the meanings of any new words or the words they do not know. She/He reminds them that this is just a guessing activity by using the words they know and that there is time to work on the new words of the new theme later (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, CS2.10, CS2.12).

ENG6.8.R2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH READING: Students go on with a scanning activity to find out the most important details of the introductory digital story and/or a new text in the reading section which is organised to help students to know more about the reading content (CS2.6, CS2.7). In this way they could be able to recognise the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story (CS2.4). By doing so, they will be able to understand the story/text in general using the main elements (D3.2, D3.6, V3.3, V3.4, LS1).

ENG6.8.R3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH READING: Then the teacher asks the students to do a jigsaw reading activity, so she/he shows the written version of the introductory digital story or the text in the reading section on the blackboard/Smart Board (or in any other teaching material). She/He asks the students to work in pairs to share the text (SELS2.2). One peer reads the first half of the text and the second peer reads the other half of the text in a given time (CS2.6). They are then asked to share what they have understood from their part with their peer, also in a given time. In this way, they talk about the whole story after reading it silently, in the jigsaw reading style (D2.4, D3.6, V3.4, V4.2, V16.2, LS1, LS6, CS2.8, CS2.9). Some speed-reading activities can be used to develop students' reading and comprehension skills. These activities can be evaluated as explained in the item (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. After sharing their parts, students proceed with the activities for dealing with the target vocabulary, grammatical chunks, and semantic meaning relatively with the help of the teacher (CS2.14). For dealing with the semantic meaning, the teacher facilitates the lesson with meaningful activities including closed, semi-closed, free, open-ended, and communicative ones (SELS2.1). From display to communicative open-ended, various types of questions are used to understand the meaning of the text (SELS3.1, SELS3.2, CS2.6). During this process students work collaboratively to exchange information, thoughts, and feelings (D3.2, D3.7, V3.3, V7.2, V20.2, LS2, LS4, CS2.8).

ENG6.8.R4.

REFLECTING ON THE READING-COMPREHENSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole reading-comprehension process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process (SELS1.3). Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (D2.3, D3.5, V4.2, V6.2, V10.3, V12.1, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.8.V1.

PREPARATION TO WORK ON THE TARGET VOCABULARY: At this stage, students remember what the theme is about through the activities that they have done during the background knowledge, pre-listening/watching, and pre-reading sessions (SELS1.1). As they know the main topic, they get ready to deal with the main components and target vocabulary of the theme (V3.2, LS1).

RECOGNITION OF THE TARGET VOCABULARY: A scanning activity to find out the main details of the introductory digital story (and/or a new text in the reading section) is organised to help students to know more about the content. This could help them identify what the target words in the text could be about. The activity could be designed by listing some important pictures, words or events about the main components of the theme that take place in the story/text. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard, seen and scanned (quickly read) in the story. In this way, they will be able to understand the story/text in general by using the main elements and also be ready to work on the target vocabulary items (D3.2, D3.6, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.6, CS2.7). Then the students read the written version of the digital story again silently, (or the reading text in the reading section), to check whether they know any of the target vocabulary items about the theme (V16.3, CS2.8). They underline the words whose meaning they do not know while reading silently (CS2.17). Students say these words when they finish reading and the teacher writes these words on the Smart Board/blackboard/ white board as they say them. The teacher writes only the target words on the Smart Board/blackboard as active words that the students have said. She/He quickly deals with the non-target passive vocabulary items by using pictures, mimics, gestures, imitations, examples, etc. But she/he takes time to facilitate the teaching of the target words (D1.2, D1.6, D3.2, V3.3, V3.4, LS2, LS4,CS2.4, CS2.5, CS2.7).
To introduce and practise the meanings of the target vocabulary related to the theme, that the students do not know, the teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story (or the video of the reading text if there is one) again. From the beginning, whenever a target item is mentioned, the teacher stops the video and asks several questions in the form of two options, one of which is a word from the previous themes that they already know (V3.3, V11.1, CS2.16.1, CS2.6). By guessing what they are, the students hear the English equivalents of the words for the theme and they answer as a whole class in chorus. In this way, they are introduced to the meanings of the target words (D1.2, D1.6,D3.7, CS2.10). This is conducted in the form of a dialogue where their learning can be checked as described in items (SELS2.1) (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V3.3, V3.4, V11.1, LS1, LS2, LS4). After having watched the introductory digital story, the teacher shows some pictures for the sub-themes, on the walls as clues and says the words aloud several times in sentences by pointing to the pictures and the students repeat after her/him (D2.3, V3.3, V11.1, CS2.6, CS2.11). In this way, the main vocabulary items of the theme are introduced to the students in English as described in item (3) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V3.3, V11.1).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: The teacher can prepare an activity using the Web 2.0 programme with images/pictures, and symbolic images for some categories about the components of the theme "life in the universe and future". She/He also prepares mixed images/pictures for target vocabulary items for the activities which can be done in relation to the components. She/He asks the students to look at the mixed pile of images/pictures of the main components of the theme on the Smart Board screen and scan them for a while to remember them (V3.3, V11.1, CS2.4). She/He explains to the students that the items will be placed under the correct category, but first she/he gives the students the cut-out pictures of the activities and a large sheet of paper with the categories written on it and the cut-out pictures will be placed under each category correctly (V3.3, L2, LS4, CS2.5). The teacher asks them to work in pairs and place the cut-out pictures in the right category and ask each other some questions about the theme (D3.2, D3.8, SELS2.2, V3.3,V11.1). When the students have finished working with the cut-out pictures and asking and answering questions about them, the teacher asks them to take turns or volunteer to go to the Smart Board and drag the corresponding images/pictures under the right category on the screen (SELS1.2, V3.4, V20.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.5). In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the main concept and its components are consolidated through categorisation. This activity can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology. The teacher asks the students to copy the words next to the pictures they have pasted or drawn in their picture dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their picture dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling (D3.2, SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V4.3, V6.2, LS9). To consolidate the meaning, selection, and use of the new target vocabulary items, the teacher could organise activities and tasks using pictures, flashcards, sounds, realia, and any other materials to play games such as Bingo, Pelmanism, King's game, Odd One out, Wordscapes, Scrabble, Pictionary, Letter Scramble, Acronyms, Charades etc. Games could be adapted according to the teacher's objectives (pronunciation, spelling, meaning, selection, use etc.), age, interests and language level of the students (CS2.13). Students can be asked to create their own games to use the target vocabulary items in (D2.5, D.3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2, V4.2, V4.4, V3.3, V11.1, V7.2, LS9, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked as described in items (3), and (4) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.8.G1

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS: To draw the students' attention to the target language chunks of the theme "life in the universe and future", the introductory digital story or an extract from it played so that the students can notice the target language chunks (D3.2, CS2.2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the target language chunks are used. She/He imitates the action by showing the scene, saying the chunk, and asking the students to do the same (V3.2, LS2, CS2.14). She/He could hold up large pictures corresponding to the chunks when they are mentioned in the digital story to draw the students' attention. The sentences with the target chunks are also written and placed on the Smart Board/blackboard/ whiteboard. The teacher also points to these sentences while pointing to the scenes in the story where they appear. There is no analysis or teaching of grammatical structures at this stage. Students can automatically and naturally identify the use of the target language chunks in the current context created in the introductory digital story without working on any rules or structures (SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4, CS2.3, CS2.4, CS2.16.2). To check the students' identification of the target language chunks, after the students have finished watching the introductory digital story, the teacher asks them to read the sentences with the target language chunks written by the teacher on the Smart Board /blackboard/ whiteboard and asks them to find the same or similar sentences in the written version of the introductory digital story or another text that is shown on the Smart Board (D3.2, SELS3.2, V3.3). She/He also asks them to find the same or similar sentences with these chunks which are given in different types of tables prepared by the teacher (CS2.7). These tables do not include any explanations of grammatical rules, explanations, or formulas, and they only contain example sentences with target chunks in which important words with the target grammar are written in bold or different colours to attract students' attention. The teacher asks them to look at the words in bold or in different colours and asks students to examine them (CS2.9). Then the teacher asks the students to copy these sentences with target chunks written in bold or different colours into their notebooks. The teacher asks the students to make very similar sentences using the target words and asks them to share their sentences with each other in pairs, and then with the class (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, D3.2, V4.2, CS2.13,CS2.14, CS2.16.1, CS2.16.2). Both the teacher and the class members give feedback to the students as they say their sentences (CS2.19). The teacher gives all students a checklist with simple symbols to evaluate each other's work as explained in the items (5) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, LS6).

SELECTION AND USE OF THE TARGET GRAMMAR: To facilitate students' further practice with the target language chunks in the theme "life in the universe and future", the teacher shows some other sentences with these chunks in another context such as a short story, a short paragraph, and a short dialogue etc. and asks students to find the sentences with the target chunks in them and asks if they understand them (SELS3.2, V3.3, V3.3, V11.1, CS2.4, CS2.6,CS2.8). She/He gives some written activities and exercises to practise the target chunks in context. She/He also facilitates more fun activities and as described in items (5), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. To consolidate the target language chunks, the teacher organises different fun activity and game bundles that the students can practise and consolidate them (CS2.13) where their learning can be checked as described in item (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D2.5, V4.4).

ENG6.8.W1.

PREPARATION FOR THE WRITING-EXPRESSION SESSION: Practising through writing: Writing activities help students to produce and display meaningful written language for their personal expression and communication with others, by using language including target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language in this theme, as in other themes (V3.2, V3.3, V11.1).

ENG6.8.W2.

RECOGNISING THE MODEL: Initially, students produce very limited and short pieces of writing such as sentences to practise the language including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme "life in the universe and future". They practise the language in a more controlled way in the beginning, by writing to repeat or simply explain what they hear and see in context and what they are asked to do. They are provided a written model/example to copy to be able to notice significant points and elements in it (SELS3.1). While copying a short model writing, they become aware of the aspects such as the use of words, language chunks, punctuation, spelling and so on (D3.1, V3.4, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.16.3).

ENG6.8.W3.

CREATING THE WRITING CONTENT: Controlled writing of words and sentences turns to short paragraphs in a process writing manner with the support of the teacher's feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported by several practical activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (D1.3, D3.1, SELS3.2,V3.4, V4.4, V7.2, LS2, LS4, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.8.W4.

CONSTRUCTING AND PRACTISING WRITING: Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice tasks. Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, projects, scripts for plays, diaries/journals, blogs, very short film scenarios, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.2, CS2.13). All the content is expected to be contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests and language level (V3.4, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9).

ENG6.8.W5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside or outside school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and the social language for the theme in their writing (SELS2.2, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V3.3, V11.1, LS9, CS2.20). AI- based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways (D3.3, SELS3.2, SELS3.3,V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These activities are evaluated as described in items (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG6.8.W6.

REFLECTING ON THE WRITING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole writing-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (D1.5, SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

ENG6.8.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the end. Speaking activities enhance students' learning and help them produce and display meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures in use and the social language expressions of the theme (V3.2, V3.4, V3.3, V11.1).

ENG6.8.S2

RECOGNISING AND USING THE MODEL: In the beginning, through listening/watching and reading, students recognise how the language with the target language items is used (CS2.6). They practise the language in a controlled way, by telling, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context (D1.3, D3.2, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.4).

ENG6.8.S3

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons after controlled practice sessions, the teacher creates new contexts in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues etc. as new opportunities for the students to talk about them for practising further through questions, explanations, inferences etc (D1.3, SELS3.2, V3.4, V4.2, V7.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13).

ENG6.8.S4.

CONSTRUCTING SPOKEN MATERIALS: Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V4.2, V3.3, V11.1,CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D1.2, D1.6, D3.3, V7.2,LS2, LS9, CS2.20).

ENG6.8.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING AND COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students communicate with each other by seeing/hearing/reading/using the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme "life in the universe and future" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.3, CS2.20). Picture strip stories can be used at the end of each theme to provide a consolidation and revision (V3.4, V4.2, V12.1, LS1, LS4, LS9, CS2.13, CS2.14). These new contents created are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used together with other further speaking practice throughout the theme. Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, presentations, short texts etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people in or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language grammar in use, and the social language for the theme and its components such as "planets and the Earth as a planet; life on Earth in the future" (V3.4, V4.2, V3.3, V11.1, LS4, CS3.1, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects at school and at home through recordings (D2.5, D3.3, SELS3.3, V7.2, LS2, CS2.20). These are evaluated as described in items (7), (8), (9), and (10) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Then they can expand their language use and practise by communicating with others.

ENG6.8.S6.

REFLECTING ON THE SPEAKING-EXPRESSION PROCESS INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLABORATIVELY: The teacher asks students to think about the whole speaking-expression process and asks them to express their thoughts, ideas, and feelings about the process. Some volunteer students express what they think and feel about them (SELS1.3, CS2.15). Then they give feedback about their reflections to each other in pairs and take notes about the feedback they receive (D2.4, D3.5, SELS2.2). The teacher facilitates different activities for creating versatile reflection sessions in a fun and collaborative design (V4.3, V6.2, V10.3, V20.4, LS1, LS6).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To practise future plans, intentions, or something that is likely to happen based on present evidence in English by making a presentation.

Activity 1: Building Tomorrow's Earth

The teacher divides the class into groups of 4-5 students. They work in teams to make a presentation about different aspects of life in 2050. Each group focuses on a specific area of life on Earth, such as Technology (How will innovations like artificial intelligence, robots, and space exploration transform everyday life?), Environment (What environmental changes will happen by 2050?), Society and Culture (How will people live? How will family structures, education, and work environments be?), Cities (What will future cities look like? Will there be smart cities, floating cities, or green cities with zero waste?), Health & Medicine (Will people have longer and healthier lives?). Each group spends 10-15 minutes brainstorming ideas for their theme. They focus on how life will be different by 2050, using current trends and evidence to support their predictions. The groups share their presentation with the class. After each presentation, the class engages in a Question & Answer session. The teacher encourages students to ask questions like: "How do you think we will solve environmental problems by 2050?", "Why do you think people are going to live in floating cities?", "What makes you think robots will replace teachers in the future?". The teacher asks students to provide positive feedback to each group, using phrases like "I like your idea because..." or "It was interesting when you said...". Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

YEAR 7 (LEVEL: A2.3)

THEME 1: SCHOOL LIFE & EDUCATION

Sub-themes: Extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations

This theme is centred on the concept of "school life and education" and covers the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.7.1.L1. Students can prepare and get ready for listening (to)/watching about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience about the current theme and content to recall their background knowledge by investigating it carefully.

b) Students identify significant and necessary relationships and connections between their pre-existing knowledge, their past experience and the clues to the current content by responding to meaningful questions about it (without speaking Turkish or using a translation).

c) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by using their pre-existing knowledge and past experience of the content.

d) Students make rational predictions about the current content by looking at the supplementary visual elements provided.

ENG.7.1.L2. Students can bring together the information in the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students identify the main topic of the current content in general by listening (to)/watching it as a whole in its context.

b) Students recognise the significant details and basic components of the current content within the whole by listening (to) and watching the whole content carefully to notice them.

ENG.7.1.L3. Students can make sense of and derive meaning from the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students check their initial predictions about the current content by being aware of the commonalities between their self-predictions and the clues provided as visuals surrounding the content.

b) Students make significant and necessary classifications in the current content that affect the meaning of the generally perceived content.

c) Students make significant and necessary comparisons in the generally perceived current content to highlight differences between two or more different things by using visuals, ensuring clarity and meaning.

d) Students recognise significant branching, linear or spiral relationships (if any) within the generally perceived current content.

e) Students make essential inferences and deductions to understand the meaning of the generally perceived current content better.

f) Students strongly recognise the holistic meaning formed by the components, comparisons, classifications, and details related to the current content.

g) Students construct a detailed understanding of the meaning of the current content through prior classifications, comparisons, and inferences/deductions.

h) Students position, internalise and personalise current content in an individualised, age-appropriate and level-appropriate way.

ENG.7.1.L4. Students can reflect on the information, experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the listening (to)/watching process about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students individually convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that are critically reviewed in relation to the current listening (to)/watching contents and the process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current listening (to)/watching content and process with others.

c) Students produce new audio/visual products individually by revising their personal work after participating in reflective activities related to the listening (to)/watching process of the current content.

ENG.7.1.P1. Students can select and use target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of target sounds, words, phrases, clauses, and sentences in utterances authentically, naturally, and accurately in the current content about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" to develop holistic and conscious pronunciation skills after recognising them in context.

a) Students recognise the target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of target sounds, words, phrases and sentences in utterances within the current content by listening (to)/ watching it, first as a whole and then with pauses.

b) Students repeat utterances, including target sentences, clauses, phrases, and words with target theme-specific sounds by considering phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation accurately and naturally in the content several times as a whole class and then in groups and individually.

c) Students talk about the current content by taking part in small group conversations by paying attention to select and use accurate phonological aspects such as pronunciation, intonation, stress, and other features as they are understood.

d) Students reflect personally on their pronunciation and other target phonological aspects such as intonation after recording and listening to group conversations about the target content.

e) Students evaluate feedback from others and their personal feedback and reflection by listening to or watching the audio/visual content again to check for accuracy.

f) Students utilise the target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of utterances including target sounds of the current content, appropriately, effectively, accurately, naturally, automatically, and consciously when communicating with others in different contexts.

ENG.7.1.R1. Students can prepare for reading the content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" efficiently and effectively.

a) Students recall and activate significant pre-existing knowledge and past experiences that can be related to the current theme and content through careful exploration.

b) Students recognise significant relationships between pre-existing knowledge, past experiences and clues to current content.

c) Students make strong preliminary predictions about the current content based on explored and recognised relationships.

d) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by exploring and examining the audio-visual clues in relation to it.

ENG.7.1.R2. Students can bring information together about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" through skimming, scanning and detailed reading.

a) Students skim the current content by looking very quickly and carefully at the surrounding visual materials to identify its general focus.

b) Students scan the current content by reading it silently and quickly to find key and major components.

c) Students read the current content again silently and carefully to examine any significant semantic and structural details.

d) Students examine the semantic details in the content carefully to check the accuracy of their initial predictions.

ENG.7.1.R3. Students can make sense of and derive meaning from the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students classify significant and necessary elements of the current content in a meaningful way.

b) Students compare significant and key elements of the current content with each other or with similar ones in a meaningful way.

c) Students recognise significant and basic spiral, causal, and logical relationships in the current content through careful examination and analysis.

d) Students make meaningful inferences from information in the current content by examining it critically.

e) Students internalise their meaningful inferences from information in the current content in an individualised way appropriate to their age and language level.

ENG.7.1.R4. Students can reflect on the information, experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the reading process about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process with others.

c) Students produce new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

ENG.7.1.V1. Students can select and use target vocabulary efficiently, effectively, and accurately, based on the current content about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" after recognising them in context and developing their conscious and inductive vocabulary learning skills.

a) Students make predictions about the main topic of the current content by identifying "general contextual clues" from the visual, audio, and written preparation materials provided during the "listening/watching for gist" and/or reading for "skimming" sessions.

b) Students check the accuracy of the predictions related to the "general contextual clue" by listening to, watching, and/or reading the audio, visual, and/or written content in context.

c) Students search the target audio/visual, and/or written content by scanning to find key components of the theme.

d) Students listen/watch the content carefully and/or read it silently to identify and underline/circle target unknown words.

e) Students separate target (key-active) words from the other (non-key-passive) words in the target content.

f) Students examine relevant target words, phrases, and expressions in the current content to understand how and where they are used.

g) Students determine paragraph context clues to identify the topics of the parts/paragraphs containing unknown target words.

h) Students discuss the meaning of the target words by finding indirect sentence context clues in the assigned sentences of the parts/paragraphs of the content.

i) Students determine the correct meanings of the target words in the current content in pairs or groups by comparing the meanings/definitions proposed.

j) Students confirm the accuracy of the meanings/definitions of the target words in the current content by consulting with the teacher, the class and/or by using printed or digital dictionaries.

k) Students make use of the target words of the current theme in a range of semantically associated contextual activities and tasks accurately, naturally, authentically, and appropriately.

l) Students make use of the target words of the current theme accurately, naturally, appropriately and effectively through careful selection when communicating with others.

ENG.7.1.G1. Students can select and use target grammatical language items efficiently, effectively, and accurately, based on the current content about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations", after recognising them in context and developing their conscious and inductive grammaring skills through consciousness-raising and discovery.

a) Students listen to, watch, and/or read the audio, visual, and written current content presented in context that introduces the general use of the target language structures in the current theme.

b) Students examine example sentences provided by the teacher or instructional materials including target grammatical items to see how the target grammatical structure(s) of the target theme is/are used to construct a meaning or contribute to meaning.

c) Students analyse current audio, visual, and/or written content presented in context to identify sentences similar to those provided as examples.

d) Students find the commonalities between the sentences identified and those exemplified by the teacher or materials through careful comparison in pairs and/or groups.

e) Students discover the characteristics of the commonalities in the sentences in the current content by discussing them in pairs or groups as an awareness/consciousness-raising activity.

f) Students formulate rule(s) about the same/target grammar structure(s) of the current theme based on their observations and discussions in pairs or groups.

g) Students engage in contextual activities on the use of target grammatical structures (grammaring) of the current theme to explain and justify the grammar rule(s) they have discovered.

h) Students practise to consolidate their understanding of the target grammar that they discovered by selecting accurate and meaningful items in meaningful and contextualised activities.

i) Students produce accurate and unique verbal or written content by using target grammar consciously and in a natural way, without thinking about the rules.

j) Students produce new spoken/written content by using the target grammatical structures efficiently, authentically, automatically, and naturally in context when communicating with others without thinking about rules.

ENG.7.1.W1. Students can prepare for writing efficiently and accurately based on the current content about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students relate pre-existing knowledge and experiences from initial listening, watching, and reading processes to current content by examining and activating them.

b) Students understand what the current writing task requires in terms of content and purpose in relation to the current content accurately by applying pre-existing knowledge and experiences, following guided instructions.

ENG.7.1.W2. Students can analyse and understand a provided model to guide them in producing similar writing tasks related to the content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students grasp the significant and basic components of the content in the model/sample provided for the assigned writing task, including word selection and use, grammar selection and use, and other details such as type, style, and meaning as required.

ENG.7.1.W3. Students can construct new written content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" based on their understanding of the model(s) provided.

a) Students share their ideas and thoughts by brainstorming through collaborative discussion to generate ideas for the new (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task related to the current theme.

b) Students plan how the knowledge and ideas generated during the brainstorming session can be applied to their new (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task related to the current theme.

c) Students conduct preliminary research relevant to the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task on the current content, considering the type of writing, age appropriateness, and language level.

d) Students produce a well-organised and detailed draft relevant to the (prepared and/or unprepared) type of writing and appropriate for the age and language level.

e) Students organise and develop contextual materials relevant to the type of the assigned task (prepared and/or unprepared) and appropriate to age and language level.

f) Students modify the content they produce for the assigned writing task in a coherent and meaningful way, consistent with the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) type of writing, and appropriate to the age and language level.

ENG.7.1.W4. Students can practise producing written content based on the current theme "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students present relevant supportive materials appropriate to the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task, considering the type of writing and appropriated to the age and language level.

b) Students use appropriate discourse forms, styles, and strategies for the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task, considering its writing type and appropriate to their age and language level.

c) Students use target words and grammatical language structures accurately and appropriately in their writing tasks, by selecting necessary and appropriated ones in line with the assigned type of writing and appropriate to the age and language level.

d) Students express their messages about the current content clearly to the reader in the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task.

ENG.7.1.W5. Students can engage in the process of writing related to the content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students review the feedback from the teacher and/or peers critically on their prepared and/or unprepared writing task(s).

b) Students revise to reorganise the written content of their prepared and/or unprepared task based on the feedback received from the teacher and/or peers.

c) Students refine and develop their written content produced for their prepared/unprepared writing task through the iterative feedback process.

ENG.7.1.W6. Students can reconstruct their writing about the current theme on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" to communicate effectively about it.

a) Students adapt and use individually internalised information in current or similar content by selecting and reorganising it meaningfully in written form as necessary when communicating with other people in different contexts.

b) Students exchange information and ideas in written communication by sharing reconstructed meaningful knowledge and content with others.

ENG.7.1.W7. Students can reflect on their experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the writing process about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings they review critically in relation to their current writing-expression content and process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current writing-expression content and process with others.

c) Students produce their new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current writing-expression content and process.

ENG.7.1.S1. Students can prepare themselves to speak meaningfully, fluently, and efficiently about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students relate current content by analysing pre-existing knowledge and experiences from earlier listening, watching, and reading sessions to associate them with the current content.

ENG.7.1.S2. Students can analyse and understand the model content related to "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" to support the production of spoken language.

a) Students grasp what the provided model/example is about with the help of audio, visual, and/or written elements after listening, watching, and/or reading the current content.

ENG.7.1.S3. Students can produce meaningful and accurate spoken content related to the current theme on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations".

a) Students recognise which form and type of spoken content is expected and assigned based on the model/example about the current theme for both prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations through careful examination.

b) Students conduct preliminary research on the expected and assigned content to be produced for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

c) Students develop a draft outline in accordance with the assigned prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations as presented in the model/example, appropriate to the age and language level based on the current theme.

d) Students organise supplementary audio-visual materials in accordance with the assigned task as presented in the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations and appropriate to their age and language level.

e) Students organise information related to the current content to be presented, appropriate to the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

f) Students critically review their prepared presentation content for accuracy, coherence, and appropriateness to audience and context in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.7.1.S4. Students can construct meaningful spoken content about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" through efficient and meaningful practice.

a) Students make spoken content clear and understandable to listeners by selecting and using style and form appropriate to age and language level in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

b) Students present their spoken content by selecting and using materials appropriate to the context, age, language level, style, and type of discourse, similar to those presented in the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

c) Students present their spoken content by selecting and using target vocabulary and language structures similar and/or appropriate to those presented in the model/example considering their age, language level, context, style, and type of discourse for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

d) Students convey relevant explicit, implicit, and/or complex messages related to the current content clearly in context to the listeners by using appropriate material and body language in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

e) Students convey their messages about the current content clearly to the listeners by incorporating all the necessary semantic elements in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.7.1.S5. Students can reconstruct the information about "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" when communicating with others.

a) Students use the same or similar information presented in the current content in verbal or written forms in different contexts by reorganising it meaningfully, accurately, effectively, efficiently, functionally, and individually as required.

b) Students engage in verbal and/or written communication by sharing the reconstructed meaningful information about the current content with others.

ENG.7.1.S6. Students can reflect on their experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the speaking process about the current content on "school life and education with extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students reveal their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process.

b) Students share their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process with others.

c) Students produce new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current speaking-expression content and process.

Intonation of positive statements

Generalisations/Principles/Key Concepts

Generalisations

The target concept of this theme "school life and education" and its components such as "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" is present in almost all languages. People who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge with them and transfer it to their new language learning. For instance, a lower-secondary school student will know what "school life and education" and its components such as "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" means but will not know how to say them in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. However, this existing knowledge in their own language will help them recognise, understand, and learn the new information more easily in a foreign language, in this case, English.

Key Concepts:

An extra-curricular activity, extra-curricular activities at school; competitions, celebrations, competitions and celebrations at school, national days.

INDICATORS FOR LEARNING (Assessment and Evaluation)

EVALUATION FOR THE SKILLS AND THE CONTENT:

PERFORMANCE ASSIGNMENT: Students will prepare a project to reflect on the importance of extracurricular activities, competitions, and celebrations in shaping their school experience. They will create a visual presentation about their favourite extracurricular activity and explain how it helps them develop new skills and build friendships. They should also describe a memorable school competition or celebration. Finally, students will propose ideas for new activities or events that could make school life even more enjoyable and enriching for everyone. The assignment will be evaluated by using a rubric scheme, a rating scale, and/or a marking scheme.

LEARNING-TEACHING EXPERIENCES

Basic Acceptations: Preparedness/ Readiness

This theme is based on the students' knowledge of "school life and education" and its components such as "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations". As they are lower secondary school students in year 7 (seven), they can know what "school life and education" and its components such as "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" mean in their own language as it is known that almost all people who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge (in their own language) with them and transfer it to their new language learning context. However, they may not know how to say these things in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. Fortunately, this existing knowledge in their own language can help them recognise, understand, and learn them more easily in a foreign language, in this case English.

As they are students in year 7 of lower secondary school, they can know some basic vocabulary about "school life and education" and also some necessary structures in English from the previous themes and/or years. These grammatical items and vocabulary are revised during the "Revision Programme" at the beginning of the year, and they can be used as a basis for learning the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme, so that the new grammatical elements in the current theme can be learnt easily

It is expected that students' physical, cognitive, affective, and social factors are appropriate and suitable for learning about the "school life and education" and its components such as "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations". Recalling and practising with relevant vocabulary and grammatical items in English that they have learnt in the previous years would be helpful as a basis for moving on and learning the current content on the concept of "school life and education". Their knowledge of the days of the week and holidays will help them learn and practise important national holidays such as "the Republic Day of Türkiye". Therefore, a dialogue game can be played to revise all vocabulary and grammatical items from the previous themes in previous years by giving instructions in English as a preparation practice. In this way, their performance can be evaluated by seeing how much they remember and how much they are able to understand and use the previously learnt vocabulary and chunks to build their competence in the current theme. It can be decided what to emphasise or practise in order to revise the previous knowledge and to facilitate the new vocabulary and chunks in the current theme. (Their performance can be evaluated by rubrics throughout these practices.)

Establishing Links

Students are asked to recall the concept of "school life and education" by remembering their pre-existing background knowledge about it (imaginatively through thinking) in their own language to make links with the current activities in the theme in English without saying anything in Turkish and without translating anything until they start learning the target words in the current (new) concept in English. To remind them of their pre-existing background knowledge they already have about the current concept, many materials such as "a scene from a short film, a passage from a book, a part from a personal diary (journal), a part of a story, a collection of pictures, a part of an animation, a poster, an excerpt from a video etc." related to this content can be shared with the class before the main teaching/learning flow begins. The materials about the current concept would give a general idea of the theme. Students are work on the material according to the instructions and try to grasp it. The teacher tries to check if they have an idea about the topic of the new theme with several activities. When they have finished working on them, the teacher asks them in English if they have understood what has been in the material. She/He asks them to write a related words that they already know (learnt in previous years) in English on a piece of paper and put it in the jar/ box that she/he has prepared. Alternative ways for checking their comprehension could be tried by the teacher.
They wait for it until they see the next visual, which is the main entry material of the theme, the digital introductory story, to see if their thoughts/guesses are true or not without asking any further questions.

Learning-Teaching Practices

WARM-UP TO THE WHOLE THEME (WELL-BEING)

Before starting to work on the theme" school life and education" in the classroom, to prepare the students emotionally, cognitively, psychologically, and physically, a fun non-theme warm-up activity can be done as an icebreaker to help the students feel positive and ready for the whole learning process in class for their well-being (D1.5, V12.1, V13.4). This could be an activity such as a short game, a physical activity, listening to/ singing a song/chant/rhyme, doing a riddle, solving a puzzle, saying a tongue twister, listening to an anecdote, a very short story, watching a pantomime/online story, etc. that has no relation or connection to the current theme and does not require any knowledge of the current theme in English (D2.5, D3.3, SELS2.1, V4.4, V7.2, V13.2, LS4). That is only for relaxation and preparation for the lesson.

INTEGRATION OF LANGUAGE SKILLS IN THE THEME

All language skills are used in an integrated way around a central topic "school life and education" and the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations", allowing students to build background knowledge through receptive skills before moving on to productive tasks throughout the theme. They are combined in a meaningful and purposeful way and are integrated to support the learning outcomes of the theme. Although they are sequenced from receptive to productive in the teaching-learning practices, they are always used in a closely linked way that means each activity builds on the previous one to promote language development and to increase communicative competence. The theme " school life and education" is characterised by a balanced integration of all the skills, where students engage with input (listening/watching-comprehension and reading-comprehension) and respond through output (speaking-expression and writing-expression) with the help of their grammar, vocabulary and phonological selection and use skills.

ENG7.1.L1.

PREPARATION FOR LISTENING/WATCHING: Students prepare to access the introduction to the whole theme. The teacher asks the students to remember what they have done during the "establishing links" session for recalling background knowledge about the related concept where they watched a short film scene prepared for that section (which is not a part of the introductory digital story of the theme) (D3.2, V3.4,LS1, LS2, LS4). They remember what they already know about the content to prepare themselves to work on guessing the topic of the current theme (V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS1, LS5). They prepare to access the main materials of the theme for having connections by making predictions based on the short film in the "establishing links" session (D3.8, V3.3, LS1, LS4).

ENG7.1. L2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER BY LISTENING/WATCHING: Students collect "general context clues" to understand the whole content by looking at visual clues before listening (to)/watching. The teacher asks the students to look at any visual material such as pictures, posters, and realia related to the current content to identify the topic of the content and to answer the question "What is the whole content about?" (D3.6, V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS1, LS4,LS5, CS2.2). They can realise that there might be different elements related to this concept (D2.1, V4.5). The teacher asks them to look at the visuals quickly to make predictions about the topic of the whole theme by using the "listening (to)/watching for gist" strategy before listening/watching the main visual material of the theme, which is the introductory digital story (D3.8, V4.5, LS1, LS4, LS5, CS2.11). The teacher asks the students to read the title of the theme and asks them to brainstorm by thinking about which words they already know and whichwords come to mind in connection with the title (D3.4, LS2, CS2.12, CS2.16.2). She/He reminds them not to ask the meanings of any new/target words they do not know at this stage of the lesson. She/He reminds them that this is just a guessing activity to guess the general topic/theme of the context by using the words they already know and that there will be time to work on the new words of the current content later (D1.4, V12.2). At this stage, some guessing games can be played to guess the main topic of the current content/theme by using the clues from the additional visuals such as pictures, posters, etc. related to the content, prepared and produced by the teacher, by using web 2.0 tools (D2.5, D3.3, SELS2.1, V3.4, LS2, LS4, CS2.12).

ENG7.1.L3

MAKING MEANING THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING: Students identify and recognise the topic of the current theme by listening (to)/watching the introductory digital story that provides a context for the whole theme. The teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch the introductory digital story to recognise the topic of the theme in general (This is a kind of preparation to work on the target key vocabulary in the later stages of the lesson(s) (D3.2, V3.4). The teacher asks the students to recall the work done with visuals (the scene from a short film) in the "establishing links" session about the current context shown earlier during the listening (to)/ watching session (D3.2, LS2). Students watch the digital introductory story and consolidate the identification of the target theme as a whole (CS2.13) without stopping the video at any point, so that the students can hear/ see the context as a whole and understand the theme holistically. (D3.1, V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS2, LS4, LS5).

words/phrases, etc. to tick, circle or underline. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard through watching the story very quickly without stopping. The teacher could apply different versions of scanning activities such as finding important elements on a list and circle them, looking at a list and finding which elements do not take place in the story, etc. whenever she/he likes (D3.2, D3.6, D3.7, LS1, CS2.4). In this way, they will be able to understand the story in general through the main elements and components by eliminating the irrelevant ones. Students share with the whole class the words and components they have found and ticked/circled/underlined on the list given by the teacher to them (D2.3, SELS2.1, V4.4). Then they discuss the accuracy of the findings as a whole class (SELS2.2, CS2.8). This is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. After having watched the introductory digital story, the teacher places five headings on the smart board/whiteboard/ blackboard which are on the target vocabulary list of the related theme as clues to the components of the current theme (D3.7, V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS5). She/He places a corresponding picture next to each component and writes the name of each heading. She/He guides students to understand the heading of each category with the help of pictures. The teacher asks the students to work with the words they already know during this phase of the lesson (SELS1.2). Students work on these categories with the help of the scenes from the introductory digital story (D3.6, LS2, LS4). The teacher reads the headings aloud a few times by pointing to the corresponding pictures on the board and the students repeat them. Then the students say the headings all together. For working on the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" further, the teacher asks volunteers to go to the board and choose the picture (already provided by the teacher) to stick/pin/ drag it on the white/black board or the smart board (if the teacher asks) (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS1.2, V3.4, V20.4, LS2, LS4). Then, they say the headings (components) together as a whole class. In this way, the main components of the theme " school life and education" are introduced to the students in English (LS5). At this stage, the meanings of the target words are not studied, but the categorisation of the basic components contributes to their recognition of the concept in general. The teacher could ask the students to decide which words in the introductory digital story they do not know and to note them while reading the text later in the reading session (D1.2, D1.6, D3.8, SELS1.1, V3.4). This could be evaluated as described in items (1), (2), (3), (6) (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. All this work helps them understand the main categories through classifications and also the inferences they make while listening to and watching the introductory digital story and/or examining the picture related to the content. In this way, they recognise and comprehend the main concept as a whole through categorisation, comparison, and inference (D3.6, D3.7, CS2.5, V3.3, LS2, LS4, LS7).

ENG7.1.L4.

REFLECTING ON THE LISTENING/WATCHING PROCESS: Students check the accuracy of their prior guesses, reflect on their ideas and feelings about the listening/watching session, and give feedback to each other. After the students listen (to)/watch the introductory digital story to find the main components of the theme, the teacher asks them whether their guesses they made during the "establishing links" session, looking at visuals session, and their first listening (to)/watching session have been correct (D3.8,V4.2, V4.3, LS2, LS4). As they have already seen a scene from a short film created about the concept of the current theme, during the "establishing links" session earlier, and looked at some supplementary visuals (pictures, the title of the theme) and also they saw the picture related to the introductory digital story they can easily answer what the current theme is about and that their guesses were correct (D3.4, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.8). The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole listening (to)/watching process and students talk about them individually (SELS1.3) and share them with the whole class (D2.3, SELS.2.1, V4.2). After the reflection and feedback session, they talk again about the components of the theme, by correcting their mistakes or improving their ideas (SELS2.2, V4.2, V10.3).

ENG7.1.P1.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Students recognise the pronunciation and other phonological aspects of target utterances, including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme. The teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch an extract from the introductory digital story as the main context for noticing the target phonological elements (LS1, LS2, LS4). She/He asks them to pay attention to the target pronunciation and/or other phonological aspects in the current content. The teacher asks them to notice how the target phonological aspects are used in context. Starting with the extract from the digital story, students go on with other contextual examples and activities to hear and understand the use of target elements in context (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4).
SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION (AND OTHER PHONOLOGICAL ASPECTS): Students select and use accurate, natural, and authentic target pronunciation and other phonological aspects of the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme " school life and education". After recognition activities, students repeat the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme aloud a few times as a whole class with accurate and natural pronunciation and other phonological aspects after listening (to)/watching the recordings that the teacher has prepared beforehand using some Web 2.0 programmes or some other AI-based technologies (D3.2, V3.4, LS1, LS2). To help the students pronounce the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds accurately, the teacher could offer variations with some techniques such as showing the target utterance to the students and they say it or letting them listen to the recording, then turning off the recording randomly and students say the utterances they hear from the recording (D3.2, D3.7, D2.3). Several fun pronunciation games could be played, such as shadow reading, bingo, odd one out, pronunciation maze, minimal pairs, rhyming games, and several sound exercises by getting help from AI technologies (D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, V4.2, LS1, LS2, LS4). Along with the target utterances, the target sounds such as vowels, consonants, and diphthongs of the theme are also practised in the same ways. This is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) as described in the section1.2.Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D3.2, D3.6, D3.7).

FURTHER PRACTICE OF THE TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Students practise pronunciation with further activities for practice, consolidation, feedback and reflection. The teacher could use tape recording and feedback techniques. Students read aloud and record a text with the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme provided by the teacher, at home (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS3.1, V4.1,V5.1, LS2, LS5). They bring their recording (s) to school. First, they listen to the correct pronunciation of the text,provided by the teacher, in class. Then they listen to the recordings of individual students. During or after listening to the texts recorded by the students at home, the students give self-feedback or peer feedback on the pronunciation of the words in the recordings (D2.4, D3.6, SELS1.3, SELS2.2, V4.1, V12.1, V14.1, LS1, LS5). If available, a different version of the recording technique could be applied in the class. The teacher asks the students to discuss, say/talk about something, which they already know, related to the theme. Groups take turns to talk and the rest of the class listens (D2.3, D2.4, SELS2.2). During this session, the teacher records their discussions. After each group's performance, the class listens to the recording for pronunciation and everyone gives feedback on it, including the individual students who have spoken during the discussion (D1.2, D1.6, D2.4, SELS2.2, V4.2, V5.1, V9.2, LS1). The teacher can get help from AI-based technologies for these activities if available. Students' performances are evaluated as explained in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole pronunciation process and students talk about them individually (SELS1.3) and share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS2.1, SELS2.2, V4.2, V5.1, V9.2, LS2, CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they talk again about the components of the theme, by correcting their mistakes or improving their ideas (SELS1.2, V3.3, V6.2,V10.3, LS1, LS2).

PREPARATION FOR THE WORK ON THE TARGET VOCABULARY: To scan for finding the main components of the theme "school life and education", the teacher asks the students to listen to and watch the introductory digital story to remember the topic of content mentioned in the previous listening/watching sessions. The teacher also asks them to check their predictions made in the first listening/watching session at the beginning of the lessons on the current theme once more again (D3.8, D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS7). Then the teacher asks the students to read the relevant parts of the written version of the introductory digital story provided by the teacher by scanning (reading very quickly) to check the main components and categories with the help of visual elements such as pictures, symbols, drawings, illustrations with the headings that the teacher has previously written on the smart board/white board/blackboard in relation to the main components of the theme "school life and education" (D3.7, D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.8). Students read the written extract from the story very quickly to check the main components corresponding to the headings that the teacher has written on the board and then they tick/circle/underline them on the list (already provided by the teacher) at their seats (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4). The teacher could apply different versions of scanning activities such as finding important components, categories, and elements on a list and circle them, looking at a list and finding which elements do not take place in the story, etc. whenever she/he likes (LS1, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.8). In this way, they can understand the story in general better with the help of reading this time after the listening/watching sessions held earlier through the main elements and components by eliminating the irrelevant ones (D3.2, D3.6, D3.7, V3.4, LS1, LS2, CS2.16.1). Students share with the whole class the components they have found and ticked/circled/underlined on the list given by the teacher to them (D2.3, SELS2.1). Then they discuss the accuracy of the findings as a whole class (D2.4,D3.6, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, V16.3, LS1, CS2.8).

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY (AS CONTENT KNOWLEDGE): To read for the details for finding the new target vocabulary the teacher asks the students to read the written version of the introductory digital story (or another written text for working on the target vocabulary) in pairs in a jigsaw reading activity (D3.2, SELS2.2). One peer reads the first half of the story/text and the second peer reads the other half silently in a given time (V3.4, V4.1, V9.2, LS1, CS2.6). The teacher asks them to look out for new words whose meanings they do not know during this silent and detailed reading and asks them to look out for new (target) words they have previously noted during the listening/watching sessions (D1.2, D1.6, D3.6, D3.8, V3.3, V16.1, LS7). They are then asked to share these words with their peers without discussing their meanings in the text (D2.4, D3.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, V6.2). The teacher starts working on the new (target) words here. In this way, they have a detailed reading, understand the story better, and find the new (target) words that they do not know to work on.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To separate key (active) and non-key (passive) target vocabulary in context: To check whether the students know any of the target key vocabulary about the content, the teacher asks them to say the new words whose meaning they do not know and which they have noticed and noted during their silent jigsaw reading session and the students do that (D1.2, D1.6, D2.4, D3.2, D3.8, V3.3, V6.2, LS1, LS4). When they say the words, the teacher writes them on the smart board/blackboard/ whiteboard by putting them on two lists. She/He writes the key (active) target words on one list and the non-key (passive) target words on the other list (that she/he has already decided on earlier when planning the lesson). She/He quickly covers the non-key words with examples, pictures, question-answers, however, spends more time on the key target words as described below (D3.2, D3.6, V1.2, V3.4, LS2, LS4).

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To find "part/paragraph context clues" in the parts/paragraphs of the story (context): The teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story again, paying attention to which part of the story the unknown words that they do not know are in the utterances (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4). He wants to introduce the meanings of the target key (active) vocabulary related to the theme that the students do not know part by part. Then she/he asks them to read the first part/paragraph in the written version of the story (or similar text) where the unknown words (active key target vocabulary) appear (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS5, LS7, CS2.8). Then she/he asks them whether they understand the meaning of the part/paragraph (D3.8, SELS3.1). She/He asks them to discuss the meaning of the part/paragraph in pairs in general without knowing the meaning of each new target word and asks what helps them understand the meaning of the part/paragraph (D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.1, LS1, LS7). Students discuss the meaning of the part/paragraph in pairs (D3.10, SELS2.2, V4.2, CS2.18)and report back to the class. The teacher takes notes on the board and writes what the part/paragraph is about in one word/clause/sentence in the story (V6.2, LS1, LS5, CS2.16.1). As each part/ paragraph covers a different but related piece of the whole topic, they realise that each part/paragraph contains new target words about a specific part of the whole theme. This helps them think about what each new target word in each part/paragraph could be about (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, CS2.16.1). These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), and (8) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To find "sentence clues"/"the indirect context clues" for the target key (active) words in the sentences in context: The teacher helps the students deal with each target key word by looking around these words in the sentences for collecting clues which can help them understand the meaning of these unknown target words. Starting from the first unknown target (key) word, students are asked to look at the words around the target (key) words (D3.2, D3.6, D3.8, D3.9, D3.10, SELS3.1, LS1, CS2.1, CS2.16.3). These clues could be linking words, adjectives, adverbs, determiners, suffixes, prefixes, time expressions that can help them understand the meaning of the unknown target word (but they do not talk about the terminology and parts of speeches, instead they talk about the meanings and functions of these supportive surrounding words). The teacher asks students to work in pairs to go through and list the "indirect clues" for each word (D3.5,D3.7, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, CS2.7, CS2.17). When they finish working in pairs, the teacher goes through each word with the whole class and listens to what clues they have found to understand the meaning of the unknown target (key) word in the sentences (SELS3.1,V4.1, LS7). This is evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

RECOGNITION AND SELECTION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To practise with the target words: To practise with the target vocabulary that the students work on through "sentence clues/indirect context clues", the teacher checks their understanding again by showing them some realia that she/he has already provided (D3.2, D3.6, V3.3, LS5,CS2.5). The teacher shows them to the students and asks them to think about what they are and share them with their peers and then they check the answers with the whole class (D2.3, D3.6, SELS2.1, V4.2, CS2.19). Then the teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story again and shows the corresponding pictures to the students when the corresponding vocabulary is mentioned in the story, without stopping the video while they are watching the story (LS2, LS4). When they have watched the whole story, the teacher shows the realia/visual elements, etc. about the content and asks in the form of two options, one of which is a word from the previous themes that they already know (D3.6, LS5, CS2.7, CS3.1). As they have studied the words through the "part/paragraph and sentences clues" in reading the text earlier, the students can choose the correct option when they hear the words for the related theme and they answer them after talking about them in pairs (D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.1, V6.2, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS3.1). In this way they can further practise the meaning of the target words. These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section1.2 Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: Further vocabulary practice through dialogical work: The teacher shows the story again, and from the beginning, whenever a target vocabulary item is mentioned in the story, the teacher stops the video and asks questions (or lets the students ask and answer each other). In this way, they are engaged in various dialogues and use the target words in these dialogues (D2.3, D3.8, SELS2.1,V4.1, V6.2, LS5, LS6, CS2.8). So, they revise and practise the meanings of the target (key) vocabulary of the theme " school life and education". This kind of technique could be applied with different and enjoyable activities according to the preference of the teacher. These activities are conducted in the form of a dialogue where their learning can be checked as described in items (2) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Further activities and games are played at this stage to reinforce the meaning of the target words by using several materials including AI-based and web 2.0 (D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, V4.2, V4.4). They can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology (LS4). These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: Consolidation of the target vocabulary: To further practise the target vocabulary, the teacher can prepare an activity with images/pictures of target vocabulary using the web 2.0 tools. She/He mixes these images/pictures for the target vocabulary items and puts them in a raffle programme by using a web 2.0 tools or a real box in the classroom. She/He asks the students to take turns to go to the white/black board and to draw a picture related to the target components of the current theme (D2.3, SELS1.2). Then students say several things about the items in the picture (D1.5, D2.3, V3.4, LS1, LS5, LS6, CS2.20). The teacher asks the students in their seats to take notes while the student at the white/black board talks about the picture she/he has drawn and to give feedback by raising yes/no cards, or correcting if there are mistakes, etc., and also repeat the sentences after him/her (D3.9, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.4,CS3.3). When the student at the white/black board finishes, the teacher asks her/him to put the picture under the right category that she/he has previously placed on the white/black board earlier. In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the concepts of the target theme will be revised and consolidated once again through categorisation (D3.6, D3.7, CS2.5). The teacher asks the students to write a definition or an example sentence in their personal dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling and definitions (D1.2, D1.6, D3.1, SELS2.2, V3.4, V6.2, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked and evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. When the vocabulary session is over, the teacher asks the students to reflect on their ideas, thoughts, and feelings about the process. Students reflect on their experiences individually and share them with their classmates and the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.1, SELS1.3, SELS2.1, SELS2.2, CS2.15). They also give feedback to each other (D2.1, D2.4, V6.1, V9.2, V10.3).

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS (AS CONTENT KNOWLEDGE): Consciousness raising- discovery for the use of target language structures in inductive learning process: The teacher writes some sentences on the smart board/blackboard/whiteboard and asks them to read the sentences. Then she/he asks them to watch the introductory digital story again to draw their attention to the use of target grammatical structures of the theme " school life and education" (D3.2, LS7). The introductory digital story is replayed so that the students can notice the use of language with the target grammar structures (LS2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the language with the target grammatical structures is used. When the students finish watching the introductory digital story again, the teacher asks the students to read and examine the example sentences carefully (D3.2, D3.6, LS7, CS2.2, CS2.6, CS3.2). Then she/he asks the students to work in pairs and find similar sentences with the target grammar structure (s) in the theme to those written by her/him on the smart board/blackboard/whiteboard (SELS2.2, V 3 .4, CS2.7). The students look at the written version of the story and find similar sentences to those given by the teacher as examples (D3.2, D3.6, CS2.4, CS2.7). The teacher then asks the students to discuss and list the common features in these sentences and what kind of things are used repeatedly and why they think they are used in that way (D3.1, D3.6, D3.10, SELS3.1, V3.3, V4.2, CS2.4, CS3.3). Students examine the teacher's example sentences, find the similar sentences in the written version of the story and discuss them by making a list of similarities and repeated commonalities (D3.6, SELS3.2, V3.3, V3.4, V4.2, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.7). The teacher asks the pairs to say what they have found (D2.3, CS2.10). As the pairs say what they have found, the teacher writes them on the board and gives the class time to look at them and think about them (D3.6, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.3, CS2.10, CS2.16.1, CS3.3). Then the teacher hands out a piece of paper and asks the students to make a rule about what they have noticed regarding the target structures. Students create a rule about the use of target grammatical structures of the theme by working in pairs and they read it to the class and give each other feedback on the rules (D3.1, SELS2.2, SELS3.3, V3.3, LS1, CS2.9,CS2.16.1). The teacher shows a sentence that explains the rule correctly and asks the students to check if their rules are correct or the teacher gives a table in which the rule for the language with the target grammatical structure is incomplete. She/He asks the students to complete it by working in pairs (D3.1, SELS2.2, V4.2). Then they check the rule as the whole class and reflect on their experiences on how and how much they have learnt (D2.4, SELS1.1, SELS1.3, V6.1, V10.3, LS1, CS2.15). This process is applied again for the other target grammatical structures in the theme if there are any. These activities are evaluated as described in items (5), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS IN CONTEXT: Students practise the use of the language including the target grammatical structures: The teacher asks the students to work on grammar tasks she/he assigns (D2.2, D2.3, V3.3, V3.4, CS2.13). These tasks could be the ones that the teacher provides. The teacher shows some other contents in the form of a dialogue, a short paragraph, a short story, etc. with sentences including the target grammar structures and asks the students to find the sentences with the target grammatical structures in them and asks if they understand them easily (D3.2, D3.7, D3.10, CS2.13, CS2.20, CS3.3). She/He facilitates some oral or written activities and exercises for the students to further practise the target grammatical structures in context in pairs or groups (SELS2.2). She/He also facilitates more fun activities and games in which students talk, act out, mime, write, etc. with pen and paper, digital, AI-based, etc. materials and contexts so that they can practise and consolidate the target grammatical structures by selecting and using them accurately, efficiently, and naturally in context (D2.5, D3.2, D3.3, SELS2.1, V4.2, V4.4, LS2, CS2.13). They engage in several dialogic activities in which they share information, ideas and thoughts for communicating with their classmates. They exchange information and ideas to others by using target grammatical content (D3.5, SELS2.2, V3.4). When the session is over, the teacher asks the students to reflect on their ideas, thoughts, and feelings about the grammar discovery and use process. Students reflect on their experiences individually and share them with their classmates and the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS1.3, V6.1, LS6,CS2.15). They also give feedback to each other (D2.1, D2.4, V4.2, V10.3, SELS2.2). This is evaluated as described in items (5), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.1.R1

PREPARING FOR READING: The teacher facilitates reading activities throughout the theme" school life and education" from the first lesson to the end, when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount. Reading starts from earlier stages and continues throughout the theme in various forms and amounts as it is explained above (in the vocabulary section) in terms of how it is taught and when it needs to be clarified. Various reading styles such as silent reading, jigsaw reading and speed reading are used during the pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading phases. The ultimate aim of reading practice is to enhance comprehension, improve fluency, develop critical thinking skills and the ability to comprehend and talk about the current content and related issues in a meaningful way (V3.2, LS1, CS3.3). Students are provided a new text(s) to practise their reading skills through the current theme. They look at the surrounding visual materials, the title of the text and other supportive elements to guess the topic of the new reading content and they make predictions to be checked after reading the text (D1.1, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS4, CS2.2, CS2.11, CS2.16.2).

ENG7.1.R2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH READING: Students read the new reading text carefully to check their predictions made in the preparation session at the beginning of the lesson (SELS1.2, V3.4, LS1, CS2.8). Then they read the text very quickly (scanning) to check the main components and categories with the help of visual elements such as pictures, symbols, drawings, illustrations that are provided by the teacher (V3.3,LS4, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.6). They compare the components they have found in the text with those written by the teacher on the smart board/whiteboard related to the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" (D3.6,V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS2, LS5, CS2.7). Students read the text very quickly to check that the main components correspond to the headings written by the teacher on the board and then they tick/circle/underline them on the list (already provided by the teacher) at their desks (V3.4, LS7, CS2.8). The teacher could use different versions of the scanning activities as described in the "listening/watching- comprehension" section above. In this way, they can understand the text in general better with the help of scanning (CS2.16.1). They share the components with the whole class (SELS2.1) and then they discuss the accuracy of the results as a whole class (D2.3, D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.2, LS1, CS2.8).

ENG7.1.R3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH READING: Students read the new text silently in pairs in a jigsaw reading activity as they have done in the vocabulary session earlier (D3.2, SELS2.2,V4.1). During the reading session, they look out for new words whose meanings they do not know (if there are any, other than the target words previously covered in the listening/watching-comprehension and vocabulary recognition sessions) (CS2.6). They work on the new words in the same way as in the vocabulary sessions. Then they deal with the semantic meaning conveyed in the text through display questions, then semi-closed activities and then open-ended activities (V3.3, V6.2, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.6). They deal with the meaning by using strategies from the closed to the open-ended range to understand the theme " school life and education" in terms of the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" mean from different perspectives to build their own understandings (D3.6, D3.8, SELS3.1, CS2.13). The teacher facilitates a number of activities to help the students improve their comprehension, synthesis and evaluation skills after applying the knowledge they have gained from the reading process (SELS3.2, SELS3.3, CS2.3, CS2.17, CS2.20). After this stage, they work on activities to connect their knowledge and skills they have acquired about the current content with CLIL (history, maths, science, etc.) and cultural issues to be able to enrich their perspectives on the current theme (D3.5, SELS3.2, V1.2, V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, LS1, LS5, LS6,CS2.13, CS2.14). In this way, they will have the opportunity to develop their knowledge and language competence through reading. They can have the opportunity to develop their cognitive, emotional, cultural, social, and creative skills through the process of reading (SELS3.3, V7.2, CS2.20).

ENG7.1.R4.

REFLECTING ON THE READING PROCESS: Students reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole reading-comprehension process (SELS1.3). They talk about them individually and then share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS2.1,V4.2, CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they revise their work by correcting their mistakes and improving their ideas (SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.3, V12.1, LS1).

ENG7.1.W1.

PREPARATION FOR WRITING-EXPRESSION: Students are facilitated throughout the theme with writing activities, from the first lesson to the last when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount of writing. At the beginning of the writing process, students recall their pre-existing knowledge about the current content to make a link between what they know and what they are going to write about (D3.2, SELS1.1, CS2.12). This includes examining all the audio/visual sources and elements provided for understanding the writing task (V3.2,LS1, CS2.2).

ENG7.1.W2.

ANALYSING AND UNDERSTANDING THE MODEL: Students listen (to)/watch and/or read some models of the writing task they have been given (CS2.2). These are limited and short pieces of writing to see how the language, including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, is used in the written language, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme " school life and education". Initially, they practise the language in a more controlled way, writing to repeat or simply explain what they have heard and seen and/ or what they are asked to do about the target theme in context. At this stage, they try to understand how the language is used in the target content by examining the model/example writing carefully (V3.4, LS2, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.19, CS3.2). They try to understand and plan how they can convey the knowledge they have gained throughout the theme, the thoughts, ideas, and feelings they have developed in relation to current content in their later free writing tasks (D3.6, SELS1.2, V3.2, LS1).

ENG7.1.W3.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WRITTEN CONTENT: After working on a sample/model writing task, students begin to produce/construct similar tasks of their own (V16.1). They participate in several writing activities individually, in pairs, in groups and as a whole class (D2.3, SELS2.2, V4.1). Their products could range from writing a word to a phrase, a clause to a full sentence, a group of sentences to a short paragraph, an essay to a short story. These writing activities will help students to produce and display meaningful written language for personal expression by selecting and using target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions in this theme as in others (SELS2.1, LS1, CS2.13).

ENG7.1.W4.

PRACTISING BY PRODUCING WRITTEN CONTENT: Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, essays, diaries/journals, blogs, scripts for plays, documentaries, films, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings in relation to the current topic (D1.5, SELS3.2, V3.4, V7.2, V7.3, LS9, CS2.20). They take part in individual or collaborative projects to improve their writing skills together with social, cultural, cognitive, and affective aspects (D1.4, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.1, V4.2). Within this variety, they can find the opportunities to show how they can use the language that they have learnt to describe and comment on the current content for developing new ideas about them in different genres of writing, according to their potential needs for expressing themselves and communication with others (SELS3.2, SELS3.3, V1.2, V3.4, V14.1,V14.3, LS5, CS2.14, CS3.3). Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice (D2.5,LS9).

ENG7.1.W5.

PROCESS WRITING: Controlled writing of words, sentences and paragraphs turns to process writing with the support of the teacher's and also peers' feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported with additional activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V3.4, V7.2, V7.3, LS9,CS2.13, CS2.14). A. All the content is formed as contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests, and language level. Students improve their writing after reviewing the feedback they receive and this spiral, cyclical, and ongoing work becomes a progressive path for students (D3.1, SELS1.2, V12.3, LS1, CS3.1).

ENG7.1.W6.

RECONSTRUCTING/COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students communicate their ideas, thoughts and feelings about the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" through their writing tasks (V1.2,V3.4, V14.1, V14.3, CS3.3). They can use AI-based technologies for various activities, by having access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital written materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways to interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside and outside school by using the language including target words, language chunks, and the social language expressions for the relevant theme in their writing (D3.3, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V11.1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.20). All writing activities can be evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (5), (9), (10), (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.1.W7.

REFLECTING THROUGH WRITING: The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole writing-expression process (SELS1.3) and students talk about them individually and share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3,SELS2.1, V4.2, CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they revise their work by correcting their mistakes and improving their ideas (SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.3, V12.1,LS1).

SPEAKING-EXPRESSION

Practising through speaking from controlled to communicative stages: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the last. Speaking activities support students' learning and help them to produce meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others, by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions of the theme. (V3.4, V4.5, LS1, LS5).

ENG7.1.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: In the beginning, students recall their background knowledge about the theme through listening/watching and/or reading and then they talk about it (SELS1.1, CS2.12). Students practise the target language items in a controlled way, by saying, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context, for instance, in the introductory digital story and the listening and reading sections in different contexts (SELS3.2). Then they can expand their language use and practice in each section by increasing the amount of speaking they do (D1.3, V3.4, LS1, CS2.13).

ENG7.1.S2.

ANALYSING AND UNDERSTANDING THE MODEL: Students listen (to)/watch and/or read some models of the speaking task they have been given (CS2.2). These are limited and short pieces of speaking to see how the language, including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, is used in the spoken language, after hearing them through listening activities in the theme. Initially, they practise the language in a more controlled way, repeating some utterances, simply explaining what they have heard and seen, and/or what they are asked to do about the target theme in context. At this stage, they try to understand how the language is used in the target content by examining the speaking model/example carefully (V1.2, V3.4, V14.1,V14.3, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.19, CS3.2). They try to understand and plan how they can convey the knowledge they have gained throughout the theme, the thoughts, ideas, and feelings they have developed in relation to the current theme in their later free speaking tasks (D3.6, SELS1.2, V3.2, V3.4, LS5).

ENG7.1.S3.

PRODUCTION OF MEANINGFUL AND ACCURATE CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons, the teacher prepares new contexts for the students in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. as new opportunities to practise further by seeing/hearing/reading the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme " school life and education" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS3.2, V7.2, LS9). These newly created contents are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. They participate in such speaking activities individually, in pairs, in groups and as a whole class (D3.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, CS2.20).

ENG7.1.S4.

CONSTRUCTING MEANINGFUL SPOKEN CONTENT: Students produce various spoken content and their products could range from producing a simple utterance including a word to a phrase, a clause to a full sentence, a group of sentences to a short speech, a dialogue to a spoken presentation (SELS3.3, V3.4, CS2.20). These speaking activities will help students to produce accurate and meaningful spoken language for personal expression by selecting and using target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions in this theme " school life and education" as in others (D3.6, SELS2.1, CS2.13).

ENG7.1.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING/COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Collaborative and communicative activities are designed and used to revise and consolidate the whole theme " school life and education" on the sub-themes of "extra-curricular activities at school; competitions and celebrations at school; national days and celebrations" (V4.5, LS5, CS2.13, CS2.14). Storification, drama, and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further speaking practice throughout the theme (SELS2.1, SELS2.2, V4.1, V4.2, LS4, LS9). Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, short texts, presentations, etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people inside and/or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and social language expressions for the current theme (SELS2.3, V3.4, V7.1, V7.2, LS1, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects for speaking at school and at home through recordings (D3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2, V7.3, V11.1, LS2). All these speaking activities can be evaluated as described in items (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (7), (8), (9), (10), and (11) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.1.S6.

REFLECTING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students are encouraged to reflect individually or collaboratively in groups on their own individual learning (SELS1.3) or on their collaborative learning in pairs, groups or as a whole class collaboratively (D2.3, SELS2.2, CS2.15). The activities will help and support students in these feedback and reflection sessions. Their feedback is shared with peers and the teacher and takes the form of interactive and ongoing feedback that can help their own improvement (SELS1.2, SELS2.1) and also they contribute to the improvement of their peers in their learning processes (V4.1, V4.3,V12.1, V12.3, LS1).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To engage students in conversations, foster their creativity and presentation skills in English by using the target vocabulary and the language with grammatical structures (Simple Present Tense- Modal/ Must)

Activity: Role-play

The teacher prepares some questions (e.g., How do you usually feel when you win a prize? How do you celebrate when you become first? What must a person do to break a record?) and begins the activity by giving a situation (e.g., There is a student. She/He is good at swimming, and she/he usually wins the competitions) for the role-play activity. Then she/he divides the class into pairs and asks the students to make an interview with this student by using the questions she has handed out to each pair and answer them meaningfully. The paired students work together, and they act out their dialogues; one of the pairs as the swimmer, the other one as an interviewer. The students give a 'stars' rating (1-5) for their peers' performance and a short explanation by completing sentence beginnings, e.g., "I gave you _____ because your _____ is good, but you should _____". The teacher provides constructive feedback on students' performance in terms of accurate and adequate use of target vocabulary and grammar and their presentation. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

Objective: To engage students in conversations, foster their creativity and presentation skills in English by using the target vocabulary and the language with grammatical structures (Simple Present Tense- Modal/ Must)

Activity: Role-play

The teacher prepares some questions and incomplete forms of the answers (e.g., How do you usually feel when you win a prize? - I feel ..... How do you celebrate when you become first?- I blow ....., What must a person do to break a record?- We must .....) and begins the activity by giving a situation (eg., There is a student. She/He is good at swimming, and she/he usually wins the competitions) for the role-play activity. Then she/he divides the class into pairs and asks the students to make an interview with this student by using the questions she has handed out to each pair and answer them meaningfully. THEME 2: CLASSROOM LIFE & LEARNING

Sub-themes: Technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)

This theme is centred on the concept of "classroom life and learning" and covers the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.7.2.L1. Students can prepare and get ready for listening (to)/watching about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience about the current theme and content to recall their background knowledge by investigating it carefully.

b) Students identify significant and necessary relationships and connections between their pre-existing knowledge, their past experience and the clues to the current content by responding to meaningful questions about it (without speaking Turkish or using a translation).

c) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by using their pre-existing knowledge and past experience of the content.

d) Students make rational predictions about the current content by looking at the supplementary visual elements provided.

ENG.7.2.L2. Students can bring together the information in the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students identify the main topic of the current content in general by listening (to)/watching it as a whole in its context.

b) Students recognise the significant details and basic components of the current content within the whole by listening (to) and watching the whole content carefully to notice them.

ENG.7.2.L3. Students can make sense of and derive meaning from the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students check their initial predictions about the current content by being aware of the commonalities between their self-predictions and the clues provided as visuals surrounding the content.

b) Students make significant and necessary classifications in the current content that affect the meaning of the generally perceived content.

c) Students make significant and necessary comparisons in the generally perceived current content to highlight differences between two or more different things by using visuals, ensuring clarity and meaning.

d) Students recognise significant branching, linear or spiral relationships (if any) within the generally perceived current content.

e) Students make essential inferences and deductions to understand the meaning of the generally perceived current content better.

f) Students strongly recognise the holistic meaning formed by the components, comparisons, classifications, and details related to the current content.

g) Students construct a detailed understanding of the meaning of the current content through prior classifications, comparisons, and inferences/deductions.

h) Students position, internalise and personalise current content in an individualised, age-appropriate and level-appropriate way.

ENG.7.2.L4. Students can reflect on the information, experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the listening (to)/watching process about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students individually convey their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that are critically reviewed in relation to the current listening (to)/watching contents and the process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current listening (to)/watching content and process with others.

c) Students produce new audio/visual products individually by revising their personal work after participating in reflective activities related to the listening (to)/watching process of the current content.

ENG.7.2.P1. Students can select and use target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of target sounds, words, phrases, clauses, and sentences in utterances authentically, naturally, and accurately in the current content about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" to develop holistic and conscious pronunciation skills after recognising them in context.

a) Students recognise the target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of target sounds, words, phrases and sentences in utterances within the current content by listening (to)/ watching it, first as a whole and then with pauses.

b) Students repeat utterances, including target sentences, clauses, phrases, and words with target theme-specific sounds by considering phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation accurately and naturally in the content several times as a whole class and then in groups and individually.

c) Students talk about the current content by taking part in small group conversations by paying attention to select and use accurate phonological aspects such as pronunciation, intonation, stress, and other features as they are understood.

d) Students reflect personally on their pronunciation and other target phonological aspects such as intonation after recording and listening to group conversations about the target content.

e) Students evaluate feedback from others and their personal feedback and reflection by listening to or watching the audio/visual content again to check for accuracy.

f) Students utilise the target phonological aspects such as pronunciation and intonation of utterances including target sounds of the current content, appropriately, effectively, accurately, naturally, automatically, and consciously when communicating with others in different contexts.

ENG.7.2.R1. Students can prepare for reading the content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" efficiently and effectively.

a) Students recall and activate significant pre-existing knowledge and past experiences that can be related to the current theme and content through careful exploration.

b) Students recognise significant relationships between pre-existing knowledge, past experiences and clues to current content.

c) Students make strong preliminary predictions about the current content based on explored and recognised relationships.

d) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by exploring and examining the audio-visual clues in relation to it.

ENG.7.2.R2. Students can bring information together about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" through skimming, scanning and detailed reading.

a) Students skim the current content by looking very quickly and carefully at the surrounding visual materials to identify its general focus.

b) Students scan the current content by reading it silently and quickly to find key and major components.

c) Students read the current content again silently and carefully to examine any significant semantic and structural details.

d) Students examine the semantic details in the content carefully to check the accuracy of their initial predictions.

ENG.7.2.R3. Students can make sense of and derive meaning from the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students classify significant and necessary elements of the current content in a meaningful way.

b) Students compare significant and key elements of the current content with each other or with similar ones in a meaningful way.

c) Students recognise significant and basic spiral, causal, and logical relationships in the current content through careful examination and analysis.

d) Students make meaningful inferences from information in the current content by examining it critically.

e) Students internalise their meaningful inferences from information in the current content in an individualised way appropriate to their age and language level.

ENG.7.2.R4. Students can reflect on the information, experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the reading process about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current reading-comprehension content and process with others.

c) Students produce new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current reading-comprehension content and process.

ENG.7.2.V1. Students can select and use target vocabulary efficiently, effectively, and accurately, based on the current content about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" after recognising them in context and developing their conscious and inductive vocabulary learning skills.

a) Students make predictions about the main topic of the current content by identifying "general contextual clues" from the visual, audio, and written preparation materials provided during the "listening/watching for gist" and/or reading for "skimming" sessions.

b) Students check the accuracy of the predictions related to the "general contextual clue" by listening to, watching, and/or reading the audio, visual, and/or written content in context.

c) Students search the target audio/visual, and/or written content by scanning to find key components of the theme.

d) Students listen/watch the content carefully and/or read it silently to identify and underline/circle target unknown words.

e) Students separate target (key-active) words from the other (non-key-passive) words in the target content.

f) Students examine relevant target words, phrases, and expressions in the current content to understand how and where they are used.

g) Students determine paragraph context clues to identify the topics of the parts/paragraphs containing unknown target words.

h) Students discuss the meaning of the target words by finding indirect sentence context clues in the assigned sentences of the parts/paragraphs of the content.

i) Students determine the correct meanings of the target words in the current content in pairs or groups by comparing the meanings/definitions proposed.

j) Students confirm the accuracy of the meanings/definitions of the target words in the current content by consulting with the teacher, the class and/or by using printed or digital dictionaries.

k) Students make use of the target words of the current theme in a range of semantically associated contextual activities and tasks accurately, naturally, authentically, and appropriately.

l) Students make use of the target words of the current theme accurately, naturally, appropriately and effectively through careful selection when communicating with others.

ENG.7.2.G1. Students can select and use target grammatical language items efficiently, effectively, and accurately, based on the current content about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)", after recognising them in context and developing their conscious and inductive grammaring skills through consciousness-raising and discovery.

a) Students listen to, watch, and/or read the audio, visual, and written current content presented in context that introduces the general use of the target language structures in the current theme.

b) Students examine example sentences provided by the teacher or instructional materials including target grammatical items to see how the target grammatical structure(s) of the target theme is/are used to construct a meaning or contribute to meaning.

c) Students analyse current audio, visual, and/or written content presented in context to identify sentences similar to those provided as examples.

d) Students find the commonalities between the sentences identified and those exemplified by the teacher or materials through careful comparison in pairs and/or groups.

e) Students discover the characteristics of the commonalities in the sentences in the current content by discussing them in pairs or groups as an awareness/consciousness-raising activity.

f) Students formulate rule(s) about the same/target grammar structure(s) of the current theme based on their observations and discussions in pairs or groups.

g) Students engage in contextual activities on the use of target grammatical structures (grammaring) of the current theme to explain and justify the grammar rule(s) they have discovered.

h) Students practise to consolidate their understanding of the target grammar that they discovered by selecting accurate and meaningful items in meaningful and contextualised activities.

i) Students produce accurate and unique verbal or written content by using target grammar consciously and in a natural way, without thinking about the rules.

j) Students produce new spoken/written content by using the target grammatical structures efficiently, authentically, automatically, and naturally in context when communicating with others without thinking about rules.

ENG.7.2.W1. Students can prepare for writing efficiently and accurately based on the current content about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students relate pre-existing knowledge and experiences from initial listening, watching, and reading processes to current content by examining and activating them.

b) Students understand what the current writing task requires in terms of content and purpose in relation to the current content accurately by applying pre-existing knowledge and experiences, following guided instructions.

ENG.7.2.W2. Students can analyse and understand a provided model to guide them in producing similar writing tasks related to the content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students grasp the significant and basic components of the content in the model/sample provided for the assigned writing task, including word selection and use, grammar selection and use, and other details such as type, style, and meaning as required.

ENG.7.2.W3. Students can construct new written content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" based on their understanding of the model(s) provided.

a) Students share their ideas and thoughts by brainstorming through collaborative discussion to generate ideas for the new (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task related to the current theme.

b) Students plan how the knowledge and ideas generated during the brainstorming session can be applied to their new (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task related to the current theme.

c) Students conduct preliminary research relevant to the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task on the current content, considering the type of writing, age appropriateness, and language level.

d) Students produce a well-organised and detailed draft relevant to the (prepared and/or unprepared) type of writing and appropriate for the age and language level.

e) Students organise and develop contextual materials relevant to the type of the assigned task (prepared and/or unprepared) and appropriate to age and language level.

f) Students modify the content they produce for the assigned writing task in a coherent and meaningful way, consistent with the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) type of writing, and appropriate to the age and language level.

ENG.7.2.W4. Students can practise producing written content based on the current theme "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students present relevant supportive materials appropriate to the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task, considering the type of writing and appropriate to the age and language level.

b) Students use appropriate discourse forms, styles, and strategies for the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task, considering its writing type and appropriate to their age and language level.

c) Students use target words and grammatical language structures accurately and appropriately in their writing tasks, by selecting necessary and appropriate ones in line with the assigned type of writing and appropriate to the age and language level.

d) Students express their messages about the current content clearly to the reader in the assigned (prepared and/or unprepared) writing task.

ENG.7.2.W5. Students can engage in the process of writing related to the content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students review the feedback from the teacher and/or peers critically on their prepared and/or unprepared writing task(s).

b) Students revise to reorganise the written content of their prepared and/or unprepared task based on the feedback received from the teacher and/or peers.

c) Students refine and develop their written content produced for their prepared/unprepared writing task through the iterative feedback process.

ENG.7.2.W6. Students can reconstruct their writing about the current theme on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" to communicate effectively about it.

a) Students adapt and use individually internalised information in current or similar content by selecting and reorganising it meaningfully in written form as necessary when communicating with other people in different contexts.

b) Students exchange information and ideas in written communication by sharing reconstructed meaningful knowledge and content with others.

ENG.7.2.W7. Students can reflect on their experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the writing process about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students convey individually the knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings they review critically in relation to their current writing-expression content and process.

b) Students share their personal verbal and written knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current writing-expression content and process with others.

c) Students produce their new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current writing-expression content and process.

ENG.7.2.S1. Students can prepare themselves to speak meaningfully, fluently, and efficiently about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students relate current content by analysing pre-existing knowledge and experiences from earlier listening, watching, and reading sessions to associate them with the current content.

ENG.7.2.S2. Students can analyse and understand the model content related to "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" to support the production of spoken language.

a) Students grasp what the provided model/example is about with the help of audio, visual, and/or written elements after listening, watching, and/or reading the current content.

ENG.7.2.S3. Students can produce meaningful and accurate spoken content related to the current theme on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)".

a) Students recognise which form and type of spoken content is expected and assigned based on the model/example about the current theme for both prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations through careful examination.

b) Students conduct preliminary research on the expected and assigned content to be produced for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

c) Students develop a draft outline in accordance with the assigned prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations as presented in the model/example, appropriate to the age and language level based on the current theme.

d) Students organise supplementary audio-visual materials in accordance with the assigned task as presented in the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations and appropriate to their age and language level.

e) Students organise information related to the current content to be presented, appropriate to the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

f) Students critically review their prepared presentation content for accuracy, coherence, and appropriateness to audience and context in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.7.2.S4. Students can construct meaningful spoken content about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" through efficient and meaningful practice.

a) Students make spoken content clear and understandable to listeners by selecting and using style and form appropriate to age and language level in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

b) Students present their spoken content by selecting and using materials appropriate to the context, age, language level, style, and type of discourse, similar to those presented in the model/example for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

c) Students present their spoken content by selecting and using target vocabulary and language structures similar and/or appropriate to those presented in the model/example considering their age, language level, context, style, and type of discourse for prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

d) Students convey relevant explicit, implicit, and/or complex messages related to the current content clearly in context to the listeners by using appropriate material and body language in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

e) Students convey their messages about the current content clearly to the listeners by incorporating all the necessary semantic elements in prepared and/or unprepared speaking situations.

ENG.7.2.S5. Students can reconstruct the information about "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" when communicating with others.

a) Students use the same or similar information presented in the current content in verbal or written forms in different contexts by reorganising it meaningfully, accurately, effectively, efficiently, functionally, and individually as required.

b) Students engage in verbal and/or written communication by sharing the reconstructed meaningful information about the current content with others.

ENG.7.2.S6. Students can reflect on their experiences, thoughts, ideas, and feelings related to the speaking process about the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" in relation to themselves or others, both individually and/or with others.

a) Students reveal their knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they review critically in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process.

b) Students share their personal knowledge, experiences, thoughts, and feelings that they critically review in relation to the current speaking-expression content and process with others.

c) Students produce new verbal and written work after participating in reflective activities related to the current speaking-expression content and process.

CONTENT FRAME

CLASSROOM LIFE & LEARNING

Sub-themes: Technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)

Target Vocabulary in Use (with revisional vocabulary):
Vocabulary for technological tools for learning:
Nouns: An app, a mobile device, a laptop, a printer, a screen, a speaker, a tablet, a tool, a website, a code, an error, electricity, a virus, an external memory.
Verbs: To connect, to print.
Adjectives: Digital.
Vocabulary for learning activities in the classroom:
Nouns: A circle, a cross, a decision, a discussion, a memory, a speech, a context, a degree, understanding, streaming, household.
Verbs: To circle, to express, to succeed, to present, to pronounce, to be good at, to be bad at, to play (a critical role).
Adverbs: Correctly, sure.
Adjectives: Confusing.
Vocabulary for cardinal numbers (500-1000)
Vocabulary for ordinal numbers (50-100)
National and Religious Days, Festivals, and Celebrations: "29 October Republic Day", "23 April National Sovereignty and Children's Day", "19 May Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day", "15 July Democracy and National Unity Day", "30 August Victory Day", "Eid al-Fitr (Eid-al-Ramadan)", "Festival of Sacrifice (Eid-al-Adha)".
*(Relevant language content and (communicative) activities related to these national and religious days, festivals, and celebrations will be developed and integrated across all themes and in all appropriate sections wherever and whenever possible.)
Local Cultural, Social and Moral Considerations of the Theme
In this theme, specific examples, cases, situations, events, and practices reflecting Turkish social, cultural, and moral customs, traditions, and heritage will be included across all sub-themes. This consideration will be age-and-level appropriate and selected with the Turkish learners' social and cultural context in mind. A table for this section is provided in the introduction to the whole English Language Curriculum.

Target Grammatical Structures in Use:
-The Simple Present Tense vs Present Progressive Tense: (I use an app every day to check my schedule. The students are expressing their opinions in the discussion right now).
-Question tags for the Simple Present Tense and Present Progressive Tense: (You use a website to learn new things, don't you? They are using a tablet to search for information, aren't they?)
-Will for help: (I will fix the virus problem on your computer).
Functions of the Grammatical Structures in Use:
-Use of the Simple Present Tense vs Present Progressive Tense: Distinguishing regular actions, habits, general truths, permanent situations and actions happening at the moment of speaking, and temporary activities.
-Use of question tags for the Simple Present Tense and Present Progressive Tense: Confirming information or actions that are happening at the moment.
-Use of will for help: Offering help.

Target Social Language in Use:
No cutting corners at school, do your best at school!
I never throw in the towel, I always try again!

Slow down and double-check your work!

Target Phonological Sounds in Use:

Intonation of negative statements

Generalisations/Principles/Key Concepts

Generalisations

The target concept of this theme "classroom life and learning" and its components such as "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" is present in almost all languages. People who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge with them and transfer it to their new language learning. For instance, a lower-secondary school student will know what "classroom life and learning" and its components such as "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" means but will not know how to say them in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. However, this existing knowledge in their own language will help them recognise, understand, and learn the new information more easily in a foreign language, in this case, English.

Key Concepts

INDICATORS FOR LEARNING (Assessment and Evaluation)

EVALUATION FOR THE SKILLS AND THE CONTENT:

PERFORMANCE ASSIGNMENT: Students will prepare a digital slideshow about "Classroom Life and Learning". They will include three slides: one featuring technological tools they use for learning, another describing at least three classroom learning activities they enjoy, and a final slide using cardinal numbers (500-1000) and ordinal numbers (50-100) creatively in sentences. For instance, they might mention the number of students in their school or the rank of favourite activities. Students will present their slideshows to the class, explaining their content clearly and briefly. The assignment will be evaluated by using a rubric scheme, a rating scale, and/or a marking scheme.

LEARNING-TEACHING EXPERIENCES

Basic Acceptations: Preparedness/ Readiness

This theme is based on the students' knowledge of "classroom life and learning" and its components such as "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)". As they are lower-secondary school students in year 7 (seven), they can know what "classroom life and learning" and these components mean in their own language as it is known that almost all people who start to learn a new language bring their pre-existing knowledge (in their own language) with them and transfer it to their new language learning context. However, they may not know how to say these things in a foreign language if this has not yet been covered in their existing curriculum. Fortunately, this existing knowledge in their own language can help them recognise, understand, and learn them more easily in a foreign language, in this case English.

As they are students in year 7 of lower-secondary school, they can know some basic vocabulary about "classroom life and learning" and also some necessary structures in English from the previous themes and/or years. These grammar items and vocabulary are revised during the "Revision Programme" at the beginning of the year, and they can be used as a basis for learning the new vocabulary and grammatical items in the current theme, so that the new grammatical elements in the current theme can be learnt easily.

Pre-Evaluation Process

It is expected that students' physical, cognitive, affective, and social factors are appropriate and suitable for learning about the "classroom life and learning" and its components such as "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)". Recalling and practising with relevant vocabulary and grammatical items in English that they have learnt in the previous years would be helpful as a basis for moving on and learning the current content on the concept of "classroom life and learning". Therefore, a dialogue game can be played to revise all vocabulary and grammatical items from the previous themes in previous years by giving instructions in English as a preparation practice. In this way, their performance can be evaluated by seeing how much they remember and how much they are able to understand and use the previously learnt vocabulary and chunks to build their competence in the current theme. It can be decided what to emphasise or practise in order to revise the previous knowledge and to facilitate the new vocabulary and chunks in the current theme. (Their performance can be evaluated by rubrics throughout these practices.)

Establishing Links

Students are asked to recall the concept of "classroom life and learning" by remembering their pre-existing background knowledge about it (imaginatively through thinking) in their own language to make links with the current activities in the theme in English without saying anything in Turkish and without translating anything until they start learning the target words in the current (new) concept in English. To remind them of their pre-existing background knowledge they already have about the current concept, many materials such as "a scene from a short film, a passage from a book, a part from a personal diary (journal), a part of a story, a collection of pictures, a part of an animation, a poster, an excerpt from a video etc." related to this content can be shared with the class before the main teaching/learning flow begins. The materials about the current concept would give a general idea of the theme. Students are work on the material according to the instructions and try to grasp it. The teacher tries to check if they have an idea about the topic of the new theme with several activities. When they have finished working on them, the teacher asks them in English if they have understood what has been in the material. She/He asks them to write a related words that they already know (learnt in previous years) in English on a piece of paper and put it in the jar/ box that she/he has prepared. Alternative ways for checking their comprehension could be tried by the teacher.
They wait for it until they see the next visual, which is the main entry material of the theme, the digital introductory story, to see if their thoughts/guesses are true or not without asking any further questions.

Learning-Teaching Practices

WARM-UP TO THE WHOLE THEME (WELL-BEING)

Before starting to work on the theme "classroom life and learning" in the classroom, to prepare the students emotionally, cognitively, psychologically, and physically, a fun non-theme warm-up activity can be done as an icebreaker to help the students feel positive and ready for the whole learning process in class for their well-being (D1.5, V12.1, V13.4). This could be an activity such as a short game, a physical activity, listening to/ singing a song/chant/rhyme, doing a riddle, solving a puzzle, saying a tongue twister, listening to an anecdote, a very short story, watching a pantomime/online story, etc. that has no relation or connection to the current theme and does not require any knowledge of the current theme in English (D2.5, D3.3, SELS2.1, V4.4, V7.2, V13.2, LS4). That is only for relaxation and preparation for the lesson.

INTEGRATION OF LANGUAGE SKILLS IN THE THEME

All language skills are used in an integrated way around a central topic "classroom life and learning" and the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)", allowing students to build background knowledge through receptive skills before moving on to productive tasks throughout the theme. They are combined in a meaningful and purposeful way and are integrated to support the learning outcomes of the theme. Although they are sequenced from receptive to productive in the teaching-learning practices, they are always used in a closely linked way that means each activity builds on the previous one to promote language development and to increase communicative competence. The theme "classroom life and learning" is characterised by a balanced integration of all the skills, where students engage with input (listening/watching-comprehension and reading-comprehension) and respond through output (speaking-expression and writing-expression) with the help of their grammar, vocabulary and phonological selection and use skills.

ENG7.2.L1.

PREPARATION FOR LISTENING/WATCHING: Students prepare to access the introduction to the whole theme. The teacher asks the students to remember what they have done during the "establishing links" session for recalling background knowledge about the concept of "classroom life and learning", where they watched a short film scene prepared for that section (which is not a part of the introductory digital story of the theme) (D3.2, V3.4,LS1, LS2, LS4). They remember what they already know about "classroom life and learning" to prepare themselves to work on guessing the topic of the current theme, "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" (V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS1, LS5). They prepare to access the main materials of the theme for having connections by making predictions based on the short film in the "establishing links" session (D3.8, V3.3, LS1, LS4).

ENG7.2.L2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER BY LISTENING/WATCHING: Students collect "general context clues" to understand the whole content by looking at visual clues before listening (to)/watching. The teacher asks the students to look at any visual material such as pictures, posters, and realia related to the current content on "classroom life and learning with technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" to identify the topic of the content and to answer the question "What is the whole content about (D3.6, V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS1, LS4, LS5, CS2.2). They can realise that there might be different elements related to this concept (D2.1, V4.5). The teacher asks them to look at the visuals quickly to make predictions about the topic of the whole theme by using the "listening (to)/watching for gist" strategy before listening/watching the main visual material of the theme, which is the introductory digital story (D3.8, V4.5, LS1, LS4, LS5, CS2.11). The teacher asks the students to read the title of the theme and asks them to brainstorm by thinking about which words they already know and whichwords come to mind in connection with the title (D3.4, LS2, CS2.12, CS2.16.2). She/He reminds them not to ask the meanings of any new/target words they do not know at this stage of the lesson. She/He reminds them that this is just a guessing activity to guess the general topic/theme of the context by using the words they already know and that there will be time to work on the new words of the current content later (D1.4, V12.2). At this stage, some guessing games can be played to guess the main topic of the current content/theme by using the clues from the additional visuals such as pictures, posters, etc. related to the content, prepared and produced by the teacher, by using web 2.0 tools (D2.5, D3.3, SELS2.1, V3.4, LS2, LS4, CS2.12).

MAKING MEANING THROUGH LISTENING/WATCHING: Students identify and recognise the topic of the current theme by listening (to)/watching the introductory digital story that provides a context for the whole theme. The teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch the introductory digital story to recognise the topic of the theme in general (This is a kind of preparation to work on the target key vocabulary in the later stages of the lesson(s) (D3.2, V3.4). The teacher asks the students to recall the work done with visuals (the scene from a short film) in the "establishing links" session about the current context shown earlier during the listening (to)/ watching session (D3.2, LS2). Students watch the digital introductory story and consolidate the identification of the target theme as a whole (CS2.13) without stopping the video at any point, so that the students can hear/ see the context as a whole and understand the theme holistically. (D3.1, V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS2, LS4, LS5).

students learn and know more about the current theme. She/He asks the students to listen and watch the story again without stopping, by scanning/looking for any relevant words or concepts that are heard in the story (D3.6, V3.4, LS2, LS4, LS7). The teacher hands out a sheet to the students on which there is a list of words/phrases, etc. to tick, circle or underline. Students circle or tick the ones that they have heard through watching the story very quickly without stopping. The teacher could apply different versions of scanning activities such as finding important elements on a list and circle them, looking at a list and finding which elements do not take place in the story, etc. whenever she/he likes (D3.2, D3.6, D3.7, LS1, CS2.4). In this way, they will be able to understand the story in general through the main elements and components by eliminating the irrelevant ones. Students share with the whole class the words and components they have found and ticked/circled/underlined on the list given by the teacher to them (D2.3, SELS2.1, V4.4). Then they discuss the accuracy of the findings as a whole class (SELS2.2, CS2.8). This is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. After having watched the introductory digital story, the teacher places five headings on the smart board/whiteboard/ blackboard which are on the target vocabulary list of the related theme as clues to the components of the current theme (D3.7, V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS5). She/He places a corresponding picture next to each component and writes the name of each heading. She/He guides students to understand the heading of each category with the help of pictures. The teacher asks the students to work with the words they already know during this phase of the lesson (SELS1.2). Students work on these categories with the help of the scenes from the introductory digital story (D3.6, LS2, LS4). The teacher reads the headings aloud a few times by pointing to the corresponding pictures on the board and the students repeat them. Then the students say the headings all together. For working on the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)"further, the teacher asks volunteers to go to the board and choose the picture (already provided by the teacher) to stick/pin/ drag it on the white/ black board or the smart board (if the teacher asks) (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS1.2,V3.4, V20.4, LS2, LS4). Then, they say the headings (components) together as a whole class. In this way, the main components of the theme "classroom life and learning" are introduced to the students in English (LS5). At this stage, the meanings of the target words are not studied, but the categorisation of the basic components contributes to their recognition of the concept in general. The teacher could ask the students to decide which words in the introductory digital story they do not know and to note them while reading the text later in the reading session (D1.2, D1.6, D3.8, SELS1.1, V3.4). This could be evaluated as described in items (1), (2), (3), (6) (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. All this work helps them understand the main categories through classifications and also the inferences they make while listening to and watching the introductory digital story and/or examining the picture related to the content. In this way, they recognise and comprehend the main concept as a whole through categorisation, comparison, and inference (D3.6, D3.7, CS2.5, V3.3, LS2, LS4, LS7).

ENG7.2.L4.

REFLECTING ON THE LISTENING/WATCHING PROCESS: Students check the accuracy of their prior guesses, reflect on their ideas and feelings about the listening/watching session, and give feedback to each other. After the students listen (to)/watch the introductory digital story to find the main components of the theme, the teacher asks them whether their guesses they made during the "establishing links" session, looking at visuals session, and their first listening (to)/watching session have been correct (D3.8,V4.2, V4.3, LS2, LS4). As they have already seen a scene from a short film created about the concept of the current theme, during the "establishing links" session earlier, and looked at some supplementary visuals (pictures, the title of the theme) and also they saw the picture related to the introductory digital story they can easily answer what the current theme is about and that their guesses were correct (D3.4, V3.3, LS1, LS2, LS4, CS2.8). The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole listening (to)/watching process and students talk about them individually (SELS1.3) and share them with the whole class (D2.3, SELS.2.1, V4.2). After the reflection and feedback session, they talk again about the components of the theme, by correcting their mistakes or improving their ideas (SELS2.2, V4.2, V10.3).

ENG7.2.P1.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Students recognise the pronunciation and other phonological aspects of target utterances, including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme. The teacher asks the students to listen (to)/watch an extract from the introductory digital story as the main context for noticing the target phonological elements (LS1, LS2, LS4). She/He asks them to pay attention to the target pronunciation and/or other phonological aspects in the current content. The teacher asks them to notice how the target phonological aspects are used in context. Starting with the extract from the digital story, students go on with other contextual examples and activities to hear and understand the use of target elements in context (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4).

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET PRONUNCIATION (AND OTHER PHONOLOGICAL ASPECTS): Students select and use accurate, natural, and authentic target pronunciation and other phonological aspects of the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme "classroom life and learning". After recognition activities, students repeat the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme aloud a few times as a whole class with accurate and natural pronunciation and other phonological aspects after listening (to)/watching the recordings that the teacher has prepared beforehand using some Web 2.0 programmes or some other AI-based technologies (D3.2, V3.4, LS1, LS2). To help the students pronounce the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds accurately, the teacher could offer variations with some techniques such as showing the target utterance to the students and they say it or letting them listen to the recording, then turning off the recording randomly and students say the utterances they hear from the recording (D3.2, D3.7, D2.3). Several fun pronunciation games could be played, such as shadow reading, bingo, odd one out, pronunciation maze, minimal pairs, rhyming games, and several sound exercises by getting help from AI technologies (D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, V4.2, LS1, LS2, LS4). Along with the target utterances, the target sounds such as vowels, consonants, and diphthongs of the theme are also practised in the same ways. This is evaluated as described in items (1) and (2) as described in the section1.2.Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum (D3.2, D3.6, D3.7).

FURTHER PRACTICE OF THE TARGET PRONUNCIATION: Students practise pronunciation with further activities for practice, consolidation, feedback and reflection. The teacher could use tape recording and feedback techniques. Students read aloud and record a text with the target utterances including sentences, clauses, phrases, words, and sounds in the current theme provided by the teacher, at home (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS3.1, V4.1,V5.1, LS2, LS5). They bring their recording (s) to school. First, they listen to the correct pronunciation of the text,provided by the teacher, in class. Then they listen to the recordings of individual students. During or after listening to the texts recorded by the students at home, the students give self-feedback or peer feedback on the pronunciation of the words in the recordings (D2.4, D3.6, SELS1.3, SELS2.2, V4.1, V12.1, V14.1, LS1,LS5). If available, a different version of the recording technique could be applied in the class. The teacher asks the students to discuss, say/talk about something, which they already know, related to the theme. Groups take turns to talk and the rest of the class listens (D2.3, D2.4, SELS2.2). During this session, the teacher records their discussions. After each group's performance, the class listens to the recording for pronunciation and everyone gives feedback on it, including the individual students who have spoken during the discussion (D1.2, D1.6, D2.4, SELS2.2, V4.2, V5.1, V9.2, LS1). The teacher can get help from AI-based technologies for these activities if available. Students' performances are evaluated as explained in items (1) and (2) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole pronunciation process and students talk about them individually (SELS1.3) and share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS2.1, SELS2.2, V4.2, V5.1, V9.2, LS2,CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they talk again about the components of the theme, by correcting their mistakes or improving their ideas (SELS1.2, V3.3, V6.2,V10.3, LS1, LS2).

PREPARATION FOR THE WORK ON THE TARGET VOCABULARY: To scan for finding the main components of the theme"classroom life and learning", the teacher asks the students to listen to and watch the introductory digital story to remember the topic of content mentioned in the previous listening/watching sessions. The teacher also asks them to check their predictions made in the first listening/watching session at the beginning of the lessons on the current theme once more again (D3.8, D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS7). Then the teacher asks the students to read the relevant parts of the written version of the introductory digital story provided by the teacher by scanning (reading very quickly) to check the main components and categories with the help of visual elements such as pictures, symbols, drawings, illustrations with the headings that the teacher has previously written on the smart board/white board/blackboard in relation to the main components of the theme "classroom life and learning" (D3.7, D3.2, D3.6, V3.4, LS1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.8). Students read the written extract from the story very quickly to check the main components corresponding to the headings that the teacher has written on the board and then they tick/circle/underline them on the list (already provided by the teacher) at their seats (D3.2, D3.6, V3.4). The teacher could apply different versions of scanning activities such as finding important components, categories, and elements on a list and circle them, looking at a list and finding which elements do not take place in the story, etc. whenever she/he likes (LS1, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.8). In this way, they can understand the story in general better with the help of reading this time after the listening/watching sessions held earlier through the main elements and components by eliminating the irrelevant ones (D3.2,D3.6, D3.7, V3.4, LS1, LS2, CS2.16.1). Students share with the whole class the components they have found and ticked/circled/underlined on the list given by the teacher to them (D2.3, SELS2.1). Then they discuss the accuracy of the findings as a whole class (D2.4, D3.6, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, V16.3, LS1, CS2.8).

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY (AS CONTENT KNOWLEDGE): To read for the details for finding the new target vocabulary the teacher asks the students to read the written version of the introductory digital story (or another written text for working on the target vocabulary) in pairs in a jigsaw reading activity (D3.2, SELS2.2). One peer reads the first half of the story/text and the second peer reads the other half silently in a given time (V3.4, V4.1, V9.2, LS1, CS2.6). The teacher asks them to look out for new words whose meanings they do not know during this silent and detailed reading and asks them to look out for new (target) words they have previously noted during the listening/watching sessions (D1.2, D1.6, D3.6, D3.8, V3.3, V16.1, LS7). They are then asked to share these words with their peers without discussing their meanings in the text (D2.4, D3.2, SELS2.2, V4.2,V6.2). The teacher starts working on the new (target) words here. In this way, they have a detailed reading, understand the story better, and find the new (target) words that they do not know to work on.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To separate key (active) and non-key (passive) target vocabulary in context: To check whether the students know any of the target key vocabulary about the content, the teacher asks them to say the new words whose meaning they do not know and which they have noticed and noted during their silent jigsaw reading session and the students do that (D1.2, D1.6, D2.4, D3.2, D3.8, V3.3, V6.2, LS1, LS4). When they say the words, the teacher writes them on the smart board/blackboard/ whiteboard by putting them on two lists. She/He writes the key (active) target words on one list and the non-key (passive) target words on the other list (that she/he has already decided on earlier when planning the lesson). She/He quickly covers the non-key words with examples, pictures, question-answers, however, spends more time on the key target words as described below (D3.2, D3.6, V1.2, V3.4, LS2, LS4).

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To find "part/paragraph context clues" in the parts/paragraphs of the story (context): The teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story again, paying attention to which part of the story the unknown words that they do not know are in the utterances (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, V3.4, LS1, LS4). He wants to introduce the meanings of the target key (active) vocabulary related to the theme that the students do not know part by part. Then she/he asks them to read the first part/paragraph in the written version of the story (or similar text) where the unknown words (active key target vocabulary) appear (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, V3.3, LS5, LS7, CS2.8). Then she/he asks them whether they understand the meaning of the part/paragraph (D3.8, SELS3.1). She/He asks them to discuss the meaning of the part/paragraph in pairs in general without knowing the meaning of each new target word and asks what helps them understand the meaning of the part/paragraph (D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.1, LS1, LS7). Students discuss the meaning of the part/paragraph in pairs (D3.10, SELS2.2, V4.2, CS2.18)and report back to the class. The teacher takes notes on the board and writes what the part/paragraph is about in one word/clause/sentence in the story (V6.2, LS1, LS5, CS2.16.1). As each part/ paragraph covers a different but related piece of the whole topic, they realise that each part/paragraph contains new target words about a specific part of the whole theme. This helps them think about what each new target word in each part/paragraph could be about (D3.2, D3.6, SELS3.1, CS2.16.1). These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), and (8) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

RECOGNITION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To find "sentence clues"/"the indirect context clues" for the target key (active) words in the sentences in context: The teacher helps the students deal with each target key word by looking around these words in the sentences for collecting clues which can help them understand the meaning of these unknown target words. Starting from the first unknown target (key) word, students are asked to look at the words around the target (key) words (D3.2, D3.6, D3.8, D3.9, D3.10, SELS3.1, LS1, S2.1,CS2.16.3). These clues could be linking words, adjectives, adverbs, determiners, suffixes, prefixes, time expressions that can help them understand the meaning of the unknown target word (but they do not talk about the terminology and parts of speeches, instead they talk about the meanings and functions of these supportive surrounding words). The teacher asks students to work in pairs to go through and list the "indirect clues" for each word (D3.5,D3.7, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.2, CS2.7, CS2.17). When they finish working in pairs, the teacher goes through each word with the whole class and listens to what clues they have found to understand the meaning of the unknown target (key) word in the sentences (SELS3.1,V4.1, LS7). This is evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8), and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

RECOGNITION AND SELECTION OF TARGET VOCABULARY: To practise with the target words: To practise with the target vocabulary that the students work on through "sentence clues/indirect context clues", the teacher checks their understanding again by showing them some realia that she/he has already provided (D3.2, D3.6, V3.3, LS5,CS2.5). The teacher shows them to the students and asks them to think about what they are and share them with their peers and then they check the answers with the whole class (D2.3, D3.6, SELS2.1, V4.2, CS2.19). Then the teacher asks the students to watch the introductory digital story again and shows the corresponding pictures to the students when the corresponding vocabulary is mentioned in the story, without stopping the video while they are watching the story (LS2, LS4). When they have watched the whole story, the teacher shows the realia/visual elements, etc. about the content and asks in the form of two options, one of which is a word from the previous themes that they already know (D3.6, LS5, CS2.7, CS3.1). As they have studied the words through the "part/paragraph and sentences clues" in reading the text earlier, the students can choose the correct option when they hear the words for the related theme and they answer them after talking about them in pairs (D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.1, V6.2, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS3.1). In this way they can further practise the meaning of the target words. These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section1.2 Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: Further vocabulary practice through dialogical work: The teacher shows the story again, and from the beginning, whenever a target vocabulary item is mentioned in the story, the teacher stops the video and asks questions (or lets the students ask and answer each other). In this way, they are engaged in various dialogues and use the target words in these dialogues (D2.3, D3.8, SELS2.1,V4.1, V6.2, LS5, LS6, CS2.8). So, they revise and practise the meanings of the target (key) vocabulary of the theme "classroom life and learning". This kind of technique could be applied with different and enjoyable activities according to the preference of the teacher. These activities are conducted in the form of a dialogue where their learning can be checked as described in items (2) and (6) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. Further activities and games are played at this stage to reinforce the meaning of the target words by using several materials including AI-based and web 2.0 (D2.5, SELS2.1, V3.4, V4.2, V4.4). They can be done with real pictures on the white/blackboard if there is a problem with technology (LS4). These activities are evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET VOCABULARY: Consolidation of the target vocabulary: To further practise the target vocabulary, the teacher can prepare an activity with images/pictures of target vocabulary using the web 2.0 tools. She/He mixes these images/pictures for the target vocabulary items and puts them in a raffle programme by using a web 2.0 tools or a real box in the classroom. She/He asks the students to take turns to go to the white/black board and to draw a picture related to the target components of the current theme (D2.3, SELS1.2). Then students say several things about the items in the picture (D1.5, D2.3, V3.4, LS1, LS5, LS6, CS2.20). The teacher asks the students in their seats to take notes while the student at the white/black board talks about the picture she/he has drawn and to give feedback by raising yes/no cards, or correcting if there are mistakes, etc., and also repeat the sentences after him/her (D3.9, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.4, CS3.3). When the student at the white/black board finishes, the teacher asks her/him to put the picture under the right category that she/he has previously placed on the white/black board earlier. In this way, images/pictures that are relevant to the concepts of the target theme will be revised and consolidated once again through categorisation (D3.6, D3.7, CS2.5). The teacher asks the students to write a definition or an example sentence in their personal dictionaries and then asks them to exchange their dictionaries with their peers and check each other's spelling and definitions (D1.2, D1.6, D3.1, SELS2.2, V3.4, V6.2, CS2.20). Students' learning can be checked and evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (6), (7), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum. When the vocabulary session is over, the teacher asks the students to reflect on their ideas, thoughts, and feelings about the process. Students reflect on their experiences individually and share them with their classmates and the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.1, SELS1.3, SELS2.1, SELS2.2, CS2.15). They also give feedback to each other (D2.1, D2.4, V6.1, V9.2, V10.3).

ENG7.2.G1

RECOGNITION OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS (AS CONTENT KNOWLEDGE): Consciousness raising-discovery for the use of target language structures in inductive learning process: The teacher writes some sentences on the smart board/blackboard/whiteboard and asks them to read the sentences. Then she/he asks them to watch the introductory digital story again to draw their attention to the use of target grammatical structures of the theme "classroom life and learning" (D3.2, LS7). The introductory digital story is replayed so that the students can notice the use of language with the target grammar structures (LS2). While watching the introductory digital story, the teacher stops at the scenes where the language with the target grammatical structures is used. When the students finish watching the introductory digital story again, the teacher asks the students to read and examine the example sentences carefully (D3.2, D3.6, LS7, CS2.2, CS2.6, CS3.2). Then she/he asks the students to work in pairs and find similar sentences with the target grammar structure (s) in the theme to those written by her/him on the smart board/blackboard/whiteboard (SELS2.2, V 3 .4, CS2.7). The students look at the written version of the story and find similar sentences to those given by the teacher as examples (D3.2, D3.6, CS2.4, CS2.7). The teacher then asks the students to discuss and list the common features in these sentences and what kind of things are used repeatedly and why they think they are used in that way (D3.1, D3.6, D3.10, SELS3.1, V3.3, V4.2, CS2.4, CS3.3). Students examine the teacher's example sentences, find the similar sentences in the written version of the story and discuss them by making a list of similarities and repeated commonalities (D3.6, SELS3.2, V3.3, V3.4, V4.2, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.7). The teacher asks the pairs to say what they have found (D2.3, CS2.10). As the pairs say what they have found, the teacher writes them on the board and gives the class time to look at them and think about them (D3.6, D3.10, SELS2.2, V3.3, CS2.10, CS2.16.1, CS3.3). Then the teacher hands out a piece of paper and asks the students to make a rule about what they have noticed regarding the target structures. Students create a rule about the use of target grammatical structures of the theme by working in pairs and they read it to the class and give each other feedback on the rules (D3.1, SELS2.2, SELS3.3, V3.3, LS1, CS2.9, CS2.16.1). The teacher shows a sentence that explains the rule correctly and asks the students to check if their rules are correct or the teacher gives a table in which the rule for the language with the target grammatical structure is incomplete. She/He asks the students to complete it by working in pairs (D3.1, SELS2.2, V4.2). Then they check the rule as the whole class and reflect on their experiences on how and how much they have learnt (D2.4, SELS1.1, SELS1.3, V6.1, V10.3, LS1, CS2.15). This process is applied again for the other target grammatical structures in the theme if there are any. These activities are evaluated as described in items (5), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

SELECTION AND USE OF TARGET GRAMMATICAL ITEMS IN CONTEXT: Students practise the use of the language including the target grammatical structures: The teacher asks the students to work on grammar tasks she/he assigns (D2.2, D2.3, V3.3, V3.4, CS2.13). These tasks could be the ones that the teacher provides. The teacher shows some other contents in the form of a dialogue, a short paragraph, a short story, etc. with sentences including the target grammar structures and asks the students to find the sentences with the target grammatical structures in them and asks if they understand them easily (D3.2, D3.7, D3.10, CS2.13, CS2.20, CS3.3). She/He facilitates some oral or written activities and exercises for the students to further practise the target grammatical structures in context in pairs or groups (SELS2.2). She/He also facilitates more fun activities and games in which students talk, act out, mime, write, etc. with pen and paper, digital, AI-based, etc. materials and contexts so that they can practise and consolidate the target grammatical structures by selecting and using them accurately, efficiently, and naturally in context (D2.5, D3.2, D3.3, SELS2.1, V4.2, V4.4, LS2, CS2.13). They engage in several dialogic activities in which they share information, ideas and thoughts for communicating with their classmates. They exchange information and ideas to others by using target grammatical content (D3.5, SELS2.2, V3.4). When the session is over, the teacher asks the students to reflect on their ideas, thoughts, and feelings about the grammar discovery and use process. Students reflect on their experiences individually and share them with their classmates and the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS1.3, V6.1, LS6,CS2.15). They also give feedback to each other (D2.1, D2.4, V4.2, V10.3, SELS2.2). This is evaluated as described in items (5), (8) and (9) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.2.R1

PREPARING FOR READING: The teacher facilitates reading activities throughout the theme "classroom life and learning" from the first lesson to the end, when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount. Reading starts from earlier stages and continues throughout the theme in various forms and amounts as it is explained above (in the vocabulary section) in terms of how it is taught and when it needs to be clarified. Various reading styles such as silent reading, jigsaw reading and speed reading are used during the pre-reading, while-reading and post-reading phases. The ultimate aim of reading practice is to enhance comprehension, improve fluency, develop critical thinking skills and the ability to comprehend and talk about the current content and related issues in a meaningful way (V3.2, LS1, CS3.3). Students are provided a new text(s) to practise their reading skills through the current theme. They look at the surrounding visual materials, the title of the text and other supportive elements to guess the topic of the new reading content and they make predictions to be checked after reading the text (D1.1, SELS3.1,V3.3, LS4, CS2.2, CS2.11, CS2.16.2).

ENG7.2.R2

BRINGING INFORMATION TOGETHER THROUGH READING: Students read the new reading text carefully to check their predictions made in the preparation session at the beginning of the lesson (SELS1.2, V3.4, LS1, CS2.8). Then they read the text very quickly (scanning) to check the main components and categories with the help of visual elements such as pictures, symbols, drawings, illustrations that are provided by the teacher (V3.3,LS4, LS7, CS2.4, CS2.6). They compare the components they have found in the text with those written by the teacher on the smart board/whiteboard related to the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" (D3.6, V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS2, LS5, CS2.7). Students read the text very quickly to check that the main components correspond to the headings written by the teacher on the board and then they tick/circle/underline them on the list (already provided by the teacher) at their desks (V3.4, LS7, CS2.8). The teacher could use different versions of the scanning activities as described in the "listening/watching- comprehension" section above. In this way, they can understand the text in general better with the help of scanning (CS2.16.1). They share the components with the whole class (SELS2.1) and then they discuss the accuracy of the results as a whole class (D2.3, D3.6, SELS2.2, V4.2, LS1, CS2.8).

ENG7.2.R3.

MAKING MEANING THROUGH READING: Students read the new text silently in pairs in a jigsaw reading activity as they have done in the vocabulary session earlier (D3.2, SELS2.2,V4.1). During the reading session, they look out for new words whose meanings they do not know (if there are any, other than the target words previously covered in the listening/watching-comprehension and vocabulary recognition sessions) (CS2.6). They work on the new words in the same way as in the vocabulary sessions. Then they deal with the semantic meaning conveyed in the text through display questions, then semi-closed activities and then open-ended activities (V3.3, V6.2, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.6). They deal with the meaning by using strategies from the closed to the open-ended range to understand the theme "classroom life and learning" in terms of the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)"mean from different perspectives to build their own understandings (D3.6, D3.8, SELS3.1, CS2.13). The teacher facilitates a number of activities to help the students improve their comprehension, synthesis and evaluation skills after applying the knowledge they have gained from the reading process (SELS3.2, SELS3.3, CS2.3, CS2.17, CS2.20). After this stage, they work on activities to connect their knowledge and skills they have acquired about the current content with CLIL (history, maths, science, etc.) and cultural issues to be able to enrich their perspectives on the current theme (D3.5, SELS3.2, V3.2, V3.4, V11.1, V16.1, LS1, LS5, LS6, CS2.13, CS2.14). In this way, they will have the opportunity to develop their knowledge and language competence through reading. They can have the opportunity to develop their cognitive, emotional, cultural, social, and creative skills through the process of reading (SELS3.3, V7.2, CS2.20).

ENG7.2.R4.

REFLECTING ON THE READING PROCESS: Students reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole reading-comprehension process (SELS1.3). They talk about them individually and then share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3, SELS2.1,V4.2, CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they revise their work by correcting their mistakes and improving their ideas (SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.3, V12.1, LS1).

ENG7.2.W1.

PREPARATION FOR WRITING-EXPRESSION: Students are facilitated throughout the theme with writing activities, from the first lesson to the last when and where necessary with precise techniques and the necessary amount of writing. At the beginning of the writing process, students recall their pre-existing knowledge about the current content to make a link between what they know and what they are going to write about (D3.2, SELS1.1, CS2.12). This includes examining all the audio/visual sources and elements provided for understanding the writing task (V3.2,LS1, CS2.2).

ENG7.2.W2.

ANALYSING AND UNDERSTANDING THE MODEL: Students listen (to)/watch and/or read some models of the writing task they have been given (CS2.2). These are limited and short pieces of writing to see how the language, including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, is used in the written language, after hearing and seeing them through listening and reading activities in the theme "classroom life and learning". Initially, they practise the language in a more controlled way, writing to repeat or simply explain what they have heard and seen and/ or what they are asked to do about the target theme in context. At this stage, they try to understand how the language is used in the target content by examining the model/example writing carefully (V3.4, LS2, LS5, CS2.4, CS2.19, CS3.2). They try to understand and plan how they can convey the knowledge they have gained throughout the theme, the thoughts, ideas, and feelings they have developed in relation to current content in their later free writing tasks (D3.6, SELS1.2, V3.2, LS1).

ENG7.2.W3.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WRITTEN CONTENT: After working on a sample/model writing task, students begin to produce/construct similar tasks of their own (V16.1). They participate in several writing activities individually, in pairs, in groups and as a whole class (D2.3, SELS2.2,V4.1). Their products could range from writing a word to a phrase, a clause to a full sentence, a group of sentences to a short paragraph, an essay to a short story. These writing activities will help students to produce and display meaningful written language for personal expression by selecting and using target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions in this theme as in others (SELS2.1, LS1, CS2.13).

ENG7.2.W4.

PRACTISING BY PRODUCING WRITTEN CONTENT: Students are encouraged to produce a variety of written products such as sentences, acronyms, paragraphs, messages, posters, e-mails, quotes, poems, songs, essays, diaries/journals, blogs, scripts for plays, documentaries, films, etc. to express their ideas, thoughts, and feelings in relation to the current topic (D1.5, SELS3.2, V3.4, V7.2, V7.3, LS9, CS2.20). They take part in individual or collaborative projects to improve their writing skills together with social, cultural, cognitive, and affective aspects (D1.4, SELS2.2, V3.4, V4.1, V4.2). Within this variety, they can find the opportunities to show how they can use the language that they have learnt to describe and comment on the current content for developing new ideas about them in different genres of writing, according to their potential needs for expressing themselves and communication with others (SELS3.2, SELS3.3, V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, LS5, CS2.14, CS3.3). Storification and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further writing practice (D2.5,LS9).

ENG7.2.W5.

PROCESS WRITING: Controlled writing of words, sentences and paragraphs turns to process writing with the support of the teacher's and also peers' feedback in the theme. This process is expanded and supported with additional activities. New contexts in the form of written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. for students to write responses, lines, parts, answers, scripts, etc. to practise further by writing with the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS2.2, SELS3.2, V3.4, V7.2, V7.3, LS9, CS2.13, CS2.14). A. All the content is formed as contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' interests, and language level. Students improve their writing after reviewing the feedback they receive and this spiral, cyclical, and ongoing work becomes a progressive path for students (D3.1, SELS1.2, V12.3, LS1, CS3.1).

ENG7.2.W6.

RECONSTRUCTING/COMMUNICATING THROUGH WRITING: Students communicate their ideas, thoughts and feelings about the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)"through their writing tasks (V3.2, V11.1, V16.1, CS3.3). They can use AI-based technologies for various activities, by having access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital written materials and projects at school and at home in a variety of ways to interact and communicate with peers and/or other people inside and outside school by using the language including target words, language chunks, and the social language expressions for the relevant theme in their writing (D3.3, SELS2.3, V3.4, V4.2, V11.1, LS2, LS4, LS5, CS2.20). All writing activities can be evaluated as described in items (3), (4), (5), (9), (10), (11) and (12) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.2.W7.

REFLECTING THROUGH WRITING: The teacher asks the students to reflect on their thoughts, ideas and feelings in relation to the whole writing-expression process (SELS1.3) and students talk about them individually and share them with the whole class (D1.2, D1.6, D2.3,SELS2.1, V4.2, CS2.15). After the reflection and feedback session, they revise their work by correcting their mistakes and improving their ideas (SELS1.2, SELS2.2, V4.3, V12.1,LS1).

SPEAKING-EXPRESSION

Practising through speaking from controlled to communicative stages: The teacher facilitates speaking activities throughout the theme from the first lesson to the last. Speaking activities support students' learning and help them to produce meaningful language for personal expression and communication with others, by using the language including the target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions of the theme. (V3.4, V4.5, LS1, LS5).

ENG7.2.S1.

PREPARATION FOR SPEAKING: In the beginning, students recall their background knowledge about the theme through listening/watching and/or reading and then they talk about it (SELS1.1, CS2.12). Students practise the target language items in a controlled way, by saying, repeating, explaining what they hear and see in the context, for instance, in the introductory digital story and the listening and reading sections in different contexts (SELS3.2). Then they can expand their language use and practice in each section by increasing the amount of speaking they do (D1.3, V3.4, LS1, CS2.13).

ENG7.2.S2.

ANALYSING AND UNDERSTANDING THE MODEL: Students listen (to)/watch and/or read some models of the speaking task they have been given (CS2.2). These are limited and short pieces of speaking to see how the language, including the target vocabulary and grammatical structures, is used in the spoken language, after hearing them through listening activities in the theme. Initially, they practise the language in a more controlled way, repeating some utterances, simply explaining what they have heard and seen, and/or what they are asked to do about the target theme in context. At this stage, they try to understand how the language is used in the target content by examining the speaking model/example carefully (V3.2, V3.3, V11.1, V16.1, LS1, CS2.4, CS2.19, CS3.2). They try to understand and plan how they can convey the knowledge they have gained throughout the theme, the thoughts, ideas, and feelings they have developed in relation to the current theme in their later free speaking tasks (D3.6, SELS1.2, V3.2, V3.4, LS5).

ENG7.2.S3.

PRODUCTION OF MEANINGFUL AND ACCURATE CONTENT: In the later stages of the lessons, the teacher prepares new contexts for the students in the form of new written/photo-picture strip/pantomime/video stories, dialogues, etc. as new opportunities to practise further by seeing/hearing/reading the language including the target words and grammatical structures related to the theme "classroom life and learning" in fun, enjoyable, varied, and versatile activities (SELS3.2, V7.2, LS9). These newly created contents are contextual, practical, authentic, real, and appropriate to the students' age, interests, and language level. They participate in such speaking activities individually, in pairs, in groups and as a whole class (D3.2, SELS2.2, V4.2, CS2.20).

ENG7.2.S4.

CONSTRUCTING MEANINGFUL SPOKEN CONTENT: Students produce various spoken content and their products could range from producing a simple utterance including a word to a phrase, a clause to a full sentence, a group of sentences to a short speech, a dialogue to a spoken presentation (SELS3.3, V3.4, CS2.20). These speaking activities will help students to produce accurate and meaningful spoken language for personal expression by selecting and using target words, grammatical structures and social language expressions in this theme "classroom life and learning" as in others (D3.6, SELS2.1, CS2.13).

ENG7.2.S5.

RECONSTRUCTING/COMMUNICATING THROUGH SPEAKING: Collaborative and communicative activities are designed and used to revise and consolidate the whole theme "classroom life and learning" on the sub-themes of "technological tools for learning; learning activities in the classroom; cardinal numbers (500-1000); ordinal numbers (50-100)" (V4.5, LS5, CS2.13, CS2.14). Storification, drama, and gamification techniques are actively and extensively used for further speaking practice throughout the theme (SELS2.1, SELS2.2, V4.1, V4.2, LS4, LS9). Students are encouraged to produce several spoken products related to the extended contexts such as dialogues, speeches, short texts, presentations, etc. to interact and to communicate with peers and/or other people inside and/or outside the school by using the language including the target words, language chunks, and social language expressions for the current theme (SELS2.3, V3.4, V7.1, V7.2, LS1, CS2.20). AI-based technologies can be used for various activities, giving students access to authentic materials. They can also produce digital materials and projects for speaking at school and at home through recordings (D3.3, SELS3.1, SELS3.2, V7.3, V11.1, LS2). All these speaking activities can be evaluated as described in items (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (7), (8), (9), (10), and (11) in the section 1.2. Principles for the Implementation of the English Curriculum.

ENG7.2.S6.

REFLECTING THROUGH SPEAKING: Students are encouraged to reflect individually or collaboratively in groups on their own individual learning (SELS1.3) or on their collaborative learning in pairs, groups or as a whole class collaboratively (D2.3, SELS2.2, CS2.15). The activities will help and support students in these feedback and reflection sessions. Their feedback is shared with peers and the teacher and takes the form of interactive and ongoing feedback that can help their own improvement (SELS1.2, SELS2.1) and also they contribute to the improvement of their peers in their learning processes (V4.1, V4.3,V12.1, V12.3, LS1).

DIFFERENTIATION

Expansion

Objective: To offer help about technological tools in English and to improve writing and speaking skills by using the target vocabulary and the target grammatical structures (Will for help)

Activity 1: I am in trouble!

The teacher writes some scenarios about technological problems (e.g., 1-There is a virus on my computer., 2-The printer is not working., 3-I must connect to Wi-Fi.) on slips of paper. She/He divides the class into pairs and hands out the slips to the pairs. Then she/he asks the students to read the problems and offer help for those. When the students complete the task, they are ready to act it out. The pairs are invited to the board in turns and asked to be careful with body language and intonation while acting out. Each pair presents scenarios respectively. After the role-plays, each pair shares the most creative scenarios with the class. The teacher praises the students for their creativity, and presentation skills. Students reflect on their thoughts and feelings about the activity.

Activity: I am in trouble!

Instruction:

The teacher writes some scenarios about technological problems (e.g., 1-There is a virus on my computer., 2-The printer is not working., 3-I must connect to Wi-Fi.) and some phrases for offers (fix the virus problem, check the printer, ask for the password) on slips of paper. She/He divides the class into pairs and hands out the slips to the pairs. Then she/he asks the students to read the problems and offer help for those. When the students complete the task, they are ready to act it out. The pairs are invited to the board in turns and asked to be careful with body language and intonation while acting out. THEME 3: PERSONAL LIFE & WELL-BEING

Sub-themes: Body parts, illnesses, and keeping good health; the place of technology in people's lives

This theme is centred on the concept of "personal life and well-being" and covers the sub-themes of "body parts, illnesses, and keeping good health; the place of technology in people's lives". These components (sub-themes) are integrated into the learning process through the contextualised use of target vocabulary, grammatical structures, phonological features, and social language expressions. The learning and teaching activities are designed to be meaningful, collaborative, and communicative, and are tailored to align with the learners' developmental level, interests, needs, and preferences. The ultimate aim of this theme is to equip learners with the knowledge, skills, and experiences needed to effectively use English in their daily lives, both within and beyond the school environment.

LEARNING OUTCOMES and PROCESS COMPONENTS

ENG.7.3.L1. Students can prepare and get ready for listening (to)/watching about the current content on "personal life and well-being with body parts, illnesses, and keeping good health; the place of technology in people's lives".

a) Students activate their pre-existing knowledge and experience about the current theme and content to recall their background knowledge by investigating it carefully.

b) Students identify significant and necessary relationships and connections between their pre-existing knowledge, their past experience and the clues to the current content by responding to meaningful questions about it (without speaking Turkish or using a translation).

c) Students make detailed predictions about the current content by using their pre-existing knowledge and past experience of the content.

d) Students make rational predictions about the current content by looking at the supplementary visual elements provided.
